MRS. ROOSEVELT OPPOSES EQUAL RIGHTS PLANK

Letter Bombshell to Platform Group.

BY MARCIA WINN.

Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt yesterday entered, in absentia, one of the bitterest fights at the Democratic convention—that of equal rights for women.

Nan Honeyman.

Mrs. Roosevelt, in a statement read before the platform committee by Nan Wood Honeyman of Oregon in a tooth and nail battle over a proposal that the Democratic party favor an equal rights amendment to the United States constitution, said its approval "would be a grave mistake." Her words came as a bombshell just before the committee adjourned for lunch. The subject, one of many argued before the committee yesterday, did not come up again during the day. Whether the subject would come up again was not known.

Men Enter Struggle.

The equal rights struggle no longer is a purely feminine one. Men now have entered it. They are as violently partisan as the women who have been battling over it for days. Opponents of the amendment, which would give women equal legal rights with men, claim it would do away with protective legislation for women. Its proponents say equal rights are obligatory under a democracy.

The committee has been hearing violent arguments on the proposed amendment for three days. Yesterday's session was precipitate and unexpected. It came after Mrs. Thomas F. McAllister, head of the Democratic women's division, and Miss Josephine Roche, federal health and welfare coördinator, told the committee of the 14 points suggested for the platform by the women's advisory committee of 18. Its labor plank scotched equal rights.

Battle Demands Formal Plank.

At this point George Gordon Battle, a white haired lawyer from Asheville, N. C., and authority on constitutional law, rose to his feet.

"Gentlemen!" he roared. "I want to present a formal equal rights plank!"

With that he launched into a ten minute speech. The New Deal philosophy, he reminded the committee, is characterized by "truth and courage." Its element of purpose, he said, has won the confidence of the American people. "This," he added, "is why Roosevelt is being drafted for a third term."

"That also is why," he said, "the American people will applaud the forthrightness of the Democratic party if it submits to the people without equivocation the sound principles of equal rights for men and women for embodiment in constitutional form."

Three Opponents Quoted.

At this Mrs. Honeyman, former congresswoman now running for that office again, arose. She was pale with fury.

"Since Judge Battle has put it into controversy," she said, "I want to give another point of view."

With this she produced three letters opposing the amendment. One was from David Dubinsky, president of the International Ladies' Garment Workers union. One was from Rose Schneiderman, president of the Women's Trade Union league. The third was from Mrs. Roosevelt.

"I feel about the equal rights amendment just as I have always felt," Mrs. Roosevelt wrote. "Namely, that until women are unionized to a greater extent than they are at present, an equal rights amendment will work great hardship on the industrial group which is, after all, the largest group of wage-earning women.

Warns Against "Grave Mistake."

"Therefore, at the present time, for us, as a party interested in the well-being and protection of the workers, to put into our platform an equal rights amendment would be a grave mistake, and in this I think all the leaders of the workers would concur."

For a moment there was tense silence. Then, from the press table came the first audible comment. "Wow!" a man cried. "Mrs. Big!" and ran from the room. And the committee, too excited for further words, adjourned for lunch.

DESCENT OF THE PARASITE TROOPS

47 Are Killed in Mine Blast; 21 Crawl Out

Sonman, Pa., July 16, Tuesday (AP).—The bodies of all 47 victims had been removed early today from the depths of the Koppers coal mine whose walls were shattered by an explosion shortly before noon yesterday.

L. C. Campbell, assistant to the company's vice president, said a check established that 68 men were in the mine when gas exploded, shattering three sections about 12,000 feet from the entrance.

Following the blast 21 men scrambled to safety, most of them crawling on their hands and knees, leaving 47 others trapped. All of the trapped men were found dead and their bodies brought to the surface by rescue workers. The bodies were taken to fresly made tables in the Firemen's hall at nearby Portage.

Typical Mining Village.

Describing the tragedy, Stanley C. Yuwus, 23 years old, of Portage township, one of those who escaped, said: "It was more of a concussion than an explosion. A great ball of white fire swept down the tunnel. I was knocked down. With the others, I began scrambling on my hands and knees for the main dip of the slope."

Rescuers Progress Rapidly.

All except one man, Freeman George, escaped from right entry 18. He was the first of the dead to be identified. A dozen bodies were found in right entry 17. Bodies of most of the trapped miners were found in entry 16.

Campbell said there had been little actual destruction in the mine and that rescuers were making rapid progress restoring ventilation. Few of the bodies were crushed; altho most of them were burned.

GERMANS ADMIT ONLY A BIG BLOW CAN WHIP BRITISH

BERLIN, July 16, Tuesday (AP).—Informed quarters and the German press expressed resignation today to "the seemingly inevitable necessity" of smashing Britain with a mighty blow.

Noting the expressed English determination to resist to the bitter end, and especially Prime Minister Churchill's assertion that he would prefer to see London in ashes than accept anything less than British victory, many Germans were convinced that there must be a military decision.

The commentary, Dienst aus Deutschland, said German forces were ready for such a decision and that attack bases "from Norway to the Atlantic shores" already had been prepared quietly but "with German thoroness."

It said the German air force thus far had not made a large scale attack on England, the assaults to date having the object of tightening the German blockade and weakening British resistance by destroying docks, airports, and arms plants.

LINERS TO HAUL U. S. EMPLOYES FOR HALF FARE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 15.—The United States Maritime commission today approved a 50 per cent reduction in fares for government employés and members of their immediate families on the first sailings of the luxury liners Washington and Manhattan of the United States Lines in their new intercoastal service.

Up to June 30, 1939, the United States Lines had received an operating subsidy of $2,485,310 from the federal government.

The Washington sails from New York July 26 and on its return voyage from San Francisco on Aug. 13. The Manhattan sails from New York Aug. 9 and leaves San Francisco on the return voyage Aug. 27.

Give Up Rouge, Nazis Say, and Paris Girls Do

BY ALEX SMALL.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, July 11 [Delayed]—[By courier to Berlin].—Under the influence of Adolf Hitler's soldiers Parisian girls are staging a "return to nature."

They are foregoing painted fingernails and plucked eyebrows, rouge and powder because these attributes of modern womanhood are not popular with Germany's warriors.

Predict New Fashions.

It is a common occurrence on Paris café terraces today to see a German soldier drinking a glass of beer with a pretty girl, scrutinizing her hands disapprovingly and expostulating with her about her scarlet fingernails or even obligingly producing a pocketknife to scrape off the offending polish.

Paris newspapers predict that the German occupation of Paris will bring about a complete revolution in feminine fashions, transforming the artificial Parisiennes into creatures of no less fascinating simplicity and natural charm.

Women Won't Lose, Says One.

"Let us leave to the Hollywood stars the business of making up their faces and creating artificial loveliness," says the Paris Soir. "The times today are hard, and the French women will lose nothing by renouncing artifices which they naively imagined added to their beauty and elegance."

ZOO'S WHO'S WHO PLACES MEI-MEI AMONG LADIES

Mei-Mei is a lady. This was officially announced yesterday by Robert Bean, assistant director of the Brookfield zoo, who said examinations by several veterinarians and by Sam Parratt, the giant panda's keeper, had established this fact. There was some doubt as to Mei-Mei's sex after the death of Su-Lin and the revelation that she was a he. Bean said it had not been possible to learn for certain until Mei-Mei had grown more.

London to Use Thinner Car Tickets to Save on Paper

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, July 15.—The London transport board today announced that thinner tickets are to be used on buses, street cars, and coaches. It is estimated this scheme will save 450 to 480 tons of paper pulp yearly. The size of the tickets also is being reduced.

KEYNOTER HAILS NEW DEAL GAINS AND RAPS G. O. P.

Bankhead Compares Defense Measures.

The Democratic national convention last night heard its keynote address, a paen of praise for the party's "genius and leadership and courage," and a lashing attack upon the Republican party's platform, drafted last month at Philadelphia.

The keynoter, William B. Bankhead, speaker of the national house of representatives, began his summary of achievement by explaining away charges against the present administration. Blunders, he asserted, were inevitable in the face of conditions that presaged a national disaster.

Lists Bank Achievements First.

The national bank holiday and the subsequent reopening of such banks as were solvent headed the list of New Deal accomplishments, Bankhead asserted. The stock market was next to receive the attention of the Democrats who, thru the Securities and Exchange commission, have made the people safe from robbers, he said.

In the Civilian Conservation corps, the speaker saw a dual achievement: Relief for millions of the nation's youth and conservation of national resources.

Creation of jobs for 12 to 15 million employables who had had no opportunity to obtain work was credited to the New Deal, tho Bankhead did not mention by name the Works Projects administration or the Public Works administration. Every community in America, he declared, has benefited from the relief program.

TVA Called 'Monopoly Wedge.'

The Tennessee Valley authority, which put the government into competition with private industry, was extoled as the wedge which was driven into the private utility monopoly to restore to the people "their God given heritage."

The Home Owners' Loan corporation and the Federal Housing administration have saved or provided homes for thousands of Americans, the keynoter continued. Decent homes have been erected for the slum dwellers of the great cities, he asserted.

Without mentioning the National Labor Relations board, Bankhead stated the New Deal has given to labor the right to bargain for and to get good wages and fair working conditions. The wages and hours law was declared to be another boon to the working man and woman and a blow to the grasping employer.

Praises Reciprocal Trade.

The reciprocal trade treaties, launched by Secretary of State Cordell Hull, were credited with increasing the incomes and trade of manufacturers and farmers alike. Foreign trade has been stabilized and log rolling and lobbying have been divorced from tarif making, he went on.

Bankhead then began his attack on the Republican platform. The Glenn Frank committee and the G.O.P. platform committee, he said, were in labor a long time, only to bring forth a weasel. Despite criticism of New Deal legislation, the Republican platform did not demand repeal or abolition of any major New Deal law, he stated.

The speaker then recited benefits he said have come to the farmer thru the present administration. Rural electrification, the farm tenant program, and parity payments which he said have equalized farm incomes were mentioned.

Denies European Meddling.

The keynoter saved his major blasts for the end—a denial that the President has meddled in European affairs and an assertion that the New Deal has done more for world peace and national defense in 7½ years than the Republicans did in 12.

The New Deal, he said, has turned out 153 fighting ships, tripled the size of the standing army, launched a great air program, and acted to wipe out the fifth column. In contrast, he said, only 35 combatant ships were launched in the 12 preceding years of Republicanism and none at all during the last three years of the Hoover administration.

Millions of Republicans and independents, foes of the "forces of reaction," will be fighting with the Democrats in the coming campaign, Bankhead concluded.

Sessions Start Quietly, Then Put on Steam

BY WILLIAM FULTON.

The 28th Democratic national convention began to build up a head of steam at last night's session in the Chicago Stadium after an unenthusiastic opening yesterday noon.

A crowd of 17,000 staged a number of peppy demonstrations at the night gathering when the big oratorical guns of the convention began to unlimber. Few more than 4,000 spectators had turned out for the afternoon activities.

Enthusiasm Lacking in Afternoon.

At the afternoon session of the Democrats there was none of the tumult and spontaneous enthusiasm shown at the first session of the Republican convention at Philadelphia three weeks ago, altho the Democrats by tradition are supposed to put on a better show than the G. O. P.

But last night the enthusiasm began to build up with mounting crowds and increasing oratory. There were salvos of applause when the speaker called attention to the most recent pledges of the administration not to send American boys to die on European battlefields. There was derisive shouting when the speakers referred to the "Hoover days."

EVENING SESSION

In contrast to the poor gate at the afternoon session, galleries were pretty well filled as the time neared for the night's activities to begin. The organ and 40 piece band alternated playing tunes while the delegates milled about the aisles.

The band played "California, Here I Come" to a spattering of applause from the west coast delegation. Then a big cheer went up when the organ pealed out "Hail to the Orange" of the University of Illinois. "On Wisconsin" followed, and the Badger state delegates yelled their approval.

Fresh in Creamy White.

National Chairman James A. Farley had shed his blue doublebreasted suit of the afternoon and looked as fresh as a daisy in creamy white.

The chairman's assistants handed out the announcements of committee chairmen for the session. They included Fred H. Lancaster of Maine, credentials; France Paris of Oklahoma, rules and order of business,

Democrats and the Third Term

Forty-four years ago the Democratic party declared itself firmly against a third term for any President. Here is the plank:

"We declare it to be the unwritten law of this Republic, established by custom and usage of 100 years and sanctified by the examples of the greatest and wisest of those who founded and have maintained our government, that no man should be eligible for a third term of the presidential office."—From Democratic national platform adopted July 7, 1896.

COOL RESPONSE OF DELEGATES JOLTS LEADERS

Farley Wins Ovation at Convention.

Page 6—Text of National Chairman James A. Farley's address to the convention.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

Failure of President Roosevelt's third term candidacy to strike fire was the outstanding feature of the first two sessions of the Democratic national convention yesterday.

The apathy manifested by the delegates startled convention leaders and sent them into huddles in smoke filled hotel rooms discussing the possible significance of the phenomenon.

In the presence of half-filled galleries at the noon session Mayor Edward J. Kelly officially welcomed the delegates in a speech in which he deliberately attempted to incite a demonstration for the "drafting" of Mr. Roosevelt to run a third time. He tried twice to rouse the delegates from their apathy to the third term candidacy and then abandoned the effort.

Farley Wins Ovation.

At the night session, with the galleries crowded to overflowing, the convention went wild with enthusiasm for Postmaster General James A. Farley, who delivered his valedictory as Democratic national chairman and introduced the temporary chairman, William B. Bankhead of Alabama, speaker of the national house of representatives.

In Mr. Farley's speech there was only a passing mention of Mr. Roosevelt, to whom the postmaster general referred as "a great President." That evoked a wave of applause that paled into insignificance, however, compared with the joyous tumult into which the convention had dissolved in tribute to Mr. Farley.

The greatest storm of applause during the night session was accorded Mr. Farley's assertion that the Democratic administration has pledged itself not to send our boys to fight in Europe.

Keynote Is Orthodox.

Bankhead delivered an orthodox keynote speech, pointing with pride to the record of the Democrats and viewing with alarm the course pursued by the Republicans. He did not mention the President by name in his address.

Unless the Roosevelt leaders succeed in evoking a greater display of enthusiasm for the renomination of the President in subsequent sessions than materialized the first day he might decline to run, in the opinion of some leaders.

No less arresting than the apathy of the convention toward the third term was the news of a reinforcement of the anti-Roosevelt field of candidates.

Three Competitors Expected.

It became known that not only Mr. Farley and Vice President John N. Garner but also Senator Burton K. Wheeler of Montana will be presented to the convention for the presidential nomination in competition with Mr. Roosevelt.

Mr. Farley has declared himself from the first a sure fire starter in the race for the nomination who would stick to the end of the balloting. E. B. Germany, Garner manager, likewise has asserted that the name of the Vice President will be presented, whatever Mr. Roosevelt's intentions regarding a third term.

Senator Wheeler, on the other hand, while declaring against a third term for any President and doubting that Mr. Roosevelt will accept renomination, had said up to yesterday that he would be placed in nomination only in the event that Mr. Roosevelt's name should not have been presented by the time Montana is reached on the roll call.

Wheeler Revises Plans.

Now, Wheeler, it was learned last night, is going to have his name placed before the convention, without reference to Mr. Roosevelt. The speech proposing his nomination will be made by Senator D. Worth Clark of Idaho.

Vice President Garner will be

Mr. Farley will be nominated by Senator Carter Glass of Virginia. It had been believed yesterday afternoon that Senator Glass would be unable to attend the convention, in which event Mr. Farley was to have been nominated by Raymond Fisher, Democratic chairman of Rockland county, New York, the national chairman's native county. A dispatch later from Lynchburg, Va., however, said Senator and Mrs. Glass will arrive in Chicago tomorrow and quoted the senator as saying he would nominate Mr. Farley if the latter so desired.

McNutt Stand Described.

Former Gov. Paul V. McNutt of Indiana, now a federal security administrator, will go into the contest for first place on the ticket only in the event Mr. Roosevelt declines.

The interpretation of the convention's apathy toward the third term was diverse. The New Dealers pronounced it of no significance whatever, attributing the lack of enthusiasm for the President to the comparatively small attendance in the galleries at the morning session and to the feeling among the delegates that nomination demonstrations were premature.

Anti-New Dealers, on the other hand, saw in it the utmost significance of a state of mind among the delegates auguring ill for Democratic prospects if Mr. Roosevelt is the nominee.

Notwithstanding this display of apathy, the convention, in the opinion of most of the leaders, will go thru with the scheduled program to draft the President unless he should not allow his name to be voted upon. The suggestion was heard in numerous quarters, however, that it is just such evidence of lack of enthusiasm for his leadership that might cause Mr. Roosevelt to decline to run.

Mr. Roosevelt, it was learned, is yet to authorize any one to move his nomination in the convention. John E. Mack, one of the New York delegates at large, who is the President's political godfather and who placed him in nomination in 1932 and 1936, is on the scene ready to perform that function if Mr. Roosevelt should ask him to. But he said again last night that he hadn't heard from the President.

Hopkins Studies Plan for Coup.

It is possible, as pointed out in THE TRIBUNE yesterday, that there will be no nomination speech at all for Mr. Roosevelt; that his name will not be presented formally to the convention in any manner. At least, that is the procedure contemplated by Secretary of Commerce Harry Hopkins, the President's chief spokesman in Chicago.

If this program is adopted, the names of all the candidates for the nomination except that of Mr. Roosevelt will be presented as the roll of the states is called Thursday. At the conclusion of the nominating speeches the balloting will begin.

On that roll call the delegations committed to the President for a third term would start voting for him, under the Hopkins plan, despite the lack of formal presentation of his name to the convention.

Seek Appearance of Draft.

This scheme owes its inception to the desire of the Roosevelt strategists to take the curse off the violation of the antithird term tradition. By not being placed in nomination Mr. Roosevelt would not appear to be seeking a third term. By nominating him anyway, the convention would appear to be drafting the President against his wishes and with his party virtually unanimous in departing from the tradition limiting the presidential tenure to eight years.

Mr. Farley, who seemed to have been short circuited by Secretary Hopkins, the President's closest adviser, received a telephone call from Mr. Roosevelt during the day, the first since reaching Chicago. Hopkins, however, is the channel for the President's instructions, generally via a private wire to the White House.

At a press conference Mr. Farley said he knew nothing about the Hopkins project to get the President nominated without formal presentation of his name. He said he couldn't believe it is true.

Favors Orthodox Procedure.

He felt that the orthodox procedure of placing candidates in nomination should be adherred to. Under such procedure, Alabama at the start of the roll call might yield to New York to present the name of the President.

In this connection Farley was asked to comment on another reported activity of the strategy board —the putting of pressure on delegates pledged to other candidates to switch to Roosevelt.

"I think they ought to try to have complete freedom of thought so the delegates will be absolutely free to express their viewpoint," he said. "They should be as helpful as possible to make for success in November, and ought to think beyond this convention."

Farley made this statement without bitterness, but was apparently nursing a grievance against members of the strategy board for seeking to humiliate him. At one point he said he was trying to be consistent and thought he was the only one around the convention who was, but withdrew the remark almost as soon as it was made.

"We're All Friends," Says Farley.

"We shouldn't take matters too seriously," he laughed. "We're all friends."

Farley was asked what is to happen in the delegations of such states as Maine, which is pledged to him on the condition Roosevelt does not run.

"It's not up to me to decide," he replied. "If it were, I don't think my decision would have any bearing on what is to happen."

A reporter asked whether Farley would meet the Massachusetts delegation and lend an ear to a plea on the part of some of the delegates that he withdraw his name.

"My name is going before the convention," he answered. "Let me put it this way. The Massachusetts delegation is pledged for me and I hope they observe that pledge, but I am not going to ask them to vote for me.

He's Releasing No One.

"I don't intend to ask them to do what they won't do for me willingly, altho I do repeat they are pledged to me. I am not going to release anybody, but I am not going to ask them to do anything for me. I never did anything I didn't want to do in a convention.

"I don't want a single delegate to leave this convention feeling he had to vote for me. I want them absolutely free and unobligated as far as I am concerned. And that does not mean I am releasing a single delegate, wholly or conditionally."

Farley was told that Mr. Mack, who nominated President Roosevelt in 1932 and 1936, had arrived but did not know whether he was to submit the President's name a third time.

"Is that so?" Farley asked. "Apparently I'm not the only one around here who doesn't know anything."

At Breakfast

Also attending was Mrs. Louise Leonard Wright, chairman of league's committee on government and foreign policy.

The National League of Women Voters held its convention breakfast yesterday in the Stevens hotel, where 600 women heard talks on the two party system of government and the work of the league.

Mrs. LaRue Brown of Boston, president of the Massachusetts League of Women Voters, told those present that of all groups appearing before the platform committee the league was the only one concerned solely with the public or national welfare.

She said the league seeks to lift the patronage "albatross" from the backs of both parties and that it has fought for the merit system for years.

"Few honest public officials," she said, "however devout party members they may be, really look upon patronage as anything but a curse. There never are enough jobs to go around."

JOHN L. LEWIS TURNS HIS BACK ON CONVENTION

John L. Lewis, head of the Congress of Industrial Organizations, turned his back on the Democratic national convention yesterday and boarded the Capitol Limited for Washington. His sudden departure added strength to reports that all is not harmony among the C. I. O. leaders.

Lewis arrived in Chicago on Sunday only to hear his two principal leaders, Phillip Murray and Thomas Kennedy, declare themselves for Roosevelt and a third term in defiance of Lewis' announced opposition to the President.

"Have you broken with Murray and Kennedy over their support of Roosevelt," Lewis was asked.

"No comment," was his answer.

MOVE TO AVERT FLOOR FIGHT ON ANTI-WAR PLANK

Conscription Issue Due to Be Dropped.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

Indications that the resolutions committee is trying to avert controversy over the scope of a nonintervention plank were given last night in the appointment of a drafting subcommittee of 17, which will take up the job of writing the Democratic national platform for 1940.

A group of senators who had prepared a foreign relations plank declaring that America's armed forces should not be sent to fight wars in Europe or Asia was given what they regard as full representation on the drafting committee.

The plank, in the expressed opinion of its sponsors, goes farther than President Roosevelt's message to congres that American men will not be sent to take part in Europe's war. They hold that the navy and air force as well as the military is embraced in the phrase "armed forces."

The group had threatened to carry the fight to the floor of the convention if their ideas were not written into the final draft of the platform. Indications had been given during the day that the administration forces would seek to placate this group to avoid dissension.

Wheeler on Drafting Group.

Three strong anti-interventionists —Senators Burton K. Wheeler of Montana, Pat McCarran of Nevada, and David I. Walsh of Massachusetts —were placed on the subcommittee. Senator Claude Pepper of Florida, who had been strong in his criticism of the Wheeler peace plank, was left off the drafting subcommittee. Pepper is using the proxy of J. M. Coe, Florida member, on the full committee.

The controversial plank was written by Wheeler after conferences with McCarran, Senators Bennett Champ Clark of Missouri, D. Worth Clark of Idaho, Edwin C. Johnson of Colorado, and others.

On conscription the platform may be silent. Senator Wheeler late in the day indicated that he and Senator Clark of Missouri and others had decided not to fight in the committee for an anti-conscription plank. He expressed confidence that no affirmative declaration of compulsory military service would be adopted. Wheeler said he had been told the administration forces had intended to offer a conscription plank. Threats of a fight for an anti-conscript plank by Wheeler and Clark headed off the plank.

No Conscription Plank.

"There will be no conscription plank," said Wheeler. Neither will congress at this session pass any conscription law. They cannot get it thru congress because there is no need for it."

Senator Robert F. Wagner of New York is chairman of the drafting subcommittee, which will take up its work this morning at 10 o'clock. The members, in addition to Senators Wheeler, McCarran and Walsh, are Secretary of Agriculture Wallace of Iowa, Senator Pat Harrison of Mississippi, Calvin W. Rawlings of Utah, Senator Kenneth D. McKellar of Tennessee, Gov. Culbert L. Olson of California, Senator John H. Bankhead of Alabama, Cornelius C. Moore of Rhode Island, Senator M. M. Neely of West Virginia, Thomas Kennedy of Pennsylvania, Philip B. Perlman of Maryland, Senator Carl A. Hatch of New Mexico, Robert J. Bulkley of Ohio, and P. M. Brown of Michigan.

Chairman Wagner announced that the subcommittee would work as late as may be necessary tonight in order to complete the platform for the next meeting of the full committee, tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock. The platform will be submitted to the convention at the Stadium tomorrow night.

Pepper Assails Plank.

The executive session of the full committee last night was largely devoted to listening to the keynote speech of Senator Bankhead over the radio at the Blackstone hotel.

Whether there will be controversy in the full committee over the nonintervention plank is still conjectural, altho there is plainly an atmosphere of appeasement. Senator Pepper, outside the committee room, assailed the peace plank drafted by the Wheeler-Clark-McCarran group and said he would fight it.

"Their intentions are to so hamstring the President and the Democratic party that both will be unable to do anything to sustain the forces fighting the dictatorships that manace our country," Pepper said.

"None of these gentlemen has raised his voice in favor of anything the President has done to aid the allies: On the contrary they have been on the other side, warning, cautioning and trying to interfere with what's being done. If the Democratic party should go away from Chicago with a platform pussyfooting on Hitler and dictatorships it would not only have sold its soul, but would have weakened the hand of every democracy in the world."

Wants Peace Party Label.

Wheeler has declared that the Democratic party must designate itself a peace party. He has contended it must be committed to a program of "peace, prosperity, and preparedness." The Republican national platform, adopted at Philadelphia, defined the Republican party as the party that stands for "Americanism, preparedness, and peace."

Representative Martin L. Sweeney of Ohio, representing the National Committee to Keep America Out of Foreign Wars, urged adoption of a strong nonintervention plank. If the Democratic party becomes known as the party of intervention and war, he said, it will not have a chance in November.

Sweeney approved President Roosevelt's pledge in a message to congress last week that American man power will not be sent to take part in Europe's wars. But the Republicans, Sweeney declared, are not going to let the country forget that Woodrow Wilson was reëlected on the slogan, "He kept us out of war."

"They are going to psychologize the country with the cry of 'Remember Wilson'," Sweeney said.

Clash Over Aid to Britain.

A lively clash over the foreign policy plank developed during the testimony of Clark E. Eichelberger, director of the Committee to Defend America by Aiding the Allies. Eichelberger was making an appeal for all possible aid short of war to Britain when Wheeler interrupted him. The senator said the idea amounted to "sneaking up on the people" because it did not distinguish between the help proposed by private citizens and help sought from the government.

"Would Germany not interpret such aid as an act of war?" asked Wheeler.

The plank was the subject of a conference during the day between Chairman Wagner and Governor Lehman of New York. The governor told Wagner he was certain the majority of the New York delegation would favor the pledge of every possible aid short of war to the allies, and would oppose any plank against selective military service.

Public Hearing All Day.

The resolutions committee devoted yesterday to public hearings. The room at the Blackstone hotel in which it met was packed with groups seeking to speak on planks of various types. The committee passed up the opening session of the convention at the Stadium, and continued the public forum in the afternoon.

William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, was a chief speaker at the morning session. He presented the planks of the federation, twenty-seven in all. One plank on subversive activities says:

"Indisputable evidence has been brought to light, proving that activities subversive to the American form of government are carried on in the United States by organizations inspired, supported and financed by communist and fascist groups whose headquarters are located on foreign soil." The plank urged prosecution of organizations having such aims.

It urged deportation of aliens who advocate violent overthrow of our political and social order. It proposed a reëmployment finance program which would make possible federal aid to facilitate the flow of private investments without expenditure of public funds. As part of that it suggests the Reconstruction Finance corporation should "be empowered to insure long term loans made by private lending institutions for approved productive purposes."

Minton Asks a Question.

After Mr. Green had presented the views of his organization, Senator Sherman Minton of Indiana asked whether he thought the administration had done nothing to solve the unemployment problem. Last Friday Philip Murray, vice president of the C. I. O. told the committee "I don't know of a single step taken by the federal government to stop unemployment."

Green's reply to the question was: "No President had done more than President Roosevelt. I know nothing the President could do more than he has done. I am one who holds that the President, if permitted to handle the problem, will succeed in solving it."

Some observers interpreted this as an indorsement of a third term, and in the antechamber Mr. Green took occasion to deny that his remark had any third term significance. Mr. Murray, a delegate at large from Pennsylvania, announced Sunday he will cast his convention vote for President Roosevelt for a third term.

Six planks were submitted by Senator Robert R. Reynolds of North Carolina. One was the antiwar plank. Another asked that it be made unlawful "for the United States to buy gold from any nation which within 10 years had encouraged or promoted a change in the form of government of the United States.

"The purpose of this plank" said Senator Reynolds, is to prohibit the purchase and importation of Russian and German gold or gold from countries subject to a domination of either Russia or Germany. Any importation of gold from these countries gives those powers foreign exchange whereby they may purchase war materials for their attack on other nations including the opportunity to utilize such foreign exchange to promote revolutionary movements in our own country or in countries of the western hemisphere."

Lawrence W. Robert Jr., secretary of the Democratic national committee, urged a platform declaration against oppression of the foreign born population in combatting fifth column activities. He wanted the platform to express confidence in the patriotism and loyalty of America's foreign born population.

Buttons on Parade

Buttons of various Democratic candidates which are being distributed.

Everybody at the Democratic convention and in the hotel lobbies seemed yesterday to know the answer to the old question, "Button, button. Who's got the button?"

The answer was that everybody had the button. Buttons there were bearing a red rooster and the legend, "Just Roosevelt"—which seemed most common—buttons bearing the President's picture, and buttons inscribed for McNutt of Indiana, Wheeler of Montana, and Tydings of Maryland.

The Tydings buttons were the largest available—3½ inches across, with large ribbons attached. Maryland headquarters reported the supply exhausted, but managers couldn't say whether it was Mr. Tydings' popularity or the novelty of the platters.

PRESIDENT KEEPS IN WIRE CONTACT WITH CONVENTION

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 15.—Over a direct private White House to Chicago telephone hookup, President Roosevelt today made two personal calls—one to Chairman James A. Farley of the Democratic national committee at noon and one to Senator James F. Byrnes, of the third-term strategy group, late this afternoon.

In both cases, White House Secretary Stephen T. Early told reporters, the President inquired about developments at the convention. Farley's answer was given as a brief "Okay" while Senator Byrnes talked at length, Mr. Roosevelt doing the listening.

Lunches with Secretar, Hull.

The President, back from his weekend yachting cruise down the Potomac, listened over the radio to the short noon session of the convention. Then he lunched with Secretary of State Cordell Hull, with whom he discussed the inter-American conference opening next Saturday at Havana, Cuba.

Significance was attached to the fact that Judge Samuel Rosenman, close political confidant of Mr. Roosevelt for 12 years, remained at the White House as a guest after accompanying him on the Potomac cruise. Rosenman was close to Mr. Roosevelt during his four years as governor of New York and during the 1932 preconvention and presidential campaigns.

Woodrum a Surprise Caller.

Representative Clifton A. Woodrum [D., Va.] was a caller at the White House. Woodrum, a leader on the house appropriations committee who often has opposed the President's vast spending proposals, said Mr. Roosevelt expressed surprise that Woodrum was not in Chicago.

"I told him some one had to stay here during the recess to get his defense appropriation program into shape, and he agreed with me," said Woodrum.

Senator O'Mahoney Files Petition for Renomination

Cheyenne, Wyo., July 15 (AP).—Senator Joseph C. O'Mahoney [D., Wyo.] filed a petition for renomination today. O'Mahoney is completing his seventh year in the senate. First appointed to fill the unexpired term of the late Senator John B. Kendrick, he was elected for a six year term in 1934. Representative Frank O. Horton, Republican, who holds Wyoming's lone seat in the house of representatives, also filed today for renomination. The Wyoming primary is Aug. 20.

A 270 Pound St. Bernard Graces McNutt Quarters

One of the main attractions in the Paul V. McNutt Stevens hotel headquarters is a 270-pound St. Bernard dog presented by Lake county, Indiana, Democrats. The dog is 38 inches high and loves liver, attendants said. He eats about eight pounds a day.

IOWA DELEGATES DELAY CHOICE ON COMMITTEEMAN

The Iowa delegation kept half a dozen candidates for national committeeman in suspense yesterday by failing to elect a leader for the next four years. Committeeman Hubert Utterback of Des Moines is not running.

"We're in no hurry," said Delegate Earl Augustine of Oskaloosa. The delegation will hold another caucus today.

Frankly in the race are Frank Comfort of Des Moines, who is making a strong drive; Bert Jeck of Atlantic, T. E. Diamond of Sheldon, and J. P. Daughton of Grand River. But there are others under consideration, principally former Gov. Nelson G. Kraschel of Harlan.

BOXES BLOOM WITH ORCHIDS AT CONVENTION

Gleaming Pearls and Furs on Display.

Democratic women made a fine show as their convention opened yesterday. They didn't look as tho their husbands had been struggling for a living, for as many orchids nestled on fine furs as buntings dangle from the stadium rafters.

The simplest dress on an important person was that of Nellie Tayloe Ross, director of the mint. She sat inconspicuously with the Wyoming delegation, wearing a dark net dress and a wide hat with flowers nesting in its crown. No one, looking at her, would suspect she once had been governor of Wyoming and now has her name on the cornerstone of the buried gold at Fort Knox, Ky.

Farley Girls on Stage.

Up on the stage, peering thru smoked glasses, sat the two Farley daughters, Betty, 18, and Anne, 16, both in pale blue with purple orchids nestling on their shoulders. "Now," said Anne, "I know it pays to be the boss' daughter." Betty twirled a heart-shaped Roosevelt fan with the legend "Keep the people's heart in government."

Behind them sat Mrs. A. B. Chandler, wife of the Kentucky senator. She wore black, with a long necklace of jet. Nearby, also in black, a widow's veil drooping from the back of her hat, a cigaret in her mouth, sat Mrs. J. Hamilton Lewis. Every one arose at the morning session in memory of her husband, former senator from Illinois.

The faces of great importance [and the orchids] were at the opposite side of the stadium in the boxes. Mrs. Farley sat there large, blond and placid, a bit of white ruffle on her head. Two boxes away was Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, elegant in black chiffon, silver fox, and five strands of pearls.

"Darn good pearls, too," commented an observer.

Mrs. Jesse Jones, wife of the director of the Federal Loan agency, and Emil Schram, chairman of the Reconstruction Finance corporation, shared her box.

White and Purple Orchids.

Mrs. Paul V. McNutt, wife of the Federal Security administrator, a cluster of white orchids dripping from her silver fox, came in on the arm of her husband, with a merry, "Back to work again!" The four other women in her box, among them Mrs. Frank McHale, wife of the Indiana national committeeman, wore mammoth purple orchids.

Evie Robert, the beautiful blonde wife of Lawrence [Chip] Robert, secretary of the national committee, drew all eyes. She sat, a gold amazon, in a gold wool suit trimmed with mink, a gold link necklace around her throat. Beside her was Mrs. William Bankhead, wife of the convention keynoter, a white turban on her auburn hair, crystal beads at her throat, sables around her shoulders.

Mrs. Millard Tydings, wife of the Maryland senator, was another convention beauty. She wore pearls at her neck and ears, and a fox jacket. Her blonde curls were piled high in a burnished heap. She didn't wear a Tydings button, explaining, "Mine wasn't big enough. It's only as big as a dish pan, so I thought I'd be modest this evening."

Mrs. Welles Wears Pearls.

Mrs. Sumner Welles, aloof and somewhat austere, sat beside her, wearing a red and white hat and pearls. Mr. Welles, under secretary of state, tall and suave, sits with the Maryland delegation. To get to his seat he had to crawl inelegantly over Attorney Henrietta D. Stonestreet, an alternate from Baltimore who complained because wisps from her mass of yellow hair caught on passers by.

"You're a bad boy," she cried to one entangled man.

"But you're a sweetheart," he retorted.

Kindly old Mrs. William H. Good, known as the "Boss of Brooklyn," who is national committeewoman from New York, smiled contentedly from beneath a hat heaped with lilies of the valley. Nearby, Ely Culbertson, the bridge expert, wandered aimlessly around the delegation floor.

Mrs. Lehmann, wife of the New York governor, was there, her navy hat topped with a pink chiffon azelea. So was Mrs. R. L. Fite, 70 years old, of Tahlequah, Okla., a half-blooded Cherokee. So was a woman alternate from Wyoming, complete in fringed buckskin breeches and 15-gallon hat. Instead of a pistol, she flourished a candid camera. So was young Mrs. William Cudahy and Mrs. Willard Drown of Chicago, beside a suntanned young woman in a Lily Dache hat who withheld her name "for family reasons." Could she have been a Republican?

WHEELER SEEKS RENOMINATION IN MONTANA VOTING

Helena, Mont., July 15 (AP).—Senator Burton K. Wheeler's race for renomination and the return to the political arena of two former members of congress held major attention tonight—the eve of Montana's primary election.

Opposing Senator Wheeler, a possible Democratic presidential nominee, is Attorney General Harrison J. Freebourn. The attorney general faces a federal income tax evasion indictment and is awaiting a ruling on a demurrer he filed.

Defeated in the last general election, Jerry J. O'Connell seeks the Democratic nomination to return to congress from the first district. He has three opponents. Jeanette Rankin, first congresswoman, opposes Dr. Jacob Thorkelson, incumbent, and two other men for the Republican nomination in the first district.

KELLY GETS NASH JOB AS NATIONAL COMMITTEEMAN

Mayor Now Generalissimo of Party in State.

BY PARKE BROWN.

Mayor Edward J. Kelly of Chicago yesterday became the titular head of the Democratic organization in Illinois. It has long been recognized that he is the most powerful individual among his party forces, its actual head, but the state delegation to the Democratic national convention ended all debate on the subject by electing him national committeeman and then awarding him an additional honor by placing him on the convention committee on resolutions.

As the Illinois member of the national committee he succeeds P. A. Nash, who retired voluntarily in order to center his political activity on the chairmanship of the Cook county central committee to which he recently was reëlected. As county chairman it is believed Nash will follow Kelly's lead.

Nash Heads Delegates.

Nash was unanimously elected chairman of the Illinois convention delegates as the first business transacted by the group. During the proceedings he was lauded warmly for his long and successful leadership by several speakers. It was not until he asked to be relieved of his national committee duties and sponsored Kelly to succeed him that the mayor consented to become a candidate for the national committeeship.

The new state chairman, Arthur A. Sullivan, is considered a Kelly man. And the nominee for governor, Harry B. Hershey, is said to owe his selection more to Kelly than to any other leader.

In this way the Chicago mayor now assumes full command of the Illinois Democracy. The completeness of his control was demonstrated at the caucus that elevated him to the national committeeship. Threatened rebellion was stepped on forcibly.

Lieut. Gov. John Stelle, not nearly so belligerent as he appeared at a delegation dinner Sunday night, was swung almost all the way into line with the Kelly program. He joined the unanimous instruction that Illinois' 58 votes be cast for President Roosevelt on the first ballot. The only proposal to which he did not accede was for an instruction to vote for Senator Scott W. Lucas for Vice President. Stelle said he reserved the right to decide on this question when it comes up next Friday.

Ticket Row Main Discord.

In this reservation he was joined by James Hardie of Carlinville [21st district] and Edward E. Campbell of Granite City [22d]. This was the only bit of discord in the meeting except for a protest vote in connection with Kelly's election as national committeeman, a protest aroused by dissatisfaction over the distribution of convention tickets. Campbell also took part in this by nominating Harry L. Pate of Tuscola [19th] against Kelly.

The meeting was held in the cheerful surroundings of the Kelly-Nash convention headquarters, ordinarily the John J. Touhy ward headquarters, opposite the Stadium on Madison street. Mrs. Elizabeth A. Conkey was unanimously reëlected as national committeewoman and the organization slate of candidates for membership on convention committees was adopted unanimously.

M'NUTT SHIFTS AIM; TAKES BEAD ON NO. 2 OFFICE

The arduous buildup of former Gov. Paul V. McNutt for President was shifted to the second spot on the ticket yesterday when it was learned the Indiana delegation will plump solidly for Roosevelt on the first ballot.

Frank McHale, national committeeman and McNutt's manager, said the Hoosiers will go along for a third term even if other candidates deny Roosevelt nomination by acclamation. It was recalled that Indiana missed the Roosevelt brandwagon in 1932.

All was not quite harmony in the sumptuous McNutt quarters as word spread that United States Senator Frederick Van Nuys had refused to attend the convention. He was the first leading Democrat to denounce the statehouse machine's 2 per cent slush fund.

PARTY BIGWIGS AND LITTLEWIGS JAM PLATFORM

An assorted group of Democratic bigwigs and littlewigs occupied the comfortable chairs on the platform behind the speaker's stand last night. Sheriff Thomas J. O'Brien occupied a prominent chair and Adolph [half a congressman] Sabath occupied another.

Not far behind the sheriff sat Senator Key Pittman of Nevada, chairman of the senate foreign affairs committee. Harry Richman, the night club entertainer, who was present to sing "God Bless America" wore the only black dinner jacket on the platform.

Senator Harry F. Byrd of Virginia and Senator William H. King of Utah were others from Washington in and around the rostrum while Speaker Bankhead was delivering the keynote.

W-G-N PROVIDES 1ST ROW SEATS AT CONVENTION

Arranges to Cover Every Important Event.

BY LARRY WOLTERS.

Ringside seats at the Democratic national convention were provided for the nation's radio listeners yesterday by W-G-N and the Mutual Broadcasting system.

Fulton Lewis Jr.

From the opening gavel until the final adjournment W-G-N and Mutual are bringing listeners all the news, sidelights and color of the convention. All programs, sustaining and sponsored, have been made subject to cancelation for the duration of the convention, so that all events of importance may be carried.

W-G-N's management announced that it expected to repeat the record it set during the Republican convention when the station gave listeners by far the most complete coverage in Chicagoland. W-G-N carried more than 28 hours of the 33 hours and 52 minutes of Mutual's reports of the convention. Chicago's second station carried about 16 hours; a third station, 10½ hours.

See All the Action.

The W-G-N-Mutual convention staff, headed by Quin Ryan, occupies an air-conditioned booth to the right overlooking the speakers' platform. Ryan and Frank P. Schreiber, director of special features, and their assistants have a commanding view not only of the formal proceedings but of the informal exchanges between leaders of the party and visiting celebrities milling about behind the platform.

Fulton Lewis Jr., Washington representative of Mutual, circulates among the notables about the platform describing the colorful scene and bringing interviews thru a microphone strategically placed.

W-G-N-Mutual also are relying on Arthur Sears Henning, Arthur Evans, and Marcia Winn of the Chicago Tribune staff to help give the full story of the convention.

Parade of the Delegates.

After a broadcast of the opening session from noon to 1 p. m. yesterday W-G-N and Mutual aired a "Parade of the Delegates" from 5:45 to 6 p. m. Members of various state delegations were interviewed by Mr. Ryan in "man on the street" fashion. These "parades" to the microphone are planned as daily features at 5:45 p. m. during the convention.

W-G-N-Mutual will start their reports of convention activities today with a broadcast from 9:45 to 10:15 a. m. of the breakfast meeting of the Illinois Women's Democratic Clubs in the Stevens hotel.

W-G-N will be on the air again at noon when the convention is called to order for the first session of the day, and again at 9:15 p. m. for the second session.

DEMOCRATS DRAG BROMIDES OUT OF A POLITICAL PAST

Cliches Ancient When Bryan Was a Boy.

CLICHE: A trite phrase that has lost precise meaning thru reiteration; a hackneyed or stereotyped expression—Webster.*

Speakers at the opening session of the Democratic national convention yesterday upheld nobly the party's tradition of dragging out the nation's most ancient political clichés.

Many of the bromides that echoed thru the Stadium and rolled out on the airways were old when William Jennings Bryan was an Illinois farm boy.

What Delegates Sat Thru.

Radio listeners could tune them out. But the 3,000 delegates and alternates and thousands in the galleries sat thru hours of such as this:

"And what has this administration done for the underprivileged? It has kept the wolf from the door."

"Of our record we are justly proud, critics to the contrary notwithstanding."

"The despotic tyrannies of the old world shall gain no foothold here."

"Hearts Swell with Pride."

"His name is a household word. And how do we feel about him? Our hearts swell with pride."

"We fight for the fundamental political maxims of Thomas Jefferson."

"We shall carry on this fight by pledging allegiance to that cherished creed, the faith of our fathers."

"But how will our opponents fight? They will indulge in a barrage of recrimination and personal innuendo."

"This innuendo will be based upon distortion of facts."

But not important facts, it was explained. Just—

WOMAN REFUSES OFFER TO SECOND OLSON IN SPEECH

One Democratic women who believes, she says, that "there should be a woman to uplift every man in politics," yesterday refused what most women would regard as an honor.

She is Mrs. Thomas E. Workman, beautiful young delegate from California, who was asked by the California delegation to second the nomination of California's Gov. Culbert L. Olson for vice president. Mrs. Workman refused, altho, she said, "I really elected Mr. Olson" [as co-chairman of the Olson-for-governor committee].

She said she refused because "of the inefficient way he has run relief in California." "For two years," she said, "I have begged him to clean up the relief situation. He has made 1,000 promises, but he hasn't done it. Now they need me."

Mrs. Workman is a member of the Democratic women's advisory platform committee of 18. She is the only member of the California delegation, she said, who is not an office-holder.

BANKHEAD CITES ACHIEVEMENT AS PARTY KEYNOTE

Pleads for Unity of American People.

Following is the text of the keynote address by William B. Bankhead, speaker of the house of representatives and temporary chairman of the Democratic national convention, in Chicago Stadium last night:

"I am very deeply grateful for the honor and privilege of being named as temporary chairman of this convention. It is a great personal gratification to be introduced by the man who has been of such inestimable value and service to the Democratic party for two terms as our national chairman and who likewise has served with great success, ability and distinction as postmaster general of the United States—your friend and mine, the Hon. James A. Farley.

"It is a heartening and inspiring spectacle to look out upon this vast assemblage of the representatives of the Democratic party of our nation, as well as the thousands of loyal guests who will be so deeply interested in our actions and deliberations. We are justified in our loyalty and devotion to a great political party, which, over a period of years almost as great as the life of our republic itself, in victory or defeat, in power or removed from power, has, during all the decades of its existence, proclaimed its allegiance to that fundamental political maxim announced by Thomas Jefferson, equal rights to all and special privileges to none.

Fight for Human Rights.

"That means, in essence, that our party in the ancient days as well as on this night, believes in and fights for the basic and irreducible human rights of the average American citizen. We are here assembled to pledge renewed allegiance to that cherished creed, and to send forth to the people the assurance that if continued in power we shall not depart from the faith of our fathers.

"Under our system of party government, it is just and equitable for the electorate to judge, and to reward or punish a national party, not upon the basis of its platform promises, but strictly upon the record of its performance and accomplishments as an instrumentality of public service. It is my purpose to make that principle the straight-edge and yardstick of this address.

PLEADS FOR UNITY

"In a great political campaign such as that which will be waged between now and November, there will be a temptation upon the part of some political leaders and politicians in both parties to indulge in a barrage of criminations and personal innuendo.

"There will be the charge of omission and commission; distortions of the facts of minor and secondary incidents. It is my earnest hope that members in my own party at least will not resort to that method of political campaign.

"If we do not gravely misapprehend the present temper and disposition of the American people, they are now in no mood to be moved or influenced by petty and vindictive exaggerations of issues or events that are of no vital concern to the safety and security of the United States of America as possibly the last surviving outpost of democracy upon the face of the earth.

Wants Issues Fairly Presented.

"The minds of the American people are now so deeply engrossed in matters of grave and profound concern with reference to the preservation of our established order of life and institutions, that they will have no tolerance for the superficial banalities of politics. An election must be held, but aside from some legitimate banter and the discussions of records of the two parties and of their candidates, the major objective of both parties must be unity and solidarity of purpose in preserving inviolate the structure of our government and the perpetual freedom of its people.

"We all recognize that ours is a government by political parties and that, as instrumentalities of government, they are entitled to the largest possible measure of freedom in carrying legitimately disputed issues to the people. But such issues should be fairly presented. They should be clothed in the garments of truth and tolerance and reason. Neither our party nor the opposition can, in terrible times like these, profit by a departure from this principle.

ADMINISTRATION RECORD

"The Democratic party has now been in absolute control of the government for seven and one-half years. In order to get back to the postulate of party responsibility to the people and in order that the people might have a fair basis of appraisal as to whether or not we have done, on the whole, a good or an evil job under that responsibility, it is just and even necessary to look back to the conditions which prevailed in our social and economic status when, under the overwhelming mandate of the American people, a Democratic administration took over the government on March 4, 1933.

"I think it is proper that it be said, in all candor, that none of us who have had part in formulating and administering the policies that have been enacted into law under this administration can justly claim that no mistakes have been made. Temporary errors in policy and in the administration of policies were inevitable in undertaking to cure and correct a situation that had attained the phase of national disaster and social and economic chaos. It is too much to hope that there will ever be infallibility in the arena of political action and the American people fully understand the fairness and justice of that statement.

"No other administration in peace times since the establishment of the republic had ever confronted such a desperate situation as that which we inherited on March 4, 1933, nor one which called for the instant exercise of greater genius of leadership and courage. It was without precedence in its forebodings of disaster to our democratic institutions. The American people have not forgotten that period of total collapse and desperation in all branches of human endeavor.

Tells of "Heroic Remedy."

"A decent respect for your indulgence will not permit me to attempt a detailed synopsis of the outstanding legislation that the Democratic party has enacted into law to meet the staggering social and economic conditions which we had inherited. The people themselves are now familiar with the operations and purposes of that program.

"The first heroic remedy adopted was to declare a national bank holiday which involved the temporary closing of our national and state banks which, until more adequate security for them could be obtained, was a most effective remedy against the total collapse of the entire banking system of our people, altho unfortunately, many thousands of them had already closed their doors, bringing heartbreak and immeasurable distress to millions of the American people.

STEPS FOR BANK AID

"Steps were then taken to provide for the reopening of the yet solvent banking institutions and many hundreds of them and their depositors were saved. This administration enacted what, in my opinion, will forever be regarded as one of the major outstanding legislative achievements in our history and that is the passage of the law guaranteeing the absolute safety of deposits up to $5,000 in all national banks and state banks which were affiliated with the federal system. And, now, instead of the American people having constant and daily apprehension as to the safety of their savings and deposits, they can always be assured that if any of such banks, either thru bad business management or corruption, closes its doors, that every single dime of their money will be paid to them across the teller's cage within 48 hours.

Cites Securities Control.

"Recognizing the terrible truth that millions of our people had been robbed and defrauded out of their investments by an unbridled and unregulated system of corporate manipulation which permitted crooked promoters, stock jobbers and holding company tycoons, we passed the Securities and Exchange Commission act under the operation of which these robbers of the peoples' investments are now checked, restrained and regulated. We broke up for all time the ruthless and unconscionable holding companies allowed to flourish in all their ugly and wanton plundering of decent citizens under former Republican administrations. I wonder if any of you people in this section of the country recall the collapse of the Insull utility empire, and the devastation it brought to thousands of your hopes and homes?

"We provided for the organization and operation of the Civilian Conservation corps, one of the most popular and successful instruments of government ever devised. It has acted not only as a medium of relief for the destitute families of millions of American youth, but at the same time has been of inestimable value in conserving the natural resources of the country and of giving to these young men a fine system of moral and physical discipline which they would not otherwise ever have achieved.

Unemployment Relief Efforts.

"When this administration took over the reins of power, there were from 12 to 15 million men and women of employable age without any opportunity whatsoever to secure jobs that would enable them to support themselves and their hungry and naked families. It would have been a heartless and cruel omission of duty to have been indifferent to their necessities. It would have shown a wanton and reckless indifference to the fundamental duties of a great democracy had we not taken adequate steps to feed and clothe and shelter these men, women and children who, without their fault, had been made the victims of the national catastrophe.

POINTS TO IMPROVEMENTS

"The Democratic administration met that duty without fear and without wavering and, in addition thereto, contributed immeasurably to the permanent wealth of the nation and the permanent improvements and benefits that have resulted from its operation. Every single community in America has been prospered and benefited by this program and the expenditure of the federal funds required to effectuate it. These are not fugitive and evanescent benefits, but are tangible and enduring for future generations who will praise our foresight in establishing them.

Aid for Unfortunates.

"This administration conceived and set up for all time a humane and necessary program for the softening of the hardships of the aged and infirm of the rigors of illness and the despair of unemployment and for the support of widows and dependent children and the blind.

"We established, financed and set up on a firm and enduring foundation the great Tennessee Valley authority which, for all time, will furnish a great vehicle for the development and conservation of the commerce and resources of that great geographical area which it serves which will be a potential factor in flood control and navigation and which offers now ready assistance in our preparedness program for the manufacture of many of the essential ingredients of national defense.

"As a yardstick for the control of excessive power and light rates, it has been largely instrumental in forcing the reduction of charges to consumers in the United States of $500,000,000. We have taken the position that the waters in our rivers are the God-given heritage of the people and that private utility companies have no vested right to have a monopoly on their exploitation.

Home Owners' Loans.

"We established and made actively effective through the Home Owners' Loan corporation, the possibility of saving hundreds of thousands of our most deserving citizens from the agony and ignominy of being evicted from their rooftrees and firesides. We have constructed innumerable slum clearance projects, especially in the great cities, to provide decent homesteads for the poor and underprivileged, white and colored alike, and thru the Federal Housing administration, have afforded credit and facilities to hundreds of thousands of our citizens to finance and build their own homes.

CLAIMS LABOR GAINS

"We have guaranteed for the first time in our history by law the basic principle of giving to labor in this country the right to organize and bargain with employers for the betterment of their wages and working conditions and through the Wage and Hour law, have assured to every man and woman who toils in the industries of the country, a decent wage scale and fair hours of labor, and I predict here and now that the great masses of labor in this country organized and unorganized, will, when they go to the polls next November, not forget that the Democratic party has been its friend and not its oppressor.

Praises Trade Treaties.

"Instead of being content with an effort to enlarge and stabilize our foreign trade through the provisions of log-rolling and privilege, favored tariff laws, we embarked upon a program infinitely more fair and effective in providing reciprocal trade treaties with our foreign neighbors which, under the admirable leadership of Cordell Hull, have already resulted in tremendous benefits to our producers, including farm products and manufactured articles, many of which treaties still exist, and many more, we hope, will be restored and increased, if and when there is any stabilization of governments in wartorn Europe, the major principle of which policy the Republican platform endorses.

"Upon that partial record of social and economic legislative action, we propose to wage the coming battle without any spirit of time serving or apology, but upon the contrary, with an aggressive justification of the record of this Democratic administration.

THE REPUBLICAN PLATFORM

"We have now had opportunity to examine the Republican platform adopted at Philadelphia, which is supposed to represent the deliberate judgment of the best minds in the Republican party, if such there be. If that be the case, it reminds me of an incident that occurred in a southern border state during the 1896 Presidential campaign, when, as you remember, the vital issue was free silver versus the gold standard.

"A certain shrewd old politician was running for reëlection. He was to make a speech in a community where he was very doubtful as to the sentiment of the people on that issue. During the course of his speech, he was pressed many times by a bewhiskered spectator in the crowd to define his views on the money question, and finally, seeing that he was driven to make an answer, he replied: 'My friend has asked me to state my position on the money question and I will do it with entire frankness and without equivocation and here it is. I believe in the gold standard. I believe in the free and unlimited coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1. I believe in a large circulation of greenback money and a right smart little sprinkling of counterfeit.

Assails G. O. P. Platform.

"The Frank committee and their platform committee were in labor a long, long time and they finally brought forth a weasel.

"It is a document filled with equivocation and political subterfuge, but the most remarkable significance of that platform is the fact that despite their clamorous and bitter denunciation of the legislative program of this administration, they did not have the confidence or courage to demand the repeal or abolition of any single one of the major laws we have passed for liberal government and a better state of life for the masses of the American people. No greater compliment could be paid to the wisdom and soundness of the legislative and executive program of this administration. How can the Republican party go before the electorate in November, urging the removal from power of that party whose wisdom and progressive policies they were compelled, even if by indirection, to endorse?

"In national conventions heretofore there has been a vast amount of pointing with pride and viewing with alarm, but at Philadelphia, while there was much viewing with alarm, there was no pointing with pride, for the obvious reason that they could remember nothing at which to point. That platform is a perfect example of the aphorism that 'language was invented to conceal thoughts.'

FARM PROGRAM

"It is contended by Republican leaders that the farmers of the country will not support our party in November on the basis of the record of this administration. I refute that assertion. I do it because those farmers are men of intelligence and with a high capacity for the appraisal of legislative action as it affects their welfare. At the end of a Hoover administration, the farmers of America had on their hands an unprecedented panic and the Hoover farm board. The effects of the panic were immeasurable and the results of such farm board activities were worse, as our farmers will remember.

"They also well remember the prices they were receiving for their products in that fateful hour. Since we came into power we have progressively enacted for their benefit the soil and water conservation program; the lowest farm interest rates in our entire history; the benefits of rural electrification of their homes; marketing agreements; commodity loans; research into new uses and new markets; the stamp plan for distribution of surplus commodities; the long range farm tenant program whereby such tenants may acquire, under reasonable terms, and on long payments, the benefits of owning their own homes; and the immeasurable benefits to them of the policy of parity payments.

Points to Votes in House.

"I particularly call your attention to the attitude of the Republicans in congress with reference to the parity payment program, and remember that this was a direct and vital issue as to whether or not the government should undertake by this means to equalize, at least in part, the prices which the farmers secured for their products as compared to the cost of their production or the things they had to buy in the open market.

"On March 28, 1939, the house of representatives, on a vote to appropriate $250,000,000 to provide for such parity payments, the Democrats voted for the proposition, 168, and Republicans voted for, 20, and against, 135. On May 9 of this year, the vote on the proposal for $212,000,000 for parity payments to farmers was for, Democrats, 183, Republicans for, 22, and against, 131. You there have a concrete example of the deep and abiding interest which the Republican membership of the house took upon this most vital question for the benefit of agriculture. By their votes shall ye know them.

WORLD PEACE PROGRAM

"One of the most remarkable, as well as discreditable, efforts ever made by a political party to fabricate out of the whole cloth and without a shred of evidence to support it is the charge of some Republican leaders that the Democratic party and administration are attempting slyly and covertly to lead the United States into the shambles of a foreign war.

"I here and now denounce that calumny and assert that, not only is this administration opposed absolutely to a participation in any European war, but upon the contrary, both the President and our able secretary of state, Cordell Hull, and a Democratic congress have done everything possible within the bounds of reason, not only to preserve peace in Europe and in the entire world, but to so conduct our foreign relations that every precaution would be taken to keep us out of involvement in a foreign war. He has especially and consistently addressed his activities to the consolidation of that policy in this hemisphere and especially with our sister republics in Latin America.

Recalls 1935 Statement.

"When the President signed the first neutrality resolution on August 31, 1935, he did so with this statement: 'I have approved this joint resolution because it was intended as an expression of the fixed desire of the government and the people of the United States to avoid any action which might involve us in war. The policy of the government is definitely committed to the maintenance of peace and the avoidance of any entanglements which would lead us into conflict.'

"The only so-called meddling in European affairs by the executive has been based entirely upon an appeal for the preservation of peace against the spread of war and in behalf of humanity and adherence to treaty obligations and international law. As the head of a great peace-loving republic and as a great humanitarian, he could have done no less.

"Just a few days ago, on Wednesday of last week, he sent a memorable message to the congress in which he specifically and definitely gave this assurance of policy to the American people, 'That we are opposed to war is known not only to every American, but to every government in the world. We will not use our arms in the way of aggression; we will not send our men to take part in European wars.'

Recalls Special Session.

"In addition to all this, he called a special session of congress last year after the war broke out in Europe, recommended, and the Democratic party passed, amendments to the existing neutrality law which prohibited the shipment in American vessels of cargoes into the waters of the belligerent nations which, if it had not been done, would doubtless long before this have inevitably drawn us into the conflict for the same reasons which induced America to go to war against the central powers in 1917.

"On the vote in the house of representatives on this most vital proposal for keeping out of the European war, on the final roll call on the conference report of the neutrality bill, there were, yeas, Democrats, 223; Republicans, 18; nays, Democrats, 29; Republicans, 141.

SHADOW OF HITLER

"My fellow countrymen, we are assembled at the most fateful moment in the history of mankind. The sinister shadow of a cruel, savage, and ruthless despotism hangs like a pall of doom over the homes and the lives of every citizen of democratic and liberty loving peoples.

"Already this juggernaut of physical force and brutal power has laid its blighting hand upon the freedom and sovereignty of eight small and defenseless nations, Poland, Czecho-Slovakia, Austria, Norway, Belgium, the Netherlands, Denmark, Luxemburg and now France lie in the agony and ashes of the totalitarian destruction; and only Great Britain alone stands against the hurricane of the blitzkrieg. And now Hitler and Mussolini have sworn her total annihilation. They have furthermore sworn eternal enmity against all so-called decadent democracies, and that includes us.

"I do not know what attitude this convention may take on that subject, but I know that it is the attitude of the American people that we will resist to the death any compromise of our democratic principles with those malignant disturbers of the peace of the world; that we do not propose to appease those aggressors whose doctrines wage war upon every principle of liberty for a free people that our Declaration of Independence proclaimed and our federal constitution preserved.

NATIONAL DEFENSE

"I now propose to expose another flagrant piece of Republican propaganda by which they are endeavoring during this campaign, as they have already done, to make the American people believe that this administration has been indifferent to and neglectful of the necessary steps to prepare and make instantly available an adequate system of national defense at sea, on land and in the air.

"National defense is a sacred trust. When a matter involving the safety of our beloved country is at stake, we should all be united, both Democrats and Republicans, because we are all Americans. In critical times such as these, we should be thinking less of the political differences that divide us and more of the national interests that unite us. Until the invasion just two months ago of Norway, Belgium, Denmark and the Netherlands, how many of us realized the full portent of events overseas. Prior to that invasion, I heard no Republicans urging a national defense program such as we have now launched.

Retrogression Is Charged.

"During the twelve years of Republican administration, the national defense record was one of continual retrogression. During the 11-year period between 1922, the year of the Washington arms conference, and 1934, the year following Democratic charge of government, they laid down a total of only 35 combatant ships. During the last three years of the Hoover administration, not one single vessel of war was laid down by our government.

"During this administration there has been laid down up to June, 1940, 8 new battleships, 12 new cruisers, 2 new aircraft carriers, 65 new destroyers and 36 new submarines, a grand total of 153 new units in seven years as contrasted with 35 new units under the 12-year Republican regime.

"This congress has, in addition, authorized 87 ships of war to give us a two-ocean navy, a sea force of such magnitude and power, including its air force, as will make reasonably certain our continued dominance of this hemisphere and the perpetuation of our cherished institutions. Let this startling summary of ships authorized and constructed for the navy be fixed in the minds of the American people, to-wit: During Mr. Hoover's administration, none; during Mr. Roosevelt's administration, 326.

"When we came into power the authorized strength of our standing army had been reduced to 118,000 men. During this administration it has been constantly increased until the present authorized enlisted strength of the army is 375,000 men and the national guard 251,000.

"Our air force has been increased in like proportion, with an ultimate objective, if necessary, of 50,000 planes, manned by the most efficient flyers on the face of the earth. That is the record. Let the opposition make the most of it.

THE ENEMY WITHIN

"There has been presented a summary of our program for a tremendous increase in our defense against an enemy from overseas. But such danger is not the only menace to our national security. There is abundant proof that lurking within the shadows of our government's edifice, laying their mischevious plans at the opportune time to sap and mine it, or to put the red torch of revolution and disunion against our democratic form of government, are those forces of evil, now commonly called 'The Fifth Column.'

"No one knows how great are their numbers, but evidence already produced shows that they run into tens of thousands, all of them sworn enemies of our form of government. However great or small may be their number, there is no place in the United States for a single one of them to abide in freedom.

Restraints Are Enacted.

"Congressional legislation has already been enacted and approved by the President providing every possible restraint upon and punishment of these enemies of our institutions that could be devised within the limits of our constitution.

"At the conclusion of his speech to the Republican convention at Philadelphia, former President Hoover posed this question: 'Republicans, are you ready to fight?' No such question will be propounded to the Democrats of this convention or those of the country. We began to fight in the election of 1932; we carried on the battle in 1936 to a magnificent victory, and we are already enlisted for the duration of the coming conflict to preserve to the people the advances we have made in liberal government for the benefit and protection of the average man.

"Fighting by our side will again be millions of Republicans and independent voters who have forever foresworn allegiance to the forces of reaction.

SPIRITUAL REDEDICATION

"Sentiments and emotions and alarms of profound significance are stirring the minds and hearts of the American people as a result of the welter and destruction of the foreign wars, and they are in deep apprehension of the dangers to our processes of liberty. We can all somehow sense and feel a new consecration to the priceless patrimony bequeathed to us by Washington, Jefferson, Madison, Hamilton and their associates 'in a time remote.' It is an indefinable patriotic incursion that is touching the souls of men here in our country.

"While this is no time or place for one to invoke the prerogatives of an ecclesiastic, I venture far enough to assert that there is no armament so potent and enduring as that of the moral, spiritual and religious obligations for a great people. Without that sanctuary, there can be no perpetuation of the decencies and securities of any type of civilization. With that Great Comforter as a hand-maiden, our wealth, our power, our preparedness, our love of liberty will forever make America unconquered and unconquerable."

Sign on tavern building across street from the Stadium.

On the wall of a tavern building at 1811 West Madison street, directly across from the Stadium, a sign reports—"Convention tickets bought, sold and exchanged." Inside a young man was offering tickets for $2 for tonight and tomorrow's sessions, while Thursday admission is $3.50. He said he got the tickets from delegates. Business didn't seem to be very good.

SESSIONS BEGIN QUIETLY, THEN PUT ON STEAM

Crowd and Enthusiasm Grow at Night.

Senator James F. Byrnes of South Carolina, rumored as the one picked to be the Roosevelt floor leader during the convention and himself a leading Vice Presidential possibility, was the target of the news photographers before the session began.

Kentuckians Wave Their Hats.

The entire Kentucky delegation rose and waved their hats when the organ offered "My Old Kentucky Home." Bald headed Ruby Lafoon, former governor and maker of Kentucky colonels, and Gov. Keen Johnson joined in the merrymaking.

Belying his earlier pronouncement that all sessions would start promptly on schedule, Farley kept the convention waiting 5, 10, 15 minutes.

Finally, at 9:20 p. m., the smiling chairman stepped briskly to the speaker's desk and began to bang his gavel. Delegates stood up and cheered while the organ played "Take Me Out to the Ball Game."

Farley Winks at Delegation.

Farley winked at the Massachusetts delegation while the demonstration continued for two minutes. The Bay State delegates were instructed back home to vote for Farley for President.

Bishop Ernest Lynn Waldorf of the Methodist church in Chicago was introduced for the prayer of invocation.

He prayed that "the choice of those upon whom shall be placed the responsibilities of leadership in this day of destiny may be carefully and wisely made and that those thus chosen for this leadership may themselves be divinely led and sustained."

The prayer lasted four and a half minutes.

Indian Sings Anthem.

"The Star Spangled Banner" was sung by Mobley Lushanya of the Chickasaw tribe of Oklahoma. She appeared in full ceremonial costume.

There was a pause and the organ began again on "Take Me Out to the Ball Game."

Crowd Likes Defense Speech.

After a moment, Farley began his speech. The crowd liked Farley's declaration that the administration was building "a national denfese so stout, so stout, that no combination of foreign foes will dare to attack us."

"No American boy will be sent to die on the battlefields of Europe," was another phrase which took with a roar.

When Farley began to talk about the accomplishments of the administrations, he interpolated the word "two" before "administrations" but if the crowd saw any inference in that, it let it pass.

Stopped for a Few Seconds.

"When we put a great President in office," the speaker began a sentence, and was stopped there for a few seconds, but not as long as the demonstration which met the pledge of no participation in a foreign war.

The national chairman closed with a plea for loyalty to the next national committee which will take over the 1940 campaign.

With Farley's closing words predicting "another triumph next November" the delegates sprang to their feet and yelled.

The demonstration lasted three minutes. The organ came back with "Take Me Out to the Ball Game."

Farley gavelled and admonished the delegates in the arena and the spectators in the galleries to refrain from smoking.

Bankhead Comes to Platform.

Then Secretary Robert came forward. The indefatigable organist offered "Rambling Wreck," the Georgia Tech song, in honor of Robert, a Georgian.

Bankhead's appearance touched off another burst of applause. Farley handed over a newly varnished gavel, with a red, white, and blue ribbon bow tied on it, to the slender Alabaman.

The slow southern drawl of Bankhead, a stern, deliberate voice, could be heard in the far corners of the hall.

There were cheers and a spattering of handclapping when Bankhead asserted the two parties should aim for unity to preserve "the perpetual freedom of its people."

Applause Punctuates Recital.

Howls went up whenever Bankhead touched on the "ruthless" doings of the Republican predecessors. He mentioned the Insull utility empire here in the middle west.

There were whoops from the delegations of Tennessee and nearby southern states when he listed the Tennessee Valley authority as one of the achievements of the administration.

Other accomplishments he claimed for the present government include bank rehabilitation, securities and exchange commission policing of the stock market, Civilian Conservation corps, works projects, federal housing, wage and hour law, and reciprocal trade treaties.

His voice edged with sarcasm, less than half the seats in the arena were filled when the noon hour approached. The crowd straggled in.

President James B. McCahey of the Chicago Board of Education was the first to put in an appearance in the section reserved for the Illinois delegation.

At 11:35 Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, president of the Chicago Board of Health, stepped to the microphone to announce the location of the two emergency hospital units in the Stadium.

Farley and Daughters Arrive.

National Chairman Farley arrived at 11:40. His two daughters, Betty, 18 years old, and Ann, 15, accompanied him. The chairman conferred with Col. Edwin A. Halsey, secretary of the senate, and sergeant at arms of the convention, and Convention Secretary Robert.

Farley stepped to the front of the platform at 12:02 and began to bang for order. A big cheer went up from the crowd. The genial chairman smiled and waved his hand in appreciation of the applause.

Mayor Edward J. Kelly, in a gray suit and wearing a blue shirt, stepped on the rear of the platform a few minutes later. Behind him were Senator Scott W. Lucas, President Robert J. Dunham of the Chicago park board, and other Illinois Democratic dignitaries. Mrs. J. Hamilton Lewis, widow of the senator, appeared at the rear of the platform dressed in black and quietly took a seat.

Archbishop Stritch Gives Invocation.

Then followed the invocation by Archbishop Samuel A. Stritch of the Catholic diocese in Chicago. He asked divine blessing on the convention and said:

"Almighty, everlasting God, fountain of light and sources of strength, behold us, Thy children, gathered here this day, when heavy troubles bear down on the nations and darkness starks over many lands, to rededicate ourselves to the task of upholding in all circumstances our free institutions. Thy blessing to us."

Phil Regan, Irish tenor, then sang the national anthem while the delegates and spectators stood.

Kelly Greeted with Applause.

Loud applause greeted the introduction of Mayor Kelly to the convention for the welcoming speech. After telling the visitors Chicago had opened its arms to them with all its well known hospitality, the mayor swung into the business of the day—politics.

The mayor took a crack at the public utility connections of Willkie, the Republican standard bearer, and made several thrusts at opposition newspapers.

Chicago, the convention host, according to the mayor, was not concerned with the "Wall street propagandists who would poison the bloodstream of our youth." This was the Willkie reference and the delegates burst into handclapping. Then the mayor turned his guns on the press.

"We want to thank some of the newspapers of Chicago which have written the truth about this convention," said Mayor Kelly.

Mentions "Literary Gangsters."

"And we want to thank all of them for the truth they have printed, showing the extra dividends, the new output, and the steady upsurge of business—even if we had to turn to the financial pages to get it.

"The people of Chicago have developed a healthy immunity to literary gangsters whose stock in trade is the manufacture of derision. We can smell 'Morganized' propaganda before the poisoned ink is dry. We can spot the false gods of democracy no matter what mask they wear."

The delegates remained rooted in their seats, awaiting the next business of the day, as Kelly stepped from the platform and threaded his way thru the crowded middle aisle to the Illinois delegation where he took his seat next to National Committeeman Pat Nash.

Departing from the prepared text of his speech, Mayor Kelly launched the "draft Roosevelt" movement formally with the following words:

"I know the President has been under a terrible strain. I know that he faces four of the most drastic and trying years in the life of our nation. In all my contacts with him he has indicated to me that he is not a candidate, but he is a good American.

"I believe it the duty of this convention not only to insist upon his renomination but to demand it by a unanimous vote."

Crowd Applauds a Moment.

The crowd applauded for a moment or two and the mayor went on. The time was 12:22 when Kelly wound up his speech with the first convention reference to the President by name.

"The salvation of this nation rests in one man because of his great experience and sincere humanitarian thinking," asserted Mayor Kelly.

"That is why I am praying that this great Democratic convention, with the eyes of an unhappy world upon it, will stand with all the unity of our tempered hearts and tested minds—with all the courage of our believing souls.

A New Yorker Parades.

"We will stand—and put forward—and confirm again that God-sent guardian of our liberties—the kind of man that mankind needs:

"Our beloved President—Franklin D. Roosevelt!"

A New York delegate took his state banner and marched to the front of the hall. He beckoned to others to follow. Other state banners were waved back and forth but none stepped into line behind New York. The lone parader gave up and returned to his delegation.

Lucas Represents Horner.

Senator Lucas was introduced to welcome the delegates and alternates to the state of Illinois on behalf of the ailing Gov. Henry Horner. The band played "We're Loyal to You, Illinois," the University of Illinois song.

"When we think of history here in Illinois," the senior senator said, "we treasure two chapters highly. First, that we gave Abraham Lincoln to the nation, and second, that eight years ago, under this roof, we nominated a man who has given new meaning to Lincoln's words, 'Of the people, for the people, and by the people'—Franklin D. Roosevelt."

Again the cheers rose.

Refers to Gov. Horner.

Senator Lucas then made a warm reference to the ailing Gov. Horner, expressing the governor's regrets that he was unable to serve in his official capacity as state host to the convention.

Illinois, said the speaker, was Democratic in 1932, 1934, 1936, 1938, and would be Democratic again in 1940.

The welcome he gave, he said, was in behalf of seven and a half million people—wage earners, farmers, and citizens. The mothers of Illinois, he added, need not fear that the Democratic administration would send their sons to foreign battlefields.

When Lucas had concluded, Farley told the crowd he apologized for introducing the speaker as the "junior senator from Illinois." He was the "senior senator," said Farley, and "one of the best Illinois has ever had." This brought applause.

Silent Tributes Paid.

After routine committee announcements, Farley asked the assembly to stand for a minute in silent tribute to the memory of the late Senator Joseph T. Robinson of Arkansas and W. Forbes Morgan of New York, late treasurer of the national committee.

Then the widow of Senator Lewis was introduced. Her husband's name, Farley said, was a "household word" in the nation.

President Dunham of the park board made the next welcoming speech. He said "Chicago's heart wells with pride" at being host to the convention.

"Feel free to have the time of your life," declared Dunham. "And when you go don't say good-by. Say you'll be back again soon.

Gov. Carl Bailey of Arkansas was recognized to put the motion for a recess to 9 p. m.

Notes of Convention

Despite the wail over shortage of tickets, the spectators' seats were no more than half filled at convention opening time. The session was compared to a Joe Louis fight—over before the crowd got settled. About 75 per cent of the delegates were present.

Andy Frain, in charge of ushers, said he thought a Brooklyn baseball crowd was hard to handle until he encountered this convention. "They're all big shots," Frain said. "Delegates forget their tickets, and every one wants some one fired if they're stopped."

Nearly 100 persons crashed the gate during the opening session—with the tacit consent of the officials who looked at row upon row of empty seats. An usher went to one of the pass gates and handed out tickets to those who were trying to get in. The gate crashers saw about 15 minutes of the opening show.

Mayor Hague of Jersey City was one of those who had ticket trouble. He didn't gain admission until Frain had identified him. Another who had gate difficulties was Mayor Kelly's brother Richard. He appeared at Gate 1 without a ticket. A policeman went for Frain, but when they returned Richard Kelly had disappeared.

Practically every one else in the convention hall sweltered, the radio crews lived in cool, air conditioned content in their booths above and behind the speaker's platform. Coats were the order of the evening with the technicians and announcers who handled the broadcasting. Mutual, National, and Columbia broadcasting quarters were the only sections of the stadium with modern cooling systems.

When yesterday's opening session ended, Gov. Herbert H. Lehman of New York hailed one taxicab after another without success. Finally a policeman intervened, stopped a cab with one man in it and asked: "Would you mind giving a governor a lift?"

"It depends," said the man, "on the governor it is."

The governor got a lift.

Texas and Minnesota delegates were reported to have met in open battle Sunday night in the Hotel Sherman. A policeman reported that one of the Texans referred to a Minnesotan as a communist. He said Texas seemed to have a slight edge in the conflict.

A cowboy band from Hardin-Simmons university, Abilene, Tex., showed up with instruments, 13 gallon hats, and six white horses. The horses do not have votes at the convention.

Fifteen barrels of beer and 165 quarts of whisky were consumed during the opening day sessions in the Stadium grill at the Madison street entrance, according to J. R. Pozner, manager. Beer and Manhattan cocktails were the favorite drinks of the delegates, Pozner said, with a slight movement in half pint package trade for seat drinking.

The Lorel singers, directed by Miss Jane Ogden Hunter, were chosen yesterday to open the Thursday night session of the convention. They will sing "God Bless America" by Irving Berlin, "Here Comes an American" by Al Melgard, and "America My Home" by Albert Troy Hardy.

One-eyed Connolly, gate crasher, was present but he didn't crash the gate. He was wearing a deputy sergeant-at-arms badge donated by Mrs. Halsey, wife of the convention sergeant at arms.

One Roosevelt was present in an official capacity. Elliott Roosevelt of Fort Worth, the President's son, is a delegate from Texas. He had no comment on the possibility of his father's nomination.

Chicago hospitality is 100 per cent. Maury Maverick, the Texas whirlwind, wanted to go riding yesterday morning. Mayor Kelly not only produced a horse, but also J. M. Arvey, 24th ward boss. Arvey dutifully rode the bridle paths with Maverick.

Mrs. Sarah Bond Hanly of Monmouth, Ill., appeared at the convention wearing a Cleveland-Thurman badge. She had saved it since 1888.

Federal Judge Michael L. Igoe was present in his box when the first session opened. He plans to be present for every session and sit thru each one. With him were Mrs. Igoe, Mrs. Lawrence Barrett, wife of the deputy state auditor, and Mrs. William Curran.

Mrs. Mary Eben, secretary on the White House staff, appeared at the Stadium with a letter from President Roosevelt asking that she be admitted. She was turned back at the gate and went in search of a ticket.

First patient at the emergency hospital was a policeman on duty at one of the gates. He had been bitten by an insect. Mrs. Linda Buffington of Mexico, Mo., was treated for a dislocated right shoulder and taken to Presbyterian hospital. She was injured when she reached for a mezzanine railing and missed.

First delegates to arrive were R. L. Corbett of Macclesfield, N. C., and E. D. Broadhurst of Greensboro, N. C. They said they were bringing a couple of votes for Roosevelt.

M. L. ANNENBERG IS GRANDFATHER FOR 12TH TIME

Philadelphia, Pa., July 15 [Special].—Mrs. Walter Hubert Annenberg, wife of the assistant publisher of the Philadelphia Inquirer, tonight gave birth to a son at the Bryn Mawr hospital. Mr. Annenberg is the only son of M. L. Annenberg, publisher of the Inquirer and other publications.

Relief Workers Bolt Old Group to Form New Union

Terre Haute, Ind., July 15 [Special].—Indiana locals of the Workers Alliance of America voted today to withdraw the 15 delegates who were elected to the fifth national convention at Chicago in August. Instead the delegates will attend the National Security Conference in Chicago on Aug. 19 to 21, to form a new national organization of workers on unemployment relief projects.

RECORD SPEAKS FOR DEMOCRATS, FARLEY ASSERTS

Praises Workers; Warns of Overconfidence.

Following is the text of the address by James A. Farley, chairman of the Democratic national committee, last night before the Democratic convention:

"As I stand here facing the representatives of democracy, I am overwhelmed by a flood of recollections. It was here eight years ago we met in the midst of a great emergency with a mission to save America. I need not detail to you, my friends and colleagues, how grave were the conditions of our country. We reached here thru a lane of idle factories; farm products were rotting on the farms and in the market places; the great banks of this city were struggling to head off the menace of financial panic as were the banks in every other city, town, and hamlet of the country. The riot of unbridled speculation had brought its day of reckoning. Nobody knew what tomorrow would bring forth.

"We did our job then and I am sure we will do it today, fearlessly, patriotically, and with the single purpose of continuing the onward march of progress which was started in this hall eight years ago.

Envisions New Emergency.

"We meet again in the face of another vast emergency. It is a different crisis that confronts us now, and one perhaps as grave or even greater than the other. The next administration must continue the wise policy undertaken by the government now in power at Washington—the policy of keeping this nation at peace in a war-mad world while building up a national defense so stout, so strong that no combination of foreign foes will dare to attack us.

"I am sure that this convention will realize its responsibilities. I am sure of this, because I see hundreds of familiar faces: The faces of men and women who have been tried and who have shown themselves worthy of the high trust imposed on them by their party. Nor is there any doubt about the new people who are serving as delegates to this convention. Every one of you, whose history I know, has labored shoulder to shoulder with the party veterans. You are all loyal soldiers gathered here to defend a worthy cause.

"A short time ago an effort was made to pin the odious label of 'war party' on the Democratic party. Like all misguided political actions, the effort fell of its own weight. The people of America still possess their critical faculties; they know the difference betwcen leaders who face realities with courage and frankness, and leaders who are so blinded by partisanship that they mistake one of the great tragedies of history for a 'phony war.'

"This administration has given its solemn pledge that no American boy will be sent to die on the battlefields of Europe and this compact will be kept. There may be differences of opinion among Democrats on other issues, but on this determination there is absolute unity.

TRIBUTE TO WORKERS

"I esteem it an honor and a high privilege to open this convention and to present to you your temporary organization. That is one of the functions of the chairman of the Democratic national committee, the proudest post I ever held. I have been given credit for many elements in Democratic success during the past eight years. Let me tell you now our success was not due to me but to the loyal work of the national committee members, the state organizations, the county organizations and the workers under them.

"We won a glorious victory in 1932. That victory was due to the splendid efforts mainly of men and women without title, without official place and with no incentive beyond their faith in our nominees and in the principles of the party.

"We won another great national victory in 1936, and again let me bestow the credit for the achievement on the precinct and district captains and the people who under their leadership labored day and night to spread the doctrine of democracy and to see to it that the people who shared their views came to the polls and voted their convictions. It was possible that we might have won without such strenuous work but that proud record of carrying 46 of the 48 states could never have been attained except for the unstinted service of those whose sole reward was the progress of the country.

Lauds Work in Past.

"I shall never cease to be grateful to these faithful folks.

"When the history of this troubled period is written, the two administrations in which we have been privileged to play a part will be given their rightful place among the bright pages of national achievement. Posterity will understand and appreciate the record of these administrations. It is a story of high purpose and worthy action untarnished by breach of trust or sordid scandals.

"A program of liberal policies has been written into law, dedicated to the well being of all the people which had its roots in the everlasting principles of just government laid down by Jefferson and by Jackson. You will hear these accomplishments discussed in detail by the able speakers who follow me on this platform. These achievements constitute the record on which we propose to wage the coming campaign. The choice lies between a party still unable to cope with the conditions and problems of the twentieth century and a party which has made this nation the last stronghold of genuine democracy in a world of violence and ruthless force. That is the issue, and the whole issue.

PRAISES CONGRESS

"In this tribute to the administration that saved the country from complete collapse and started it anew on the road to prosperity, we must not forget the Democratic congresses which have done their part. True there have been some issues on which the members of the national legislative bodies have divided. That is democracy. If there were not this liberty of opinion, and the freedom to exercise individual judgment—then indeed we would have a dictatorship. But so long as all of us have the privilege of saying what we think, and we maintain the right to work for enactment of our own ideas and ideals, there can be no threat to our representative form of government.

"Our congresses during the past eight years have worked sincerely for the betterment of the country, and the results stand as a monument to the sincere patriotism of those who make our laws, representing the combined wisdom of the executive and legislative branches of the government.

Calls Differences Small.

"We have heard sharp debates when differences of opinion have arisen. We have heard charges of dictatorship, but actually the result that has gone on the statute books has been the will of the country expressed thru the representatives elected by the people to express that will. These differences have no more significance than the ripples on the sea or even the storm waves that rise and pass, leaving the ocean still a great international highway.

"For a measure of the service done by the Democratic administration, we have only to compare our domestic situation today with what it was when we put a great President in office to repair the damages inflicted by inept and incompetent Republican administrations, and elected with him a Democratic congress that did not falter at the magnitude of the task with which it was entrusted. That task is by no means completed, and when we consider the additional burden imposed by the course of the war overseas, we must realize to the full the responsibilities of this convention. We cannot, of course, ignore what is happening on the other continents. It is going to take the best there is in statesmanship to preserve our liberties. We have not wished for the conditions that have forced us to fashion the greatest navy in the world, or to recruit an army of war time strength.

"We have committed ourselves, not only to protecting our own continental territory and its outlying possessions, but circumstances have compelled us to pledge a defense of the Monroe Doctrine, which forbids foreign aggression to our sister nations on the American continent. A hundred years ago, when we were still small and weak in comparison with the great military nations, we adopted that doctrine as part of our own defensive system and policy to keep all America, American. This course we deemed necessary for our own well being, and for a century we have kept this hemisphere safe from colonization or conquest by any predatory power. Whether we like it or not, we must continue that policy.

"Under these circumstances is there a man on this floor, or a real American within the sound of my voice, who should be willing to take the government out of the hands of the party that has kept the faith and place it in the inexperienced hands of those who aspire to regain control of the government.

"We cannot afford to assume that the efforts of the minority party can be ignored or dismissed as futile. It may well be that we may look forward to a victory in November as great as that we won four years ago, but we cannot take anything for granted. The opposition is not only hungry for power but it has enormous resources and will fight desperately and with every political weapon to win.

Warns of Overconfidence.

"We know, of course, that we have a vast majority of the country with us, but unless we give the country a ticket and a platform that will satisfy the majority, we have no certainty of victory. Moreover, tho the nation's sentiment may be on our side, that sentiment will not be expressed unless we get our people, and all our people, to the polls. More than one election has been lost because of overconfidence. That overconfidence causes lack of organization; and impels people to think of their private grudges rather than of their public duty.

"A united democracy with such a record as we have made in the past eight years, can only be defeated by itself. I mean by that, that a lukewarm campaign, a belief on the part of one citizen that his vote isn't needed because the other voters will take care of the situation, constitutes our only danger. So I want to urge here on the delegates who will name the standard bearers of the party, and adopt the party platform, that their duties as citizens will not end with this convention.

"They have been given great responsibility as the people's representatives to choose the government under which we shall live for the next four years. They are men of standing in their communities and of influence in their states. I ask every one of them when they leave this hall, when their work here is done, to take up with enthusiasm and devotion the job that they as leading Democrats must do. They have been honored by their party. They can only repay this favor by devoting themselves to the completion of the task of which the convention's program is only the first step. It devolves on them to be leaders of democracy in this campaign.

PROMISES VICTORY

"And now, men and women of the Democratic National convention, it becomes my duty to relinquish the gavel and present to you the temporary officers who will guide your proceedings until you have expressed your views as to the permanent organization. Mine has been a happy service. I have had the hearty support and cooperation of the national committee which now goes out of existence, and I want to thank the members from the bottom of my heart on my own behalf and on the behalf of the Democratic party whose interests they have so sincerely guarded.

"Let me thank also the delegates to this convention who have done everything possible to expedite and make easier the business of this meeting. I know that your new organization will not let the Democratic party down and I firmly believe that every member of this great gathering will give our successors and the new national party organization the same support that was accorded to the national committees in 1932 and 1936, and if that is so, let me promise you now another triumph next November.

WILLKIE LISTENS IN ON DEMOCRAT DOINGS ON RADIO

Takes a Cue for His Own Campaign Plans.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Colorado Springs, Colo., July 15.—Wendell L. Willkie, Republican nominee for president, followed the proceedings of the Democratic national convention by radio today and plans to listen closely to the balloting for presidential nomination.

His own campaign plans and the trend of his acceptance speech will be shaped largely by what happens in Chicago. He predicts the nomination of President Roosevelt on the first ballot.

"I predicted my own nomination at Philadelphia on the sixth ballot," he said, "and I predict the nomination of the President on the first ballot. I am anxious to see if I still have a sense of accuracy." Willkie hopes to campaign against the President himself.

Hears Illinois Prediction.

One speaker Willkie heard over the radio predicted that Illinois would remain in the Democratic column in November.

"I knew he would say that," said Willkie.

Commenting on the statement of Senator James F. Byrnes of South Carolina that this Democratic convention was the first unbossed convention that has met on American soil under the auspices of the party in power and that it would not be ruled by an avalanche of telegrams and hysterical galleries, Willkie said: "Hasn't Jim Byrnes got a sense of humor?"

Talks with Statistician.

He had breakfast with Carl Snyder, retired statistician of the federal reserve bank in New York and author of "Capitalism the Creator." Willkie bought that book in Washington for reading here and said that in his judgment it was one of the most stimulating and provocative books on the American capitalist system that he knows of. He urged the author to get his publishers to issue a popular edition so that all might read it. He talked for an hour with Snyder.

At luncheon Willkie had as guest Claude M. Baker of Indianapolis, president of the International Typographical union. Later he went out to the International Printers' home near here and inspected their farm and herd of Hereford cattle. Willkie raises cattle on his Indiana farms.

Mr. Willkie was forced to appear tonight before a group of 362 school teachers who were at his hotel for dinner. The teachers, learning that the nominee was in the hotel, disrupted the sedate proceedings of the dining room by shouting "We want Willkie," and banging the table with silverware. Finally, Mr. Willkie, who had retired, came down to the dining room. "I am Wendell Willkie" and quieted the tumult by shaking hands with each of the teachers.

WILLKIE EASTERN CAMPAIGN TO BE RUN IN N. Y. CITY.

Office Will Be Opened for 17 States.

New York, July 15 [Special].—Eastern campaign headquarters for Wendell L. Willkie will be opened in the Grand Central Terminal building here immediately after Willkie formally accepts the Republican presidential nomination at Elwood, Ind., his home town, it was learned today.

Samuel F. Pryor.

The headquarters for 17 states in the east and middle west, it was said, will be managed by Samuel F. Pryor Jr., Republican national committeeman from Connecticut, an original Willkie booster.

Under the Republican setup, it was explained here, Representative Joseph W. Martin Jr. of Massachusetts, minority leader of the house of representatives and chairman of the Republican national committee, will be in general charge, dividing his time between New York, Washington, and Chicago, the latter being national headquarters.

Other Headquarters Planned.

According to present plans, Democratic supporters of Willkie and the Willkie for President clubs will each have separate New York City headquarters in hotels in the Grand Central area. Willkie's personal headquarters has been in operation for a week in the Hotel Commodore.

Present plans, it was said, call for about 60 per cent of the Republican national campaign work being conducted in Chicago, 30 per cent in Washington, and only 10 per cent in New York City. The Willkie strategists intend to coöperate fully with Republican state organizations. In effect, it was said, the campaign will be run on a state-wide rather than on a national basis.

Volunteers Swarm to Aid.

Willkie's personal headquarters, a large eighths floor suite in the Hotel Commodore, was overrun today with volunteers offering to aid in the campaign. Henry J. Taylor, paper company executive, is in direct charge of the personal headquarters, aided by Robert L. Johnson, magazine publisher, and Fred Rahter, Willkie's personal secretary.

The office staff today handled some 75 letters containing contributions and offers of aid in the campaign which came in over the week-end. Earlier the organization had turned about 500 campaign contributions over to the united Republican finance committee.

U. S. WARSHIPS, IN TWO COLUMNS, SAIL FROM PEARL HARBOR BASE

HONOLULU, T. H., July 15 (AP).—Two columns of American warships steamed out of Pearl Harbor today, causing speculation that the vessels were getting ready to patrol south Pacific islands owned by Great Britain and France. The speculation was based on the assumption that the fleet was strong enough to protect the status quo of all islands east of the international dateline in the south Pacific.

Eight cruisers, headed by the Indianapolis, flagship of Vice Admiral Adolphus Andrews, commander of the scouting force, departed with 10 destroyers. Another column of four cruisers and a number of destroyers was joined by the battleships Colorado and Nevada and the aircraft carrier Enterprise.

The departure inaugurated a three-week period of sea operations during which parts of the fleet will be based at Lahaina, Maui, and Pearl Harbor.

ROOSEVELT, THIRD TERM OPPOSED BY DR. TOWNSEND

Dr. Francis E. Townsend, leader of the Townsend pension plan movement, issued a statement yesterday opposing a third term for President Roosevelt.

"The proposal to elect a man for a third term is an intimation that we are running short of men with capabilities for filling the position," he said. "I believe there are better men now living who are qualified as presidential timber and more of them than ever existed before.

"I am against the third term because it invites political corruption and makes it possible for political gangs to perpetuate themselves in office and to spread their corruption in ever widening circles of the population. During the Roosevelt administration the low income groups of the nation have been imposed upon and compelled to contribute of their meager incomes to support a 'social security' program that is a fraudulent and tragic failure."

SMILIN' JACK—A MANNER TO WHICH HE IS UNACCUSTOMED

AID TO FAMILIES OF RELIEFERS IN ARMY IS PLEDGED

Fears Baseless, Eligible Recruits Are Told.

Reliefers who have excused their failure to join the nation's armed forces on the ground that their dependants would suffer privation were given an answer yesterday. Leo M. Lyons, executive secretary of the Illinois Emergency Relief commission and Chicago relief commissioner, said that no family that requires aid will be dropped from the relief rolls.

"Such families will be rebudgeted on the basis of getting assistance for one less person," Lyons said. "If the member of the family who enlists can send home any money from his service pay that amount will be deducted from the relief check."

It is estimated that there are 62,150 men on the relief and WPA rolls in Illinois, 22,486 of them in Chicago, who could apply for enlistment in the army, navy, and marine corps in the program of military expansion. Of this total 10,176 in Chicago and 17,457 downstate are on relief.

Within Age Limits.

The 62,150 are within the age limits for the armed forces—18 to 35 years. Recruiting officers have said they will be welcomed if they can comply with physical and mental requirements.

The average monthly check for a family on relief is $30. The maximum a single man without dependents can receive is $17. The minimum for an unskilled laborer on WPA is $57 a month. If a man on WPA enlists his family can return to relief if necessary.

The starting base pay for a recruit in any of the three military services is $21 a month. In addition, the recruit received food and maintenance and an allowance for uniforms.

An army enlistment is for a four year period, with 5 per cent increases in pay for each reenlistment. The enlisted man can rise to a master sergeantcy which pays a maximum of $157.50 a month. After 30 years' service the enlisted man can retire on a pension of three-fourths of his regular pay.

Join Navy for Six Years.

Enlistments in the navy are for six year periods. After the first four months the recruit is automatically boosted to $36 a month. He can rise to chief petty officer with monthly pay of $157.50 and, if he shows particular aptitude, can in time become a chief warrant officer, where his pay would be $4,500 a year. After 20 years' service he can be assigned to the fleet reserve at half pay, and in 10 more years can ask for complete retirement at three-fourths pay.

The top pay in the marines for an enlisted man is $157. After 30 years' service he can retire at three-fourths pay.

All of the service branches conduct special courses for clerical, mechanical, and scientific subjects, and recruits are eligible for such work if they can qualify by examination.

Chicago Recruiting Areas Set Fast Defense Pace for Nation

The Chicago area is setting an energetic pace for many sections of the country, especially New York and other eastern states, in enlistments in the nation's armed forces, according to a survey made yesterday.

Since May 20 when new recruiting campaigns were inaugurated, 3,536 young men from the Chicago recruiting area have enlisted in the army, navy and marine corps, more than half filling the total quotas of 6,628 set up by the three services. The response has been gratifying to recruiting officials here and in Washington.

New York Record Disappointing.

In contrast to Chicago's enlistment record, the showing in some other sections has been disappointing. On July 10, the New York Sun called attention to an apparent disinclination on the part of New Yorkers to join the army by remarking editorially that "the drive to recruit the army by voluntary enlistment is lagging in this [the New York] and two other corps areas."

New York is in the 2d Corps area of the United States army, which embraces New York state, New Jersey and Delaware. Chicago is in the 6th Corps area of the army, made up of Illinois, Michigan and Wisconsin. The populations of the two areas are about the same, something over 12,000,000.

Gen. Ford Lauds Response.

"The Chicago recruiting area certinly is doing its duty," commented Lieut. Gen. Stanley H. Ford, commanding the 6th Corps area and the Second army. "Enlistments are coming along excellently, and at the same time high army standards are being maintained."

Commander Elliott Senn, who assumed command of naval recruiting here yesterday, and Maj. Dean Kalbfleisch and First Sergt. Thomas W. McNeely, Marine corps recruiting officials, also commended the Chicago area for its response to recruiting appeals.

How Areas Compare.

What the Chicago and New York areas, respectively, are doing to augment the armed forces of the United States is shown in the following tables, based on enlistment figures from May 20. Dates for the quotas shown are May 20 to Aug. 31 for the army, and May 20 to July 31 for the navy and the marine corps.

ARMY.

Area.	Quota.	Enlistments.
New York	6,087	2,334
Chicago	5,993	2,916

New York	1,700	1,175
Chicago	440	*462

MARINES.

New York	278	216
Chicago	198	158

All enlistments shown are new enlistments. Reënlistments are not included.

The figures relating to New York enlistments are approximate. Those relating to Chicago are complete as of last week.

Lead East in Army Totals.

The army enlistments emphatically show the Chicago recruiting area's leadership over the east. Altho the Chicago area's quota is 94 less than New York's, its enlistments exceed New York's by 582 in spite of the fact that the population of Chicago proper is about half that of New York's boasted 7,380,000.

Naval enlistments are high thruout the country, with quotas being filled everywhere. New York and the Atlantic seaboard are credited with making good responses. Their May and June quotas were filled, but their July quota of 800 is only half filled thus far. On the other hand, the Chicago naval recruiting district not only is completing its quota but is doing it ahead of time and with excess enlistments.

Chicago also is proportionately ahead in marine corps enlistments, and is having no difficulties in meeting its normal quotas.

The three services are making great efforts to induce promising young men to enlist. Good paying careers are available in each. The army's estimated strength on July 10, 1940, was 252,000, with a goal of 280,000 by Aug. 31. The navy's regular strength on July 1, 1940, was 139,870, and is to be increased to 170,000. The marine corps strength as of the same date was 25,000 and is to be boosted to 34,000.

The army's personnel demand is, of course, the heaviest, and interest centers on it. The new enlistment records of the nine army corps' areas from July 1, 1939, to June, 1940, inclusive, are as follows: [Headquarters cities are listed in parenthesis]:

1st [Boston]	5,868
2d [New York]	10,419
3d [Baltimore]	15,952
4th [Atlanta]	20,290
5th [Columbus, O.]	12,540
6th [Chicago]	9,836
7th [Omaha]	7,843
8th [San Antonio, Tex.]	16,704
9th [San Francisco]	10,046

Chicago's recent campaign, especially strong in July, will place the 6th corps area ahead of some of the others. In one week, July 8 to July 13, 657 men were enlisted. In one day alone 197 men were accepted.

An enlistment campaign will be started soon in rural districts and small towns by mobile recruiting units of the army. Sound trucks carrying recruiting officers will tour the area, inviting men to join.

RESERVE OFFICER GROUP CHANGES AT C.M.T.C. CAMP

Eighty-one reserve officers who have been in charge of the Citizen's Military Training camp at Fort Sheridan for the last two weeks completed their summer training yesterday and relinquished their command to 63 reservists who will be in charge for the next fortnight. The exchange was made at a formal retreat at 4 p. m. The retiring officers included 64 from the 341st Infantry [Chicago], under Lieut.-Col. William A. Carroll, and 17 from the 318th Cavalry [Chicago] under Lieut.-Col. William H. Peterson. The new officers are from the 423d Light Tank regiment [Wisconsin] under Col. Norman B. Wood. Col. John B. Johnson, in charge of summer camp activities, praised the conduct and efficiency of the Chicago officers.

JAS. ROOSEVELT OBTAINS RIGHTS TO ENGLISH FILM

New York, July 15 (AP).—James Roosevelt announced today that he has obtained distribution rights to the English-made motion picture "Pastor Hall" and that his mother, Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, will narrate a prolog explaining why the picture is being shown in this country.

The picture, based on the life of the Rev. Martin Niemoeller, German Lutheran minister who was interned in a Nazi concentration camp, will be shown first in New York early next month, the announcement said. The picture is to be released thru the United Artists corporation, with which Roosevelt is associated as an independent producer.

Opposed to Petain, French Aid in Philadelphia Quits

Philadelphia, Pa., July 15 [Special].—Paul Pazery, French vice consul in Philadelphia, today submitted his resignation to the French ambassador at Washington rather than serve the Petain government that surrendered to Nazi Germany. The 30 year old official, who speaks with an Oxford accent, asserted that only a British victory can save France. Pazery said he would ask the state department to permit him to remain in this country. Other than that he would not discuss his plans.

EXPORT AIRLINES GRANTED RIGHT TO FLY ATLANTIC

Partial Service to Start Via Azores at Once.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 15.—Operation of a second nonstop trans-Atlantic air service was licensed today by the Civil Aeronautics authority. It authorized the American Export Airlines, Inc., to inaugurate plane service between New York and Lisbon.

Heretofore, Pan-American Airways has been the sole American operator over the North Atlantic route. The new line is expected to begin mail and express service immediately, with stops at Horta, in the Azores, and possibly at Hamilton, Bermuda. Nonstop passenger service will not be established for 11 months, when the first of three Sikorsky S-44 four-engined flying boats will be delivered.

Timed on War's Duration.

One of the certificates to be issued will permit American Export Airlines to carry passengers, mail, and express between New York City and Lisbon, Portugal, using either or both Hamilton, Bermuda and Horta, the Azores, as intermediate points and Baltimore, Md., as an alternate terminal, when weather conditions require.

The certificate is to be effective so long as operations to France, England, and Ireland are rendered unlawful because of the neutrality act of 1939 and for 60 days thereafter.

A second certificate, good until September 1, 1941, was issued for mail and express service only, between the same terminal points and naming Horta as an intermediate stop.

The Sikorski flying boats are estimated by the manufacturer to be able to carry a crew of 11, and 12 passengers on nonstop flights between New York and Lisbon in 20 hours and 30 minutes eastbound or 24 hours and 45 minutes westbound.

Rejects Monopoly Plea.

In rejecting Pan-American's contention that granting of the certificate of operation would prove economically harmful, the CAA said:

"We are unable to find that the continued maintenance of an exclusive monopoly of trans-Atlantic American flag air transportation is in the public interest, particularly since there is no such public control over the passenger or express rates to be charged or over the standards of service to be rendered as customarily is provided in the case of a publicly protected monopoly.

"The record indicates that altho it does not appear that the quality of the service now rendered by the intervener [Pan-American Airways] is at present inadequate in any respect, benefits to the public, in the shape of improved service resulting from advances in the industry, would be accelerated by competition between United States air carriers on the North Atlantic route."

Resignation of Venezuela from League Is Effective

CARACAS, Venezuela, July 15 (AP).—Venezuela's resignation from the League of Nations became effective today. A member of the league since 1920, Venezuela tendered her resignation two years ago without explanation. She was the ninth Latin American nation to leave the league. The others were Guatemala, Brazil, Costa Rica, Paraguay, Nicaragua, Honduras, El Salvador and Chile.

GLIDER TRAINING ADVOCATED TO DEVELOP PILOTS

McDonald Asks U. S. Aid on Program.

A simple and inexpensive scheme to train aviators for national defense was outlined yesterday by Eugene F. McDonald Jr., president of Zenith Radio corporation, who is a gliding enthusiast. The plan involves mass production of gliders and financial assistance from the federal government to young men wishing to learn to fly them.

"Training pilots is one of the immediate problems of defense," McDonald said. "It will do little good to build 1,000 planes a week if we do not have pilots to fly them. Until now the use of gliders for training purposes has been overlooked here despite the remarkable success Germany had with them," he asserted.

Break All Records.

Germany's success is the chief recommendation for adoption of the plan here, he pointed out. Treaty restrictions forced the Nazis to learn to fly in motorless ships, he explained, and as a result the world's best gliders and sailplanes were developed there. All records for distance, altitude, and duration of flight were shattered by the Germans.

The most important result, however, is described in the statement of Ernst Udet, German flying ace, quoted by McDonald: "Germany's greatest flyers came from the 250,000 to 300,000 youths who were made air conscious and trained in gliders."

Maj. Al Williams, an American aviation authority, also indorses glider training, McDonald asserted. He said that Maj. Williams had told him a glider trained pilot knows how to conserve energy and use air currents in a manner that most motor trained pilots never learn.

Imported from Germany.

There are fewer than 1,000 gliders and sailplanes in the United States, McDonald said, and most of the better ones are imported from Germany. Prices range upward from $700. Negotiations for mass production have already been opened with large manufacturers, McDonald said, and he has begun a campaign to interest the federal government in providing funds for glider training.

The principal advantages of gliders as trainers were listed by McDonald. They include low expense, safety, speed, and availability. He said that he had learned to fly a glider in less than an hour. He estimated that 10 hours' instruction would be enough to train a glider pilot to use a motor plane.

Gliding Spots Found.

Gliders and sailplanes can be operated almost anywhere, McDonald said. One of the best spots in the country is at Frankfort, Mich. Recently Joliet was found to have unusually favorable conditions for soaring, and production of sailplanes is getting under way in a new factory there.

The safety of gliders, he illustrated by referring to a class of 20 students who began taking instruction at Frankfort recently. All were in the air two hours after they began taking lessons. None had even a slight accident.

GERMAN RADIOS STILL; EXTENSIVE RAIDS INDICATED

Nazis Make New Flights Over England.

LONDON, July 16, Tuesday (AP).—British flyers were believed early today to be ranging far and wide over Germany as at least 12 German and German controled radio stations, almost as far east as the old Polish border, went off the air—the usual mute signal that raiders were in their vicinity.

The Germans, on their part, were reported over northeast England late last night but no bombs were dropped and no gunfire was heard.

The stations silenced suddenly were at Bremen, Cologne, Munich, Leipzig, Berlin, Breslau, Frankfurt, Saarbrucken, Vienna, Brussels, Hilversum and Strasbourg.

If the British actually were raiding on such a wide scale over Germany, they were resuming heavy aerial attacks of the last few days.

Raid 22 Nazi Airdromes.

Earlier, the air ministry annnounced that British flyers rained explosives on 22 German airdromes during the last 48 hours.

British raiders also attacked an aircraft factory at Bremen, aircraft stores at Paderborn and Diepholz, oil plants and refineries at Gelsenkirchen, Hamburg, and Bremen, and freight yards at Hamm and Soest, the ministry said.

"Fires and explosions resulted and considerable damage was done," the communique said.

Two British planes failed to return.

The attackers' bombs also fell on objectives in the old gabled Belgian city of Ghent, setting several oil tanks afire.

Nazi Raids Reduced.

Nazi air raids yesterday were slight, the British declared. Four persons were killed and 11 injured when bombs fell in southeast England and South Wales.

The 670 ton British submarine Shark is overdue and "presumed lost," the admiralty reported. The vessel normally carried a crew of 40 and was commanded by Lieutenant Commander P. N. Buckley.

Increased British exports to the United States were cited yesterday as proof that Britain is "not a beleaguered island." Sir Cecil Weir, chairman of the overseas committee of the Association of British Chambers of Commerce said Scotch whisky shipments doubled in May and carpets were up 60 per cent.

Britain, ready for a long war, and waiting for the day when she can seize the offensive, ordered the removal of 8,500 more children from southeastern coastal areas in anticipation of the German invasion.

A ministry of health announcement said the new exodus of children from the southeast coast towns of East Bourne, Hastings, Bexhill, Rye, Newhaven, Worthing, and Seaford will begin next Sunday.

Bombs Near Copenhagen.

STOCKHOLM, July 15 (AP).—The Scandinavian radio reported that British planes bombarded a district around Copenhagen, Denmark, for about an hour tonight. The sound of bombs and anti-aircraft guns could be heard across the Oresund at the Swedish city of Malmo, the radio reported. The Copenhagen-Malmo telephone line was out for a time.

Sink 17,000 Tons of Ships.

BERLIN, July 15 (AP).—Three British merchantmen, totalling 17,000 tons, were sunk, and a destroyer, an auxiliary cruiser and four other merchant ships were damaged on Sunday by German bombers which raided convoys in the English channel, the German high command said today.

During the night of July 14-15, British planes "dropped bombs aimlessly" in northern and western Germany, causing slight property damage, the communique said.

Two British planes were reported shot down by antiaircraft fire while German fighting planes accounted for another.

The high command spoke of raids on port facilities, airports, and armament industries in southern England, which caused fires and explosions, particularly at Faversham.

DNB, the official German news agency, reported the return to Germany of 3,400 German civilians who were interned in France. The agency said 1,200 others still were in French colonies.

BESIEGED BRITISH TROOPS ABANDON AFRICA MUD FORT

Retreating Unit Faces 150 Miles of Desert.

ALEXANDRIA, Egypt, July 15 (AP).—A small beleaguered British garrison in Fort Moyale on the Ethiopia-Kenya frontier withdrew tonight under heavy Italian attacks, a British communique announced.

The British disclosed that Italian forces had surrounded the fort in the last five days of fighting and the fort was abandoned "according to plan and without incident."

The garrison inflicted heavy losses on the Italians during five days of siege, the British said, and withstood heavy shelling and air attacks for 10 days. British casualties were slight, it was said.

Occupancy of the red mud fort gave the Italians a foothold on the border of the British Kenya colony, but the British regarded the position as of little strategic importance, since it is 450 arid miles from Addis Ababa.

Bombs Fire Italian Stores.

CAIRO, Egypt, July 15 (AP).—Heavy fires resulted from British air force bombing raids on Italian stores and barracks in Eritrea, a royal air force communique announced today.

"A formation of our bombers raided stores and barracks south of Assab [Eritrea]," the communique said. "Fires were started which could be seen for 30 miles.

"Shipping in Tobruk harbor [Libya] again was attacked by our bombers. Full results are not yet known but a column of black smoke was observed on the south shore after one attack. All our aircraft returned safely.

Italian Plane Downed.

"It is now confirmed that, after an enemy attack on Wajir [Kenya] on July 11, one enemy fighter was shot down by antiaircraft fire, the machine crashing at Derkali. The crew of three was killed.

"In the same engagement another fighter, after being attacked by two fighters of the South African air force, made off with one engine smoking badly."

BALTIC NATIONS VOTE "YES" FOR RED PARLIAMENTS

RIGA, Latvia, July 15 (AP).—Neighboring Lithuania, with almost a 100 per cent affirmative vote, led Latvia and Estonia today in electing unopposed delegates to new parliaments to carry out sovietization of the three Baltic states. The voters could vote only "yes."

Riga workers marched to the polls in a procession bearing placards and portraits of leaders of the soviet union.

[The Stockholm Aftonbladet in a dispatch from Tallinn, Estonia, said the names of former President Tonnisson and former Foreign Minister Piip had been removed from the ballots for alleged "war mongering and activities as enemies of the people."]

DEMANDS FRANCE RECALL ENVOY WHO WED JEWESS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, July 11 [Delayed, by courier to Berlin].—Attacks against the Jews in Paris newspapers are increasing in violence. The L'Essence Autrava today demands the recall of Adrien Thierry, French minister to Rumania, on the grounds that his wife, Nadine de Rothschild, is a Jewess.

"It is quite impossible," this paper writes, "to allow a Jewess to represent France in a country that has decided to eliminate this race."

Other papers print lists of Paris theaters and movie houses owned or operated by Jews, demanding that they be confiscated and turned over to Aryans.

BRITAIN'S AIR FORCE ADMITS IT IS SHORT OF TRAINED WAR PILOTS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, July 15.—Great Britain, thru its air ministry, today announced it lacks sufficient trained pilots and wireless operators. Heretofore, there was believed to be more trained British pilots than planes for them to fly. This has been changed, the air ministry explained, for these reasons:

1. Almost all pilots in the French air force, many of whom would have flown British planes, are now lost to the British cause.

2. A number of training schools for pilots in France, and in Morocco are now unavailable.

3. Unusually severe weather delayed the training of pilots last winter.

4. The production of planes in both England and America is increasing rapidly.

The air ministry said trained aviators seeking to join the air force must be between the ages of 18 and 32 with at least 250 hours of solo flying to their credit.

EDITH CAVELL ART GROUP IN PARIS DOOMED BY NAZIS

PARIS, July 12 [via Berlin] [Delayed].—German authorities have taken all works of art in Paris under their protection. They have respected statues, busts and other public works of art, altho for esthetic or other reasons they have condemned certain statuary.

Included among the condemned works is the Gen. Mangin group behind the Invalides and the Edith Cavell relief on the east end of the Jeu de Paume museum in the Tuileries gardens.

Gen. Charles Marie Emmanuel Mangin was an advocate of colonial troops, and the stone figures of four Negro soldiers form an honor guard at the base of his statue. Edith Cavell was a British nurse shot by the Germans as a spy in the world war.

HOLLAND CUTS ITS ARMY TO A SKELETON FORCE

AMSTERDAM, the Netherlands, July 15 (AP).—The Netherlands army, defeated, interned and released, today virtually ceased to exist as a fighting force.

Leaving only a skeleton organization, 55,000 men were transferred to reconstruction projects and about 400,000 returned to civil life.

At the Hague, the newspaper Het Vanerland reported that the only American films which may be shown will be those approved for showing in Germany.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, July 15.—Members of Germany's royal Hohenzollern family now in the army have been withdrawn from the front lines. They have been assigned to posts away from the scenes of action. The change resulted from the deaths of Prince Friedrich Wilhelm, grandson of the kaiser, who was killed in action in Belgium, and other princes serving with the army.

RAID GIBRALTAR 4 TIMES; REPORT 2 WARSHIPS HIT

Tell of Smoke Over Hood and Ark Royal.

LA LINEA, Spain, July 15 (AP).—Columns of smoke were seen ascending from the British battle cruiser Hood and aircraft carrier Ark Royal yesterday as bombs from raiding planes fell near their anchorage at Gibraltar. The 42,000 ton Hood is the largest warship afloat.

Several persons in La Linea were wounded by fragments of antiaircraft shells as ground defense fire followed the planes across Spanish territory.

Persons arriving here from Gibraltar said authorities were rigidly controling information on results of the raids.

The British admitted Italian planes attempted to bomb the Hood and Ark Royal last week, but denied either was hit. Italian reports said they were hit and laid up for repairs at Gibraltar.

[A British broadcasting company denial that Gibraltar had been bombed was heard in New York.]

Hint Axis Offer to Britain.

ROME, July 15 (AP).—A forecast was flung out in Italy today that the axis powers in a few days would give Britain her chance to line up with their "renovating, restorative" plan for a new Europe—or else face an onslaught of arms to force her "final overthrow."

The authoritative Fascist editor, Virginio Gayda, hinted that an ultimatum to that effect would be forthcoming. Gayda's editorials in Il Giornale d'Italia frequently are regarded as the voice of Premier Mussolini himself. Gayda's declaration seemed an answer to Prime Minister Churchill's defiant speech on Sunday.

Stab at British Fleet.

While Gayda made his prediction the Italian air force stabbed at the British fleet in the Mediterranean. These aerial forays, the Italian high command declared, cost the British two submarines and a destroyer over the week-end.

The British fleet was declared to be heading home to Alexandria, harassed by bombing planes, after an ill starred foray into the open sea.

The air fighting in the Mediterranean area and in Africa cost the British 10 planes over the week-end, said the high command, adding that Italian scouting planes had turned their machine guns on British troops near Buna, East Africa.

Danger Off Italian Coast.

LONDON, July 15 (AP).—The British admiralty gave notice tonight that "all vessels navigating within 30 miles of any Italian territory in the Mediterranean will do so at their own risk and peril." The presumption was that these waters now have been mined by the British.

Palestine Harbor Bombed.

JERUSALEM, July 15 (AP).—A number of "enemy" planes dropped bombs in the Haifa area this morning. Some damage was done and there were a few casualties. It was the first raid of the war on the Holy Land. The raiders were driven off by antiaircraft fire.

Here's Britain's Official Story of Naval Battle with Italians

LONDON, July 15 (AP).—At the cost of three men the British navy damaged an Italian battleship and a cruiser and destroyed five planes in the pursuit of a heavy Italian squadron in last Tuesday's [July 9] central Mediterranean battle, the admiralty announced tonight.

Its communique, amplifying previous accounts, said the Italian forces comprised two battleships, "a large number" of heavy cruisers, and 25 destroyers, all of which fled as soon as they came within extreme range.

Exchange a Few Salvos.

The battleships exchanged a few salvos, with the British claiming one hit. British "swordfish" planes [torpedo carriers] hit an Italian cruiser, and pursuit planes downed five Fascist fighters, the British said.

Then, in sight of land, the British said their squadron stood offshore the rest of the day, waiting in vain for the Italians to come out and fight.

Finally they returned to their duties as a convoy for ships which "have now arrived at their destination in safety."

Caused by Bomb Splinters.

It was in this phase, the admiralty reported, that bomb splinters from "near misses" by Italian planes caused three British casualties.

In a brush in the western Mediterranean on the same day the British reiterated they could find no Italian surface ships and that no British ships, including the battle cruiser Hood and the aircraft carrier Ark Royal, suffered any damage from Italian planes, four of which were destroyed.

[The Italians claimed the Hood and Ark Royal were hit and said the British fled from the other engagement.]

PLANE CRASHES INTO BLUFF; 5 LIVES ARE LOST

Markleeville, Cal., July 15 (AP).—A small plane carrying two couples from a wedding party in Reno to their homes in Los Angeles crashed into a rock bluff, killing the pilot and four passengers.

The accident occurred late yesterday, but searching parties did not locate the wreckage until 12 hours later.

The dead were: Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bruce Mills, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Cummings, and Clyde H. Hodges, the pilot, all of Los Angeles.

2 Canadian Flyers Killed as Plane Dives Into Harbor

DARTMOUTH, Nova Scotia, July 15 (AP).—Two members of the Royal Canadian air force, Flight Officer J. J. Lalonde of Montreal and Corp. M. J. Armitage of South March, Ont., were killed on maneuvers today when their plane crashed into Halifax Harbor. The craft sank, carrying the men with it.

BIRMINGHAM, England, July 15 (AP).—Arthur Fitzgerald, William O'Hanlon and Terence Perry, members of the outlawed Irish Republican Army, were sentenced today to 10, eight and six years, respectively, for possession of ammunition and explosives.

GERMAN TROOPS TO HAIL VICTORY IN BERLIN PARADE

Nazis Erect Stands for Triumphal Fete.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, July 15.—Stands are being erected in front of buildings, including the American embassy, on Berlin's main square and Unter den Linden, near the Brandenburg gate in Berlin.

For more than a week it was understood that a triumphal parade was being prepared, but its mention would have ranked as a military secret which foreign correspondents are not supposed to touch upon.

Hitler to Be Absent.

Now that the stands are actually rising, authorities admit that sometime this week the division which left the Berlin area for the battle for the Low Countries, and for France will march in a victory parade in the German capital.

Adolf Hitler, it is asserted, will not be present. He is now in Bavaria.

Loudspeakers have been set up along Unter den Linden, in the Wilhelmstrasse, and near a number of official buildings.

Troops Enjoy Sun Baths.

Soldiers on duty on the roofs of the tallest structures in the heart of Berlin, manning the air defenses, can be seen enjoying sun baths as they maintain a lookout for enemy raiders.

LONDON, July 15 (AP).—The Rev. R. G. C. Graham, rector of Old Bolingbroke, was sentenced today to four weeks' imprisonment for ringing church bells for Sunday service June 16 in violation of a defense order that they be rung only to warn of invasion. Despite the rector's protest that he was ignorant of the order, the judge held the ringing was "intentional and deliberate."

CHINA PROTESTS BRITISH PLAN TO SHUT 'LIFELINE'

Brands Scheme to Block Burma Road Unfriendly.

BY LARRY RUE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, July 15.—China today formally protested to the British foreign office against the proposed closing of the Burma road to the transportation of war supplies to Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, dictator of the Chinese central government. The protest described the proposal as an "unfriendly act."

Prior to submission of the protest by Ambassador Quo Tai-chi, a spokesman of the British foreign office defended the government's consent to Japanese demands for stopping the shipment of war supplies over this route.

China has depended chiefly on this route, which the Chinese describe as their "lifeline," for its supplies since the Japanese sealed the other "lifeline" thru French Indo China. Even in London it was admitted that the Burma road—segment of the famed "road to Mandalay"—is the only route over which American shipments can reach their destination.

Britain Expresses Regret.

The foreign office spokesman asserted that England agreed to close the road only for three months during which time, it is hoped, tension in the far east may be lessened so that a peaceful settlement of the Chinese-Japanese war and the British-Japanese differences can be achieved.

Regret was expressed in regard to China's attitude, but the spokesman explained that the Chungking government's interests would be better served by Britain concentrating on its war effort against Germany. He said the defeat of Britain by Germany would make it impossible for England to do anything to aid China.

The presence of the American fleet in Hawaiian waters is regarded as having a restraining effect on Japan in the Far East, the spokesman declared. He added that the American government had been kept informed of British intentions thruout the negotiations, but said he saw no prospect for British-American collaboration.

"Both countries must be prepared to take their own course," he added.

[Secretary of State Cordell Hull in Washington said the United States continues to pursue an independent policy in the far east.]

Offers to Mediate War.

The spokesman attributed increasing tension in the orient to German pressure on the Japanese government. However, he said he did not believe Japan would permit Germany or any other occidental power to influence Tokio's policy if it could prevent it.

He reaffirmed Britain's willingness to serve as peacemaker in the Chinese-Japanese war, and denied his government was attempting to coerce China.

Britain, he said, retained "freedom of action" if the settlement did not meet with the approval of China, Japan, and third powers concerned.

The spokesman insisted that the closing of the Burma road would not greatly handicap China as traffic was almost at a standstill in that period.

Chinese spokesmen protested against this statement. They maintained that even the moral effect of closing the route would discourage China and encourage the Japanese.

Add "Insult to Injury."

These circles said the linking of the proposed closure of the Burma route with the offer to mediate the Chinese-Japanese war was adding insult to injury.

"The Chinese government," they said, "is no more ready to negotiate peace with Japan, dominated by militarists, than Britain is ready to negotiate with Nazi Germany."

From Chungking came angry reaction to the British proposals. One official said:

"If France is betraying China it would serve France, Britain, and even the United States right if China made peace with Japan, freeing the latter for military action in southeastern Asia."

Jap Navy Opens Operations.

SHANGHAI, July 16, Tuesday (AP).—The Japanese navy announced today it had opened operations early today against the Hanchow bay area with warships, marines, and aircraft. The area includes the important treaty port of Ningpo, through which extensive trade has been maintained with the Chinese territory governed by Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's regime. Japanese had not taken action against Ningpo previously because, they explained, though it served the Chinese it also provided a valuable outlet for Japanese merchandise. The Hangchow bay area, 100 miles southwest of Shanghai, is one of the places on the coasts of Chekiang and Fukien provinces listed in a Japanese proclamation yesterday as barred to traffic of all ships.

China Hits U. S. Trade; Bans Imported Luxuries

CHUNGKING, China, July 15 (AP).—The Chinese government banned today the sale within China of all imported luxuries, an edict halting a flow of American products estimated at $20,000,000 annually. It will be effective Oct. 1. The list includes tobaccos, spirits, sea foods, canned foods, and toilet articles.

The large map shows railway-highway link between Rangoon and Chungking, China's capital, over which China has been importing war materials with which to oppose Japan. CENSORSHIP WOES IN FRANCE TOLD BY PARIS PAPER

Forced to Satisfy the 'Official Viewpoint.'

[Copyright: 1940: By the New York Times.]

PARIS, via Berlin, July 12 [Delayed].—The newspaper Matin tonight published what allegedly is the whole truth about the French wartime censorship as it was exercised under various régimes, notably those of Jean Giraudoux and Louis Frossard.

The newspaper said it was threatened with various degrees of punishment ranging to cancellation of its publishing license if at any time it deviated from the "official viewpoint."

What the official viewpoint was in a number of cases was specified by the paper. On May 5, it said, official instructions were not to speak of the German minelaying activities in the strait of Calais; on May 10, when the war on the west began, newspapers were prohibited from giving any details of the German bombardments that day.

Ban Bad News of Planes.

No mention could be made as to the number of fighter planes shot down, the paper said. On May 12, Matin was warned not to publish news of German bombardments and troop movements beyond those given in the official communiques.

On June 4 the censor's order of the day was to play up Prime Minister Winston Churchill's speech and to "forget" military news. The day after, instructions read:

"All military news beyond the communique items and those given out at the daily press conference of the army spokesman will be mercilessly censored."

On May 13, the paper continued, it was told it was to refrain from any reference to the evacuation of civilians as well as to the refugee hordes trekking southwards from Holland and Belgium.

Shortcomings in production now proven to have been serious, could not be written about, according to the Matin. On June 1, when production was far from meeting the nation's requirements, Matin said it was told not to mention that Sunday was a day of rest in certain factories.

Restrictions Covered Up.

On May Day the newspaper was told it could not mention the liquor restrictions decreed by the cabinet. On May 5, the following orders were issued:

"Censorship headquarters must be consulted regarding all news on the Polish brigade in Norway before it can even be typewritten or otherwise edited for publication."

On May 26, Matin was told not to talk of Sir Samuel Hoare, British ambassador sent to Spain, or of Sir Stafford Cripps, British ambassador going to Moscow. The day before, Ireland could not be mentioned. On June 2, newspapers could not mention the Madrid demonstrations in front of the British embassy.

The newspaper concluded its piece as follows:

"When the French army disaster became accentuated the censorship authorities completely lost their heads, decreeing even complete silence at that very time when public opinion ought to have been informed about the truth.

RUMANIA TAKES OVER TANK CARS; U. S. FIRMS ARE HIT BY DECREE

BUCHAREST, Rumania, July 15 (AP).—The Rumanian government today requisitioned all the country's 9,000 tank cars, including 1,000 either owned or leased by United States interests.

The companies now must apply to the government for cars, telling how many they need and where they are shipping them.

Rumanian guards, at the same time, took British chartered French ships up the Danube river to prevent any possibility that they might leave secretly for Istanbul, Turkey.

Wants Bulgaria Satisfied.

ISTANBUL, Turkey, July 15 (AP).—Settlement of Bulgaria's "natural and legitimate" territorial claims upon her neighbors is necessary for lasting peace to the Balkans, the Turkish newspaper Tasviri Efkar declared today in an apparently inspired article.

The paper warned, however, that the settlement should be brought about by the Balkan nations themselves without appealing to any foreign powers—such as Germany or soviet Russia.

Foreign observers interpreted the article in effect as a suggestion for Rumania to cede Dobruja, Greece to cede an outlet to the Aegean sea, and Jugo-Slavia to give up certain frontier territories to Bulgaria.

'MY AUNT' BACK IN PARIS TO AID HER 'RELATIVES'

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, July 11 [Delayed] [By courier to Berlin].—Reports that the Mont-de-Piété, historic municipal pawnshop of Paris, will resume operations soon were received with relief today by thousands of Parisians who are finding it more and more difficult to make both ends meet under the existing circumstances.

At the outbreak of the war, Mont-de-Piete transported all valuables in its possession, including hundreds of millions of francs worth of jewelry, to Ville-Franche de Rouergue, a remote provincial town, where they have been ever since.

Persons either were unable to reclaim their belongings or to raise money by pawning their possessions. Now the Mont-de-Piété, popularly known as "My aunt," is returning to its headquarters on the left bank of the Seine where it has helped to tide over many students and jobless workers.

U. S. PROPERTY IN FRANCE HAS LIGHT WAR TOLL

Cable, Oil Companies Held Biggest Losers.

PARIS, July 12 [Via Berlin] [Delayed] (AP).—American property in France has emerged from the war with relatively small damage. American officials said no estimate of total losses was available, but that reports received since France made terms with Germany indicated damages had been held to a minimum.

More than 1,000 notices signed by Tyler Thompson of New York, third secretary of the embassy, had been posted on American property, certifying to its ownership. In general, property bearing the notices was untouched, it was asserted.

American oil companies, which were ordered by the retreating French to destroy their supplies, and communications companies, whose coastal cableheads came under heavy fire, were believed to be among the heaviest losers.

Nazis Use Two Homes.

Two private American homes at Versailles, those of James Hazen Hyde and Mrs. James Gordon Bennett, were requisitioned by the Germans. Hyde's home, a showplace, was ransacked and books from its famous library were scattered. Later German troops were quartered there and in Mrs. Bennett's home.

Another group of Germans was assigned to Thompson's house at Saint Cloud, but left on learning that it was the property of an American official.

Thomas Calnan, an American manufacturer at Montmorency, informed the embassy that all windows in his house were shattered when the French blew up a fort there, and that other homes near by were sacked.

American Owned Houses Looted.

Two automobiles were confiscated from the estate of Henry Church at Villa d'Aveny, but Louis Dardel, vice mayor of the town, notified the embassy that receipts for the cars had been delivered by the German authorities. Two American-owned houses at Chamant, property of Harlan Page Rowe and Ogden Bishop, were looted during the fighting north of Paris.

Another loss was that of 150,000 American cigarets consigned to William C. Bullitt, American ambassador. They disappeared at the border. German authorities have promised to trace them.

A temporary embassy branch established in Charles Bedaux's Château de Cande, where the duke and duchess of Windsor were married, has been closed. Bedaux remains there. The embassy staff has returned to Paris.

CLIPPER LEAVES CANTON ISLE FOR NEW CALEDONIA

CANTON ISLAND, July 15 (AP).—The Pan American Clipper, inaugurating air service between California and New Zealand, left at 6:34 a. m. today on the 1,988 mile flight to Noumea, New Caledonia, third leg of its flight.

The 42 ton ship, carrying 25 nonpaying passengers, a crew of 10 and mail, arrived here from Honolulu. It flew the 1,915 miles to this tiny Atoll southwest of Honolulu in 12 hours, 30 minutes.

The Clipper began its oversea flight from San Francisco and Los Angeles Friday, arrived at Honolulu Saturday and departed for Canton Island early yesterday. The distance to Auckland, New Zealand, from Noumea is 1,124 miles. Pan-American expects to cover the 8,008 miles to Auckland in five days as compared to the 17 required by steamers.

Anti-Gossip Law Stirs Debate on Free Speech in England

BY LARRY RUE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, July 15.—They can put you in jail now for expressing your opinion privately and this fact and its enforcement in certain cases already has brought the matter before the Law Society, composed of Britain's 16,000 solicitors.

The defense regulations, providing a fine and imprisonment for people "who publish any report or statement connected with the war which is likely to cause alarm or despondency" already have been the subject of questioning in the house of commons. Now they have hit at the legal profession in hampering the thoro presentation of law cases. A committee of the Law Society will study the question, it was reported tonight.

Opportunity for Spite.

Rigid enforcement of the regulations, it is pointed out, means that expression of private opinions will be severely curtailed and provide many opportunities for petty spite and revenge.

A lawyer said today that "anyone of us, loyal tho we may be, might be haled before a court at any time for the opinions we express. It is unnecessary for the prosecution to prove that any alleged statement has caused alarm or despondency, but merely that it is likely to cause these things."

The drawback to enforcement has been the tremendous publicity given to statements. Mention is made of persons who recently were fined 10 pounds [about $38] for expressing the opinion that Adolf Hitler would win the war.

It has been asserted that original expressions of an opinion such as this could not influence more than a handful of people, while widespread publication brings it to many thousands who might take the comment seriously.

Judges Forego Vacations.

Test cases arising from enforcement of dictatorial wartime regulations have become so complex and numerous that even high court judges are abandoning their annual "long vacations," which usually last 10 weeks.

Albert Joseph Richards, 74 years old, was sentenced to seven days' imprisonment for "spreading a war rumor likely to cause alarm." Sybil Morrison, 47, went to jail for a month for using "insulting words" at a meeting in Hyde Park, once known as Britain's free speech safety valve. She was organizing a women's peace campaign.

Arthur Bradbury, a member of the Peace Pledge union and a police clerk, was sent to jail for three months for having in his possession documents giving the names, addresses, and telephone numbers of police stations and certain courts in the metropolitan area. A letter from a German girl friend, written before the war began, was found in his possession, but it was described as innocuous.

Mrs. Lillian Mary Mackenzie of Bath, was fined 5 pounds [about $19.30] for obtaining butter and bacon from Ireland without the authority of the food ministry. The prosecutor charged that this took unfair advantage of the rest of the community, and said the minister of food regarded it as a grave offense.

Battle Against Censor.

The press and certain members of parliament have been vigilant regarding proposals for compulsory newspaper censorship. The Newspaper World declared that Afred Duff Cooper's proposal for this, altho getting a cold reception from the publisheds, is "not yet abandoned."

Ernest Shinwell, a Laborite, speaking at Hanley, expressed hope that the government will not "make the mistake of interfering with the freedom of the press or free expression of opinions so long as these views are not subversive."

He added that "to suppress opinions leaves the public without an effective means of dealing with rumors or affirming sound criticisms of government policy. That, as we have already seen, did more harm than good in those countries which fell before Hitler."

He demanded a "frank statement" from Duff Cooper, saying that "he is the last man from whom we expect suppression of criticism."

WARNS FRENCH TROOPS TO SHED THEIR UNIFORMS

GRENOBLE, France, July 15 (AP).—Military and civil authorities here warned demobilized French soldiers today that they ran the risk of imprisonment by continuing to wear their uniforms in the city's streets.

"Some demobilized men, instead of returning immediately to their homes and donning civilian clothes," said a communique published in Le Petit Dauphinois, "still are in Grenoble dressed in dirty uniforms.

"They apparently think that by offering such a lamentable spectacle they thereby avoid military discipline. On the contrary, they are warned that any one in uniform is subject to military law, including imprisonment, for failure to obey the demobilization order."

QUEZON DEMANDS SWEEPING POWER OVER FILIPINOS

War Compels Control of Ships, Food, He Says.

MANILA, P. I., July 15 (AP).—Sweeping special powers, including the right to commandeer the services of any Filipino citizen, were asked today by President Manuel Quezon in a special message to the national assembly.

Manuel Quezon.

He said the powers were needed to meet economic problems growing out of the European war.

Quezon requested authority to control the commonwealth's food resources, to require all citizens to render personal civil service, to prevent strikes and "unwholesome social agitation," and to commandeer ships.

Export Prices Low, He Says.

No one ever thought, Quezon asserted, that during the present critical period of preparing for independence the Philippines would be confronted by such chaotic world conditions as exist today. The nation is scheduled to achieve the status of an independent union in 1946.

Trade with Europe virtually has stopped, Quezon said. Export prices are at their lowest level, and some prices are almost below the cost of production, he asserted.

Predicts More Unemployment.

The Philippines, he added, face increased unemployment and a decline in the purchasing power of the people. Quezon urged speeding up domestic agriculture, commerce, and industry.

Japan Limits Exports

TOKIO, July 16, Tuesday (AP).—The Japanese foreign office announced today that Japanese exporters have agreed to continue for the next year a voluntary limitation of exports of cotton piece goods to the Philippine Islands to 53,820,000 square yards. The agreement followed negotiations conducted thru the embassy at Washington, D. C.

INDISPENSABLE TO WHAT?

The Democratic delegates apparently expect to be drafted to draft the indispensable man. Some of them are more than willing because they want to complete their revolution. Others demand it because they see no other way of continuing in their prerogatives and the consequent personal prosperity. Some do not like it but fear they will have to take it. Some undoubtedly feel that it is the worst of all times to break what the Democratic national convention of 1896 declared was the unwritten law of the country.

How many of these delegates deep in their inner minds realize that they will do the nation the greatest disservice now possible for any men to do is known to no one but these men themselves. Patriotism is not absent from this convention but it may be in abeyance. It may be smothered by sophistries or dulled by self-interest.

Unless the delegates are completely in the dark, it is soon to be revealed that the great secret so long cultivated in the White House is that Mr. Roosevelt all along has been determined to have a third term, has used all methods known to politics—and some hitherto unknown—to get it, will demand it, and will take it. If this isn't what is to happen, there will be a convention of fooled delegates. The excuse for this betrayal of national interest will be the indispensability of the man who wants to be the first to break a tradition and a usage honored and respected before his time.

Eight years ago in Chicago a Democratic national convention nominated Mr. Roosevelt in what was called then, as it is now, a great national crisis. He won the nomination and he won the election. Immediately after the election and because of it and before the change in administration every ill from which the country suffered was multiplied tenfold. Altho no one could foresee what the new man would do, the premonitions of something hidden but menacing began to give further alarm to the already shaken economic structure.

Just when a little more confidence might have pulled the country out of its depression, the lack of confidence drove it deeper in. When the indispensable man took office in March seven years ago he had what he apparently liked, a country in panic. He had seen it coming and he was ready to take up the dictatorial powers which he will never willingly relinquish. He began the makeover of the American system of government and for seven years has hurried the country away from its system of free, representative democracy, in a turmoil of newly created class antagonisms and in a turmoil of threats of war. He took office declaring that debt and federal spending would fill the streets with idle men and ruin the republic. As a prophet he proceeded to verify his own statements. He was in position to do so.

He is now indispensable to what? To the continuous accumulation of national indebtedness which he said would destroy the country? To the destruction of private enterprise which he has never given a chance to breathe freely? To the expropriation of private property by confiscatory taxation?

Is he indispensable to the perpetuation of national despair? To the success of the socialization of national resources? To the Hitlerizing of the national economy and the goosestepping of management and labor?

Is he indispensable to the conscription of Americans for peace and war alike? Is he indispensable for the intervention by the United States in wars wherever they can be found? Is Mr. Roosevelt the man domestic conflict cannot do without? Is he the man without whom this country cannot send its troops abroad? Is he indispensable to the continuance of unemployment and to the destruction of the country's business as conducted by private individuals?

Without him would it be impossible to substitute for the American system and way of living the system and way of life which prevails in Europe? Couldn't this nation go down under its weight of debt, the inflation of its currency and the destruction of its values unless he had a third term? If these are critical times for the American people at home and abroad, what person has thrived on these crises, multiplying them and increasing them, nourishing each by word and act until, as the master of accumulated effects, he asks to be the first man to occupy the White House for a third term? Mr. Roosevelt is the indispensable man who has done this.

Mr. Roosevelt may be indispensable to war, confusion, class antagonisms, and attacks upon industry, to the promotion of autocracy, to the creation of dictatorship, to the spread of socialism and its natural offspring, communism, to the subversion of everything that has made America great and safe, but he is not indispensable to the welfare of this country. He is its enemy.

The Democratic convention may do what its delegates seem to be prepared to do. They may break down the great unwritten law of the American political system. If they do so, they can return to their homes knowing that they have done something which the country may regret for a generation, if not for many generations. They will have established as a precedent for this republic, if it remains a republic, that if a man in authority can lay his hands upon the public funds, if he can intrench himself in public debt, he can then control the supposedly free men of the nation by taking their money and distributing it in subsidies and doles. By fattening the proper fellows he can rule this country as easily as a man could rule the Roman mob by giving it cakes and circuses. It has happened before and the road back is decorated with the tombstones of peoples who permitted it or had it forced upon them.

CALL OUT THE RELIEFERS.

The Roosevelt administration is committed to the immediate summoning into federal service of 50,000 men of the National Guard. The announcement came directly from the White House. About the same time spokesmen for the army and navy were appearing before congressional committees to demand a general conscription law. There is every reason to believe and no reason to doubt that the opinions there expressed were uttered with the approval of Mr. Roosevelt as commander in chief. He had already indorsed the principle of conscription and his subordinates could hardly have dared to commit themselves to details without his consent.

The calling of the guard and the enactment of conscription are intended, presumably, to increase the active strength of the army. The methods chosen by the President are those calculated to cause the maximum disturbance to the economic life of the country.

In Illinois alone there are 62,150 young men on WPA or relief who might be encouraged to enlist. There are other thousands of young men from Illinois in CCC camps. In the nation as a whole the young men in these categories are counted in millions. All of them are unemployed. Some of them are physically or mentally handicapped, but it is altogether certain that from their numbers the army can recruit as many fully qualified men as it can absorb for many months to come.

The vast majority of the men in the guard are employed, and the same can be said of the majority of those who are likely to be conscripted. When they are ordered to camp their dependents will have to be provided for. That will mean that, in the aggregate, more families will be dependent on the dole than before. At the same time the replacement of great numbers of men in trade and industry will promote at least a temporary disorganization of production, a disorganization which could be avoided if Mr. Roosevelt were not determined, as he is, to create a war hysteria in America.

If he wanted merely to increase the army as rapidly as possible, with the least disturbance possible, he would invite enlistments from among those who are already being supported by the taxpayers.

EUROPE UNDER THE NAZIS.

Recently the German military commander in the Netherlands, Gen. Christiansen, told the people that if they allowed the growth of a hostile or incorrect attitude they would all suffer for it. He reminded them that Gen. Winkelman, former Dutch commander in chief, had been sent into Germany as a prisoner of war because he had not exercised proper control over the demobilized Dutch army. The Nazis demanded a lively appreciation of their goodness to the Dutch people.

At present in the occupied territories which the Germans have overrun, as well as in territories which they have intimidated into complaisance, the people may think that anything is better than the terror which they experienced or which they have been fortunate to avoid. They may be for peace at any price, on any conditions presented by the invader. They want to catch their breath and recover their nerve. There is, however, no guaranty of permanent tranquility in such conditions.

Germany has undertaken to police nearly all of continental Europe outside of Russia. For two years the Nazis have been overrunning lands, putting people under their rule, using many of them harshly as inferiors and subjecting their national instincts to indignities. These things are hard to bear and it is not the Nazi disposition to make them easier. The Nazi governors are not soft with their own people. They are intolerant of others.

The German army, in the field at full strength and nowhere on the continent opposed by armed forces, is entirely competent, even without the aid of Himmler's police, to maintain order and repress any display of discontent. The Netherlands incident reveals the alertness of the military command. The subjugated peoples are stunned and timid, but these are not conditions of permanence.

The era of the balance of powers ended by the other world war was followed by the frustrated and futile era of contract when nations found they could not conduct their affairs by the good faith of agreements, treaties, and stipulations, by bilateral or general contracts for the settlement of difficulties and the maintenance of peace. Contractural relations require good faith. The era of contract lacked its necessary essential.

Now Germany is consolidating Europe by force, ushering in the era of mastery and submissiveness. Rome was successful at it, but over a long period the Roman lawmaker produced tranquility and the Roman legion was not a necessity everywhere inside the wall. Can Germany make its mastery stick over Poles, Czechs, Moravians, Norwegians, Dutch, Belgians, and French, to mention only the conquered, if a peace permits the Nazis to shape the government, the economics, the social order, and the ideas of nearly all of Europe? The nationalist feelings are outraged. Europe is a large area for long time subjection by a one nation police force.

Editorial of the Day

[Illinois State Journal.]

Editor and Publisher, trade magazine for the newspaper world, reports that aides to the President have proposed a program for handling all news from government bureaus in Washington thru a single office, presumably under the thumb of the White House. As it now is each department hands out its own news. This news is not only handed out to reporters in Washington but bales of it are mailed out from Washington to newspapers all over the country. Every editor's office is cluttered up with this material, most of it propaganda.

That's why we doubt if much comes of this scheme. One office couldn't handle the volume of material ground out by the mimeograph machines of the federal government. In addition, the officials of various bureaus which were deprived of their right to give out news would probably give it to reporters anyway, requesting only that their names not be used. The news would go out anyway, but without naming the source so that the public could judge its authenticity. Of course, running this superpublicity outfit would be a fine job for the men close to the President who suggested it. That's probably their idea.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

How to the Line, let the quips fall where they may. Reg U.S. Pat. Office

MR. PEPYS ON THE QUI VIVE.

15th July—Do find the town cluttered up with statesmen who are arranging a surprise party for a Certain Personage who lives in a white house in Washington, and when they have finished their councils and proclaimed him the people's choice, no doubt he will make a great speech, saying, in effect, "This is so sudden, but since you insist, Cincinnatus accepts the call from the plow."

The Fourth Estate of the nation has assembled also to chronicle the historic event and to keep its fingers on the pulse of public affairs, and among the visiting firemen are some whom Mr. Pepys has known in bygone years and would like to see again, to talk over the days when we were young fellows plugging along. They will be busy as bees over on the west side, or trying to find political plots in smoke-filled rooms late at night, and nobody has given me a ticket to the mass-meeting, but I shall be on the lookout for them and have arranged for credit at a place where the cocktails are famous.

Marse Henry Mencken, the Sage of Baltimore, will be among those present, no doubt, and I would like to discuss with him the whys and wherefores of the new French slang word which calls a German soldier a "Fridolin." He is the author of this report, but none of the war correspondents have confirmed him.

Also in the press gallery is Maj. Crown of New Orleans, the editor who blasted divers Louisiana political looters into prison, and he is none other than old Jim Crown, who learned the blasting trade on the Chicago Inter Ocean, which was one of my schools of journalism. Whenever one ex-Inter Oceaner meets another they never fail to say, "What became of Jim Crown?", for he was a character here 30 years ago. I should like to ask Maj. Crown who were the culprits that nearly burned up the Newspaper club one night by making an indoor bonfire of their straw hats.

SONG TC BOB WHITE.

I never have seen your face, Bob White,
But I list to your flutelike call;
And I never have found your place, Bob White,
Tho I hie to the pasture wall
From whence you seem to be calling me
As a kindred soul to a friend,
Only to find you have gone away
To the sycamore by the bend.
But the daisies are fair at my feet, Bob White,
And the lazy summer is sweet, Bob White,
So I thrill to the call you repeat, Bob White,
Bob White, Bob White, Bob White.

Methinks you may be a sprite, Bob White,
That is sent by the pink wild-rose
To guide my way by your flight, Bob White,
To the trysting place where she blows.
Or it may be the waters so crystal clear
That murmur and purl in the brook,
Have sent you away in haste today
To bid me come and look
For the wool clouds drift in the sky, Bob White,
And summer slumber is nigh, Bob White,
So I shall follow your cry, Bob White,
Bob White, Bob White, Bob White.

Earle W. Carter.

An Older World, a Better World.

We of the younger generation of the 1900s simply had to have our share of vaudeville. We had ample choice of "variety" in the programs of the Chicago Opera house, the Olympic, the Majestic, theaters devoted exclusively to that type of entertainment. The Masonic temple roof was a popular spot for a while; even the sedate Auditorium opened its portals to a "vaudeville carnival" in the fall of 1907. Cleveland's Eighth Street theater contributed its share, while the New Orpheum had a brief spell on State street near Adams.

The Olympic, as the "home of refined vaudeville" was a strong favorite of the gallery gods. We lined up in front of the box office in the alley north of the main entrance of the theater on the Clark street side of the Ashland block. We raced up the steep stairway to the uppermost rim of a virtual canyon of hardwood benches, grouped in half circles the full width of the theater. We swiftly "grabbed" the best space available and settled down to enjoy a program of no less than 12 acts.

Some day with the permission of the management of the present day Apollo we should like to revisit the old Olympic gallery. Somewhere in the third row our initials were engraved by an industrious neighbor in payment of a box of crackerjack.

Max of the Second Gallery.

MEMORIES OF ENGLAND—IV.
(Stratford.)

His deathless plays. Within these simple walls
He sat and mused, and lo! dark castle halls,
Proud palaces and gruesome caves were there
To tell their tales of lords and ladies fair,
Of clowns and shepherds; fairies swarmed about;
Portentous witches hovered at his side
With presage dire; fair maidens loved and died;
And mad philosophers held forth with him
In argument of life; in battles grim
Brave men went down, while cruel lances gleamed—
Thus life passed by, as Shakespeare sat and dreamed.

The Puzzled Mind of Childhood.

It is perhaps fortunate that the endless questions of childhood are seldom fully answered; the wondering and speculation stimulate the imagination more than any answer could. I worried over "Post No Bills" signs for years. I knew posts were what held up fences, and bills were what had to be paid every week, but the mystic words on fences and buildings all over town were completely baffling. Quizzicuss.

How to Keep Well By Dr. Irving S. Cutter

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to hygiene and prevention of disease will be answered in this column. Personal replies will be made to inquiries, under proper limitations, when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Dr. Cutter will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

HOW MUCH WATER SHALL I DRINK?

DURING the heat of summer we all need sizable quantities of water. We must continue to replenish our stores because the sweat glands pour out such a generous portion. In addition, with every breath we dissipate a certain amount. Dry air is moistened by the mucous lining of the nasal passages, the bronchi, and the lungs.

Two-thirds of the body's bulk is composed of fluid and—as rich as is the blood—only 10 per cent is solid matter. Even the teeth contain liquid and it makes up a large part of every organ. While one can live for nearly 30 days without food, existence is possible for only a relatively short period—two or three days at the most—without water.

One of the most distressing situations that can confront any one is that which involves a profuse loss of liquid which may accompany vomiting and diarrhea. The tissues dry up, the cheeks become hollow, the eyes sunken, the breath foul, the tongue thick and coated—all because the normal interchange between the cells cannot take place except in the presence of this substance. Those who deprive themselves of it deliberately can work less efficiently because the normal processes of metabolism are slowed down and the circulation suffers in consequence. The blood becomes thicker—more viscid.

The chief advantage in visiting a health resort where mineral springs are the order of the day is that many who routinely imbibe too little are encouraged to make up for the deficiency.

But the supply must be pure. It must not contain noxious bacteria or too much organic material. The mineral content should be that which the system can dispose of easily. For example, if it is heavily impregnated with salt we would have difficulty in eliminating the excess. The same is true of the alkaline la. es of the west. It fell to my lot on a plant collecting expedition to drink from a potash lake with a resulting illness which remains ever vivid in my memory. I should have known better because our horses refused to touch it. They preferred to go dry.

But all this does not mean that we should inundate our cells. A stream that drains the countryside, whose banks are lined with attractive foliage, may go on a rampage to the destruction of homes, of live stock, even of human life. In like fashion we may abuse our privilege of taking a glass of aqua pura whenever we wish it. We can so waterlog the tissues that they will be unable to function. This in turn results in what we call edema [swelling], wherein the kidneys and the sweat glands refuse to perform. We have thus precipitated a veritable internal flood.

Fortunately we are provided with an adequate governor. Thirst is the guide which may be followed with safety. It is also a symptom and may indicate that diabetes is present or some other malady which is accompanied by an excessive excretion of body fluids.

Strange to relate—it is actually believed by some that drinking water causes a gain in weight. This false notion should require no explanation. It is obvious that when beverages are used to wash down more food one's poundage may be increased. Furthermore, if it is retained within the cells the effect is the same.

As we can well understand, the kidneys need a fair share and certainly the circulation should not lack its proper quota. We must take enough to keep the tongue, lips, mouth, nasal passages, and alimentary tract normally moist. But not so much that we would be obliged to use a drug to stimulate either sweating or activity on the part of the renal apparatus [the kidneys] to help us get rid of the surplus.

But let us not use it ice cold or boiling hot. That is not nature's way.

LIGHT FACTS.

J. S. writes: 1. Who discovered ultraviolet rays?

2. In what diseases are they helpful?

3. Will they penetrate the clothing?

4. At what time of the day are they strongest?

REPLY.

1. Sir Isaac Newton [1666] pointed out that white light was made up of certain primary colors—the spectrum. In 1678 Christiaan Huygens set forth the wave theory, and in 1801 John Wilhelm Ritter proved the existence of rays lying beyond the violet—the ultraviolet. The first attempt to use this therapy to any great extent was made by Arnold Rikli, a Swiss. In 1855 he established a sanitarium in the Julian Alps. Niels Ryberg Finsen began his work with the healing properties of the chemical rays in 1895. In that year he employed the electric arc, which he found furnished relatively more ultraviolet than the sun.

2. Bone and skin tuberculosis, arthritis, and certain degenerative chronic maladies.

3. Not at all—not even thru an ordinary window pane.

4. Sunlight is more direct—hence, more powerful—when the source is in the meridian, directly overhead. Slanting rays are less effective. In midwinter the quantity absorbed by the skin is about 15 per cent that of midsummer.

HOT TAP WATER.

R. S. writes: Is it safe to make coffee with fluid drawn from the hot water faucet?

REPLY.

Perfectly, if you are sure it is water. Some object to this plan because liquid from this source contains air. This factor, however, should not influence taste or flavor—certainly not safety.

NOSE FILTERS.

S. L. writes: Will filters inserted into the nostrils help a hay fever sufferer?

REPLY.

Not to any great extent. They will interfere with breathing and the patient may absorb pollen via the mouth. A carefully constructed mask that covers both the nose and the mouth, however, may be helpful.

TODAY IN HISTORY

July 16, 1790

Act of congress established Philadelphia as temporary capital of the United States and made provision for a permanent seat of the government on the banks of the Potomac. The new capital was to be ready for use by 1800. Philadelphia, long a center of governmental activities, had hoped to be designated as permanent capital, as had Boston, New York, Yorktown, Kingston, Newport, Wilmington, Trenton, Reading, Lancaster, Annapolis, and Williamsburg.

THE SUSPENSE IS TERRIFIC

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

Writers should confine themselves to 200 or 300 words. Give full names and addresses. No manuscript can be returned. Address Voice of the People, The Tribune.

OUR OPPORTUNITY AND DUTY.

Chicago, July 10.—We read much lately about the Monroe Doctrine. With the golden opportunity presenting itself now we do not act on it. Why? There is Dutch Guiana, also French Guiana, as well as Martinique, Aruba, and other possessions in the Americas belonging to Holland or France. Take the case of Curaçao, a beautiful little Dutch island too close to the Panama canal if it were in the hands of a great power.

We should take charge of these possessions immediately—at least hold them until the present owners come to some definite understanding with us, whether it be a plebiscite, purchase, trade deal, or confiscation, but for the time being give them "our protection."

Two visits to nearly all of the South American countries within two years and the last time for five months convince me now is the time to act.

LEW MILLER.

SKILLED WORKERS.

Chicago, July 10.—Why does this country have several million unemployed and at the same time cry for skilled help?

Because employers still draw the line at or near 40, at WPA, and relief. And they want narrowly specialized men, insisting on experience, not ability. Few employers as yet are making any attempt to use men over 40 or somewhat out of their narrow experience classifications.

One must have 10 years of the most specialized experience even if the job is only sweeping floors. A wood floor sweeper would not be eligible for a cement floor sweeper's job. That is about the attitude of employers.

Men of 40, organize, storm your chambers of commerce and force those leaders to fit you into the American scheme of decent living or turn the job over to you.

FRED ALL.

HE SAW A FIRE TRAGEDY.

Chicago, July 7.—I saw a fire today in a building housing 175 people with no escape except a rickety front stairway. No fire escape, in disregard of local laws.

I saw a man leap three stories and injure himself severely.

I saw a large woman jump into the fire net from the second floor and, doubled up with pain and internal injuries, being carried to an ambulance. I saw two people carried out of this building dead!

Should all of the blame for this tragedy rest on the owner? How about the share of the city administration, which, while it supports many political adherents, neglects safety precautions, tho fire inspection is a job for which we are paying?

F. E. PAXTON.

BUSHWA.

Wilmette, Ill., July 13.—He swears he'll keep us out of war,
As Woodrow Wilson did before?

R. E. B.

WANTS A BETTER GUARANTEE.

Chicago, July 12.—It is nonsense to claim that conscription is necessary to obtain a standing army of 1,000,000 men, provided only the volunteers were given to understand that they would never be sent to fight in Europe or Asia.

I suggest that congress pass at once a law requiring that every volunteer be given a written contract that he will never be called to fight in Europe or Asia but only to defend the United States and the Monroe Doctrine. A mere promise by President Roosevelt is not sufficient. Mr. Roosevelt's record is scarcely anything but a record of broken promises made to the American people in the most solemn manner. ERNEST BRADSHAW.

PIONEER WOMAN'S APPEAL.

Chicago, July 10.—This is a protest in behalf of the salesmen of Good Humor ice cream. I have lived on Lincoln Park West for many years, and it troubles me greatly seeing these men standing all day long.

I spoke to a salesman yesterday, asking why he had not a campstool upon which he could rest. He said sitting down was prohibited by the company, and that the "boss" drove past frequently on inspection.

I fail to see any justifiable reason for this treatment, which appears to me both unkind and injurious. The salesmen I have seen are neither young nor robust. I appeal for support in this matter.

MRS. FERDINAND W. PECK.
A Pioneer Resident of Chicago.

KEEP THE CROSSWORD PUZZLE.

Chicago, July 11.—I wonder if Mr. Carl A. Pierson, who wants you to print a daily article about chess, ever saw anybody play chess on a bus, street car or elevated, where you see lots of people working the crossword. You can work a crossword all by yourself, but it takes two to play chess. Half a dozen of us here work the crossword nearly every lunch time, and we would not have time to play a game of chess. Give him his chess article if you want to but do not print it in the space given over to our crossword. CROSSWORD FAN.

IRELAND STILL A NEUTRAL.

Chicago, July 9.—I was amused by your editorial headed "Ireland Next?" Mr. De Valera understands European politics better than any American or, for that matter, better than any statesman in Europe, Roosevelt and Hitler to the contrary notwithstanding.

The Irish are not interested in taking sides at the present time. They have their own views on political matters in Europe. They are grateful for the kind advice of The Tribune, but they do not feel it is timely. THOMAS J. MCCORMICK.

THE "DRAFT ROOSEVELT" SHAM.

Chicago, July 10.—We in the United States want to "keep our eyes peeled" to see that the "fifth column," so called, will never get a "toe-hold" on our much cherished government.

One of the first things we must do is "spot" every politician who is behind the "draft Roosevelt" sham, and never again should we give such politicians our ballots. GEORGE E. BOYNTON.

WHAT JOHN MARSHALL SAID.

Chicago, July 8.—In your editorial on "Taxes Versus Jobs" you misquote the learned man" who once said the "power to tax is the power to destroy."

The learned man to whom you refer is the great chief justice, John Marshall of the Supreme court. I quote the exact words of his decision rendered in the case of McCulloch vs. the State o. Maryland, 4 Wheaton 316, in which case was involved the right of a state to tax a national bank, as follows:

"That the power to tax involves the power to destroy; that the power to destroy may defeat and render useless the power to create; that there is a plain repugnance, in conferring on one government a power to control the constitutional measures of another, which other, with respect to those very measures, is declared to be supreme over that which exerts the control, are propositions not to be denied. Taxation, it is said, does not necessarily and unavoidably destroy. To carry it to the excess of destruction, would be an abuse, to presume which would banish that confidence which is essential to all government."

Let me add that Justice Frankfurter of the Supreme court made the same error you made. HARRY GOODMAN.

BIRTH CONTROL EXHIBIT BARRED.

Lexington, Ky., July 13.—What has happened that the exhibit of the Birth Control Federation of America should be excluded from the American Negro exposition? Religious pressure has been suggested as the cause. If so, what about the fact that the exposition is financed by the federal and state tax funds?

Can't you do something to see that the exhibit is reinstated?

BETSY WORTH ESTES.

The Tribune has received numerous other letters protesting against the cancellation of the birth control exhibit in the American Negro exposition and asking what influences forced the withdrawal of the exhibit.

BETTER BE A REFUGEE.

Chicago, July 11.—I just heard Mrs. Roosevelt speak in favor of child refugees and she said it will cost $400 to care for a child for one year. Yet a family on relief, consisting of husband, wife, and boy of 14 years, gets only $534.24. So families on relief should call themselves refugees. B. PRIMACK.

SALE OF ESTATE PROPERTY.

Chicago, July 12.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—Father bought a lot and built a house on same 35 years ago—title on lot being clear.

1. Ten years later he bought the adjoining lot but could not secure a clear title. He died seven years ago without making a will, so this property now belongs to his three children.

Same has not been probated but we were advised at the time of his death [2] if it was satisfactory to all three heirs the one who happened to live in Chicago could collect the rent on this property, pay the taxes and any repair bills, etc., and give an accounting at least once each year to the other two—as well as dividing any of the rent money which might be left. This has been done in the last seven years to the complete satisfaction of all concerned.

3. Can this go on until such time as we wish to sell or [4] is there a time limitation on such an arrangement?

5. Also would same have to be probated if we wish to sell and is there a time limit on this also? D. K.

1. Ordinary adverse claims would be barred by the 20 year limitation period.
2. We see no objection to this.
3. Yes.
4. No, but when you come to sell you may experience delay. We could advise to better advantage if you had told us the nature of the defect in the title.
5. It seems probable that you could satisfy a purchaser without probate in view of the time that has elapsed.

The fourth festival luncheon will be held Friday, Aug. 16, in the grand ballroom of the Stevens hotel. Already every seat in the dining room has been reserved, and the festival management is selling places at tables in the foyer. The price is $1.55 per plate.

Persons seated in the foyer will be brought into the ballroom for the luncheon program. The deadline for the payment of luncheon tickets is Monday, July 29. The public is invited.

Composers Widow to be Guest.

Mrs. Edward MacDowell, widow of the famous American composer, will be guest of honor at the luncheon. More than 200 will be in the luncheon entertainment cast. Last year 2,600 persons attended this feature of festival week.

William Sturm, ticket manager of Tribune events, reports that hundreds of requests for festival concert tickets have been on file for months. One "early bird" is Mrs. Mary Halton, of 5523 Dorchester avenue. She has been the first to apply for a ticket each year for the last ten. She always asks for and gets a seat in section 40 on the east side of the stadium near the festival platform at the north end of the field. Others who get first choice are Peter Bormacher, of Algonquin, Ill., and Warren Coleman, of Oskaloosa, Iowa.

Seek American Haven

[Associated Press Wirephoto.]

Queen Geraldine and her son, Crown Prince Skander, who are seeking to emigrate to the United States.

LONDON, July 15 (AP).—King Zog is trying to emigrate to the United States with his beautiful half-American Queen Geraldine, his three sisters and presumably the infant Crown Prince Skander who was born just before Zog's kingdom of Albania was taken by Italy last year.

The king's desire was disclosed today when it was said he was seeking to arrange an Atlantic crossing with his family and a retinue of about 30. If the royal couple and the trio of sisters make another jump in their search for a new home, they will have to go as immigrants. Visitors' visas are no longer issued here for the United States.

Zog, Geraldine, and Maxhide, Ruhije, and Myzejen, came to London from France on June 27. Queen Geraldine, whose mother was an American, Mrs. Gladys Stewart Girault, formerly of New York, was married to the king in 1938. Among the wedding presents to the couple were four gilded bronze vases from Benito Mussolini and an automobile from Adolf Hitler.

WAGE ARBITERS HEAR EVIDENCE OF MILK DEALERS

Spokesmen for Chicago milk dealers began presenting their views yesterday as a three man arbitration board opened hearings in the Palmer house to settle the dispute between the 4,500 members of the Milk Wagon Drivers union and the associated milk dealers over the proposal that drivers' base wages be cut to a minimum of $40 a week.

Attorney Ernest S. Ballard, representing the dealers, said that insistence of the drivers that the scale be maintained near the old level of $48 a week would make it impossible to continue home delivery of milk against store competition. Dr. Rawleigh W. Stone, University of Chicago economist, then submitted a statistical study of the Chicago dairy industry.

The arbitrators are Paul Potter, secretary of the dealers' organization; Thomas Haggerty, secretary treasurer of the union, and Msgr. Dennis J. Dunne, pastor of Holy Cross church. Two brief strikes, the second ending May 27, have occurred since the start of the dispute. Testimony before the board is expected to continue for a month.

BLIND PENSION RECEIVER FINED IN AUTO CRASH

Warren Odett, 53 years old, who obtains a blind pension from the state, was arraigned yesterday before Police Magistrate J. B. Neahaus in North Chicago on charges of driving without an operator's license and leaving the scene of an accident.

Odett, who lives at 14th street, near Green Bay road, a mile west of North Chicago, admitted his guilt and was fined $25 and ordered to pay $7 for a street sign which he ran into June 29. Odett previously had told police he was unable to get a driver's license because of poor vision.

Judge Magistrate Neahaus warned him that if he were found driving again he would be sent to jail. He was given time to raise money for the fine and damages.

LOAN COLLECTOR ROBBED.

THREE INJURED AS FREIGHT LIFT FALLS 5 FLOORS

Three persons were injured, one seriously, when a freight elevator fell five floors in the Ludington building, 1104 South Wabash avenue, yesterday. Those injured were on the elevator, which was hauling a half ton of tile blocks for remodeling work on the sixth floor.

The most seriously injured was George White, 74, of 216 West 25th place, the operator. He suffered fractures of both legs and internal injuries. The others were Charles Palubicki, 33, of 1526 North Washtenaw avenue, and his brother, Joseph, 37, of 3126 West 42d street.

According to the police, a cable broke while the car was near the fifth floor, plunging it to the main floor. A 300 pound pulley fell from the top of the shaft at the eighth floor and plunged thru the wire covering of the elevator. Officials of the building said the elevator was not overloaded.

Jolson Brings His Show to Liven Up City

"HOLD ON TO YOUR HATS."

Musical comedy in two acts. Music by Burton Lane. Lyrics by E. Y. Harburg. Book by Guy Bolton, Matt Brooks, and Eddie Davis. Costumes and scenery by Raoul Pene Du Bois. Dances by Catherine Littlefield. Book staged by Edgar MacGregor. Musical direction by Al Goodman. Entire production supervised by Georgie Hale. Presented by Al Jolson in the Grand Opera house, Monday evening, July 15, 1940.

THE PLAYERS.

Al Jolson, Martha Raye, Ruby Keeler, Jack Whiting, Bert Gordon, Arnold Moss, Rose Brown, Margaret Irving, Gil Lamb, George Church, "Jinx" Falkenberg, the Vass family, the Radio Aces, and many others.

BY CECIL SMITH.

Instead of holding on to my hat I want to take it off and make a deep salaam in the direction of Al Jolson. For he has made Chicago's summer brighter in this troubled year, not only by bringing his own tonic presence back to our stage but also in surrounding himself with a brilliant, entertaining, and superbly mounted show.

Mr. Jolson's first entry, as a radio Lone Rider about to broadcast a thrilling chapter of western heroism, was the signal for long and affectionate applause. When things quieted down he found his stride immediately. As great a showman as ever, he seated himself casually in front of the footlights and instantly won his audience with an easy line of reminiscent chatter and a song that seemed to exist for the purpose of introducing fragments of some of his historic lyrics of earlier years.

Altho he admitted, to good-natured jeers of derision from the audience, that he is now at least 41, Al Jolson is still one of the great entertainers of the American stage. His instantaneous gift for making friends with his entire audience puts every one in a receptive mood from the first, and thruout the evening he holds the audience in the hollow of his hand.

His acting, to be sure, bears the marks of the seasoned old-time vaudevillian, and his singing is not without a dash of bathos. But how perfectly these old-timers learned their craft! As he sings, Jolson's body is a fascinating study in smooth, easy movement; his diction is impeccable and his timing is hair-trigger. Even in the midst of the sentiment of a happy reunion it was impossible not to reflect upon and admire his exactitude and control.

There is a tinge of a Victor Moore quality about Jolson's character, a timid radio actor who finds himself in pursuit of a Mexican desperado, first on a western dude ranch, and later in a resort south of the border called "El Marihuana." The book, which is scarcely worth recounting, languishes from time to time, and finally leaves Jolson in possession of his quarry thru the merest fluke.

But if the book languishes, it is all to the good, for the show never does. It couldn't, with Martha Raye on hand. No clairvoyant powers are required to predict that "Hold On to Your Hats" will be only the first of a series of stage successes for this attractive hoyden. As a cowgirl and stage coach driver, she has never heard of an inhibition. She romps all about the stage, roughhousing

THRU THE LOOKING GLASS

Remember when the sun bather coated herself with sticky protectives? Nowadays such preparations are worn as unobtrusively as perfume. The newer ones are non-sticky, quick drying, efficient, and even nicely scented.

We marvel at the way sun preparations have improved, not only in efficiency but in character. The heavy, messy things are disappearing. Nowadays a woman wears her armor against the sun as unobtrusively as she wears a perfume.

An example of this trend toward perfection is a "liquid sunshine" that's delightful to use. "I'd keep that around just for its perfume," was a comment one of our co-workers made when we flashed a bottle of it in the office. She has a fairly reasonable idea there, at that. The stuff has a perfectly heavenly fragrance.

It's a thin liquid, faintly amber in color, and it goes on the skin like soft water, drying almost instantly and leaving no visible trace of its presence. But, invisibly, it films the skin to prevent sunburn and blistering and to encourage a smooth, beautiful tan. You can apply makeup over it if you like.

This isn't the least bit greasy. You apply it and forget about it—tho not for too long if the sun is extremely hot. It should be applied generously before you go out into the sun and during exposure. Apply it before you swim and be sure you put on another coat as soon as you've dried off after your dip.

It's in an attractive bottle, not too bulky. By all means tote it with you if you're trekking off for a sun worshiping vacation. You won't be all greased up, but you'll be protected while you're wearing it.

Looking at Hollywood by John Chapman

Hollywood, Cal., July 15.—Monday: To the motor vehicle bureau for a driver's license. The driving tests are the same as any place, except that they're unusually fussy about hand signals. They have a written exam, too, in which you mark down the right one of three possible answers to each question. Should you or should you not tear right on by a school bus unloading children or blow your horn, for example? If you say you'd better stop they give you A.

To RKO for lunch, where Fay Wray joins the table and orders roast beef to keep up her strength. Five men grow weak just looking at her. Run into Robert Montgomery at the Beverly Hills steam bath, Couple of Quick Ones and Barbecue club. Montgomery, fresh from the war, says hardly any slang and no songs have come out of the conflict. Only new war slang he knew of was "gamburger cases" for bomb victims. "Pack Up Your Troubles" the newest song. To a preview of "They Drive by Night," which is okay.

Tuesday: An interview with Marlene Dietrich at her bungalow. In "Seven Sinners" she will play a Manila night club singer. Says she has a wonderful navy song. Then to quiz Walter Wanger, who would rather talk politics and international affairs than movies. Some one calls up and his end of the conversation goes like this: "Hello, dear. . . . Thank you very much. . . . There's only one thing wrong with it. It didn't have you in it. . . . Well, Myron wanted $25,000 for you and you aren't worth that much." . . . Then for a talk with Brenda Marshall, a handsome brunette who's opposite Errol Flynn in "The Sea Hawk." She says all the fan magazines in the world must have asked her how much fun was it to be kissed by Flynn, so I didn't bring up the subject.

Wednesday: At Twentieth Century-Fox the boys say, "You better watch out, calling this place 'Fox.' You'll give Zanuck high blood-pressure if you don't call it 'Twentieth.'" So it's still Fox because it's easier to say and write. . . . Charlotte Greenwood's hair is more blonde than Gene Raymond's used to be. . . . For dinner at a place called Lawry's, which specializes in roast beef, and okay, too. Note to steak glorifiers: they pack the roasts in salt for cooking. . . . Richard Carroll says be sure to get W. C. Fields to tell about the elephants that attacked him at Palm Springs five months after he quit drinking.

Thursday: Up at 5 a. m. to go to San Bernardino and meet a train that is bringing Elsie, the cow. Elsie is a fine movie star because she will let anybody pet her. Her diet is dry alfalfa and beet-pulp, with water from New York to wash it down. After she has her calf in a couple of weeks she will also get citrus pulp, which is fancy for mashed-up orange skins. . . . In the evening to a preview of Universal's "The Boys From Syracuse." Good in spots, but can't touch George Abbott's stage production. Some good "business" gags, like Roman chariots with taxi meters, but Joe Penner plays twins and two Joe Penners aren't as funny as one Teddy Hart and one Jimmy Savo, who played the Greek slaves in the stage version. Alan Jones' singing duet with himself as the other pair of twins is neat trickery.

Friday: To Metro, to watch Busby Berkeley put on the finale of "Strike Up the Band." This big chorus number uses the grand old Gershwin march, with Mickey Rooney directing and Judy Garland singing it. Really should be sump'n on the screen. Miss Garland says she didn't catch herself in "The Wizard of Oz" until three weeks ago.

To the races, to find out why Hollywood is race-daffy. Haven't got the answer yet, but the Hollywood Park track makes the Jamaica or Aqueduct layouts in New York look like tenements. Fancy a midfield with lakes and waterfalls and a girl in costume going around feeding the swans between races. After each race they go around the track with two streamlined water wagons to settle the dust. For any dust left over, highballs are 50 cents. Jack Kirkland on hand, playing long shots with no luck. George White also on hand. Says he is booking "Scandals" into coast theaters from here. Kirkland's looking for actors for a couple of stage

Yacht Racers Preparing for Oconomowoc

BY JUDITH CASS.

THE Sunday "E" class yacht race at Lake Geneva for the Folly cup was made especially exciting for the spectators by the sinking in midlake of a public speed boat with six passengers aboard. They were rescued thrillingly by the Philip K. Wrigley cruiser, which was following the race. After landing the frightened, wet tourists at Williams Bay, the Wrigley launch returned to the gallery in time to see Clarence W. Sills Jr. win the trophy, one of the oldest of the yacht club's cups. It was presented in 1891 by Mrs. Kate R. Papin, daughter of Samuel W. Allerton, whose summer home at Lake Geneva was called The Folly.

Having rested briefly after the week-end races at their own lakes, members of the Lake Geneva and of the Delavan Lake Yacht clubs are off to compete in the first important invitational regatta of the season on Oconomowoc lake, to be held tomorrow, Thursday, and Friday. The four leading skippers and yachts of two classes, "C" and "cub," from each lake will take part.

Lake Geneva will be represented by Mr. Sills, Bruce Pope, Bob Edwards, Barbara Wakeley, Elaine Reid, Walter G. McIntosh, Billy Bartholomay, and Roy Nystrom. Representing Lake Geneva as judges will be Henry H. Porter, Gilbert R. Smith, and Robert G. Ferris.

The competing yachtsmen will be house guests of members of the Oconomowoc Yacht club. The DeWitt W. Buchanans will be entertaining a house full of young sailors at their country home on Oconomowoc lake, and have made arrangements for all visiting yachts to be unloaded at their docks. The yacht club will have a dinner-dance on Thursday night.

J. L. Houghtelings Are Back in Winnetka Home.

The James Lawrence Houghtelings, back in their Winnetka home from Washington, are not planning to entertain for the Democratic delegates, but they will give an informal party toward the end of the week for Miss Louise Stillwell, who just has arrived to pass the week with them. Miss Stillwell is the daughter of Mme. Felip Espil, wife of the Argentine ambassador.

None of the other Houteling children is at home for the convention excitement. James Jr. has a temporary job in New York, Frederic is at camp in New Hampshire, and Louise is at camp in Vermont. All three will be at home for the last weeks of September, however.

The Robert J. Dunhams had hoped to entertain for some of his friends who are here for the convention, but the answer most delegates seem to give to party offers is "Thanks very much, but don't plan anything; I might not be able to come at the last minute." Mr. and Mrs. Dunham will make their annual trip to California next week.

Parties Being Planned for the Arthur Krocks.

The Arthur Krocks [Mrs. Granger Blair] and their close friends expect to have time for parties at the end of the week. Mrs. Donald M. Ryerson is entertaining at cocktails on Saturday afternoon for the Krocks, who reside in Washington, and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence C. Prentice are giving a dinner that night. The Laurance H. Armours are giving a luncheon for the popular visitors on Sunday. The Samuel J. Walkers will give a supper for them Sunday night.

Mrs. Robert Low Bacon Jr. of Washington and Long Island, and Maj. Keith Officer of the Australian legation in Washington are visiting the Howard Linns in Lake Bluff during the convention.

Patricia Caveney and Fiance Widely Feted.

Convention delegates are not the reason for all of the gay parties that will be given toward the end of the week. A bride-to-be, Miss Patricia Caveney, and her fiancé, Paul Lathrop Poole, who are to be married on July 24, are the reason for a number of gay ones. Mr. Poole's brother, Frederick A. Poole Jr., and Mrs. Poole are entertaining at cocktails at the Racquet club on Friday afternoon.

Vincent Conlan is giving a small tea-dance for them one afternoon, and Mr. Poole's parents will give a luncheon for them on Sunday at the Barrington Hills Country club. Andrew Berkey has planned a supper party

Front Views and Profiles

No Breakfast Time Tale.

Sir Cedric Hardwicke, supping with friends in Chicago last week, told of the elaborate dinner Lucius Beebe gave Howard Dietz in Hollywood recently. Beebe took a great deal of trouble to have the dinner an epicurean success, and at each course held forth himself on the excellence and suitability of the wines. The meal was too rich for Dietz and he was ill in the night. Next day, when he talked to Beebe, he admitted that the dinner had been too much for him.

"But you will be glad to know, Beebe, that the Chablis came up with the fish," he said.

Wind.

A high wind out Barrington way Sunday prevented guests at a country house from playing badminton and interfered with other recreations.

"Well, the wind can't interfere with our drinking, anyhow," said one guest lounging on the terrace.

"But it makes whitecaps on my highball," complained Bud Carroll.

Demos in the Moonlight.

One of the pleasant convention time festivities was the gathering in the walled garden of the John Alden Carpenter home at Bellevue place and the drive, at which the Adlai Stevensons and the Philip Mahers were hosts. A moon, the light from Japanese lanterns, and the luminous blue of the Palmolive beacon flashing overhead provided illumination. Guests talked politics and pleasantries as they sat over food and drink brought from adjacent buffet tables.

Among the out of town guests: Miss Frances Perkins, a handsome Madame Secretary in black and pearls; Mrs. Henry Goddard Leach, Miss Gertrude Ely of Philadelphia, animated and alert, carrying on amusing political badinage with Charles Michelson, director of publicity of the Democratic national committee; Ernest Ives, recently retired foreign service officer, and Mrs. Ives; tall Herbert Bayard Swope, Leon Henderson in white dinner jacket and black cummerbund; Senator Claude Pepper, San Antonio Mayor Maury Maverick, loquacious in a white suit; motion picture executive and convention alternate Claude Lee, Walter Hines Page Jr. of Philadelphia, Gilchrist B. Stockton, aid to Admiral Sims in 1917-'19 and later chief of Hoover's mission to Austria, now a Democrat; witty and brilliant Louis Brownlow, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Kroch, and a dozen others.

Demos in the Sun.

Visiting Democratic celebrities on the sunny terrace of the Saddle and Cycle club and lunching on the crème Vichysoisse, the soft shell crabs, and cold lobster of the Sunday menu provided interest for Saddle and Cycle club members Sunday. The senator from Maryland and Mrs. Tydings were lunching in a family party that included their small son and Mrs. Tyding's father, Ambassador Joe Davies. Tall, lean, former senator William Gibbs McAdoo lunched with a group of Democrats, among them Senator Pepper from Florida.

By Way of Report.

Guest cards to Chicago clubs have been issued to dozens of Democratic visitors and newspaper men. James Farley will have his massages at the Racquet club, hardly a Democratic stronghold. The guest card was given him when he asked a friend where he might go to get away from it all and have a quiet massage occasionally.

Other interesting visitors in Chicago yesterday besides the Democratic delegates: Gertrude Lawrence, the newly wed Mrs. Richard S. Aldrich, suntanned and lovely, wearing gray linen and white pique size radios, had luncheon with Ernest Byfield and Jerry Freshman at the Pump room. She is on her way west to play Skylark in Los Angeles. Raoul Pene Du Bois, artist and stage set designer, stopped off to see his friend, Frederick Sweet, assistant curator of painting at the Chicago Art institute, on his way west. M. Du Bois did the sets for the Al Jolson show that opened last night at the Grand, but he didn't stay over for the opening.

There's a brand new and very exciting animal act with the circus this year, boys and girls!

In addition to Gargantua, the giant gorilla, and all the other animals, we'll see three mixed groups of lions, tigers, bears, panthers, and leopards performing in three big steel arenas. They all work together, like one big, happy family, and the trainer doesn't have a gun or even a chair to protect him in the cage.

The big top's air-conditioned, too, this year, so we'll be nice and cool while we enjoy the clowns and watch all the daring performers.

Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey have extended their usual cordial invitation, so I'm going to take 100 boys and girls out to see all these wonderful things on Thursday, July 25.

If you'd like to be in this group, better drop whatever you're doing and sit right down and right me a letter. I want to invite those children who think this party would be an extra-special treat, and I can't tell who they are unless they write and tell me about wanting to come. Write it in your own words, and any way you want, but be sure to tell me who you are, where you live, and your age. If you forget any one of those things, out goes your letter!

All letters must reach me by Thursday, because that's the day I read all the mail and select my winners. It's not far off, you know, so get to work on that letter to Sally Joy Brown, THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, Chicago.

Numerology

By Evelyn Holmes

July 16, 1940.

Universal Day—Make an early start. A good day for making changes.

Harmonizing Numbers—Since 6 is the number of love as expressed in the home, community or thru service, and 3 is the number of personal expression of emotion, and 9 is the number of universal love, all three of these numbers harmonize. Without these numbers in the name or birthpath expression of love in some form is limited. Such an omission would give a challenge to create more sympathy and feeling, and to find some method of being of service to one's fellowmen.

Year Ahead—Don't let the second half of this year slip by without getting something worthwhile and original started. Begin to work up momentum now.

New Materials and Gay Colors for Play Shoes

BY REA SEEGER.

There's never been a summer that boasted such a wide and blazing showing of play shoes. Canvas straps that look like linen, braid, lastex bandings that look like braid, seersucker, gingham in checks, stripes, plaids, and printed effects, even terry cloth have been used for frivolous looking but surprisingly practical and more than comfortable footgear to accent all kinds of spectator sports clothes and the most casual of play togs.

Mocassin type footgear is especially appealing with the gathered skirt and peasant bodice type dresses in tub fabrics. These mocassins are obtainable in vivid shades as well as pastels and white, in amazingly soft leather and in trick thin fabrics. Cork clog soles with lastex straps are eye catching footnotes in stunning color combines.

Then there are the new arrivals called scuffs, made of a couple of double crossed fabric bands of a material that has the weave and texture of coarse linen or sailcloth.

The soles are featherweight. You can wear these and prowl around like an Indian. The stuff looks like sponge rubber and feels like it to the touch and on the foot. The price mark is ridiculously low, for such comfort in a new footnote for inside or out of door lounging.

Unpacked in time for all the wandering vacationists are the newest travel slippers or the new versions of Pullman slippers. There are those made of dark colored moiré and are folded neatly into a carrying case. Knitted affairs that are stretchable, ready to fit any foot outline, have been introduced recently. Consequently the shopping is easy. The one all purpose size fits any foot. Dark color for travel and a few light shades come in these supercomfortable knitted slippers. The prices are all easy on a limited budget.

The Fate of the Darmenys

SYNOPSIS.

Madge Darmeny, a childless widow, knowing she has but a short time to live, wants to select the most deserving heir for her large estate. Amelia Pennyfather, a distant cousin, lives with her, but on pretense she has to retrench financially. Madge sends for the other members of her family and suggests they live with her also. Leda, her own niece, is married to Frank, her husband's nephew, but in love with Geoffry, another nephew of Madge's husband. Frank has an 8 year old daughter, Betsy, by a former marriage. Shirley Westall, Madge's secretary, is given charge of Betsy. Madge has always been partial to Geoffry because of his continuous playing up to her, but she is beginning to find his debts and escapades rather trying. She likes Shirley and suggests to Geoffry that Shirley would make a good wife. Tiring of Leda, Geoffry pays court to Shirley and is infuriated when she repulses his advances. Frank, miserable because he suspects Leda and Geoffry, sees the sweetness of his first wife in Shirley and falls in love with her. Shirley sympathizes with Frank when she sees how Leda is treating him and finds her sympathy turning to love. After a number of tantrums by Leda, Madge begins to see things in their true light and decides to change her will. Amelia overhears Madge's conversation with Alfred Barnes, her solicitor, and learns of Madge's illness and her plans for a new will. She tells Geoffry, who in turn steals Madge's keys to her safe and reads the old will in which he is to be left the estate, and the new version in which Frank is to be the main heir. The new will is not to be signed until the following Friday. Geoffry, furious at the turn of things, goes on a rampage. He encounters Frank in the woods and threatens to get Shirley as he got Leda. Frank strikes him, knocking his front teeth out. When Frank confronts Leda with Geoffry's accusation, Leda, in a fit of temper, admits to both Frank and Madge her love for Geoffry. Madge decides to wait up for Geoffry, who has gone to the city to see his dentist. She wants to talk things over with him. He arrives late, is insulting to Madge, and when she asks him to get her medicine for her he gives her an overdose which kills her. Amelia is eavesdropping, but is too afraid of Geoffry to tell, as he threatens to commit her as insane. After the funeral Barnes calls the family in to hear the will read.

INSTALMENT XLIV.
READING OF THE WILL.

"The coincidence I wish to mention is this," Mr. Barnes' voice was unconsciously growing dramatic.

"On Thursday morning, Mrs. Darmeny rang me up at my office just as I was about to ring her up and tell her that Friday was going to be a little inconvenient for me.

"Thereupon Mrs. Darmeny told me that she was having what she rather whimsically described as 'a day off,' the members of her family having dispersed in various directions, and that she would be glad if I came down at once. That, I did, and we spent a very happy and profitable two hours together.

"I cannot say now, how glad I am it happened that way, for it was the last time I saw my dear friend alive. She died that same night, as you all know.

"This, the last will and testament of Margaret Scofield Darmeny was approved by her on the last day of her life, only a few hours before she passed from us, forever, and duly signed in my presence and in the presence of Police Constable J. P. Sawyer—who happened to be on the premises at the time—and of Thomas Lamb, the son of the Crane's Wood manager of the Colonial Limited stores, who was delivering some groceries.

"I now propose to read to you the text of the will in full."

"I, Margaret Scofield Darmeny, being of sound mind but uncertain health on this, the twentieth day of July in the year of our Lord, Nineteen Hundred and Thirty-Nine. . . .

Alfred Barnes' legal voice went on, passionless, almost droning.

There were the legacies, personal gifts and charitable bequests, to which a few had been added since the old will was made, including a token of remembrance to Shirley Westall.

The crucial point came at the end.

"'The residue of my estate, including the property known as Beechbourne Park, and all contained therein; my holdings, securities and investments, of which a list will be available; all bank balances and deposits, after my just debts are paid, I leave without let or hindrance to the beloved nephew of my husband, Frank Barclay Darmeny, but charging the said Frank Barclay Darmeny to deal fairly and kindly by his cousin, Geoffry Charles Roderick Darmeny, in the matter of a suitable income, as shall be agreed upon by him the said Frank Barclay Darmeny, in consultation with Alfred Horatio Barnes, whom I hereby appoint co-executor and trustee to act with the said Frank Barclay Darmeny in all matters pertaining to the final adjustment of my estate. . . .'

"And that is all," Alfred Barnes concluded abruptly.

There was a silence during which if anybody dropped the proverbial pin it would surely have been heard.

Then a child's voice rang out, clear as crystal:

"Daddy, did you hear what Mr. Barnes said? Auntie Madge left me her beautiful watch and chain, that belonged to her mother! Did you know it winds with a key?"

Frank hardly heard.

It seemed almost as tho she had anticipated this scene.

Words are inadequate to describe the state of mind of Geoffry Darmeny.

Nobody but Amelia Pennyfather seemed to be paying any attention to him. It was an awkward moment for everybody else as well as for the disinterested heir-expectant. Nobody knew what to say to him. He didn't exactly need condolences, but neither was he to be congratulated.

But Amelia threw him a timid glance, that had some triumph in it, and even a little malice.

Amelia's conscience gliding over the circumstances of her Cousin Madge's death for the moment, was almost clear. Dear Madge's wishes had been fulfilled and Geoffry was not to profit by the dastardly thing he had done. Moreover, Amelia Pennyfather was to receive exactly what dear Madge had promised her.

She knew the very cottage.

It stood close to the boundary of Beechbourne Park and had a tiny garden of its own. Only a step to the village. The place had just fallen vacant, owing to Comber, one of the tenant farmers having lost his wife recently, and his married son who had occupied the cottage, bringing his wife and baby to live at the farmhouse.

With the money Madge had left her, Amelia's own savings and the annuity, she could live comfortably for the rest of her days. There was plenty of old furniture in the attics of Beechbourne, and doubtless Frank would let her take what she needed to furnish the cottage.

Already, her avaricious mind was turning from Geoffry to Frank. She was no longer in love with Geoffry Darmeny, and fast getting into that dangerous state when she was capable of revenge.

The cousins were shaking Frank's hand, Alfred Barnes congratulated him, and the servants modestly pressed forward to offer him their very good respects.

The news had stunned him at first; there must be some trick in it, he thought.

Rapidly his mind went back to that last day of Madge Darmeny's life. He had no first-hand knowledge of how she had spent it. He, himself—thanks to Frank—had passed most of that day in the dentist's chair, and it was late in the evening before he suddenly decided to go back to Beechbourne and have one last try to soften Aunt Madge's heart in his favor.

He almost didn't go; he had intended first to stay the night in his rooms, which he still kept in London. And for all the good it had done him, it would have been better if he had stuck to his intention. At least he would have been spared this bitter disappointment and the humiliation of having to witness Frank's triumph.

A moment later Leda followed him.

"What do you want?" he demanded roughly. "Have you come to gloat?"

Her breast heaved. This man—this devil, as he often seemed to her—still had power over her.

She had allowed Frank to make plans in which she had no intention of joining altho she had packed to go away.

She had taken Frank's measure, or so she thought. He would be glad enough to let her go, if it could be arranged more or less circumspectly. She felt sure when he calmed down, he wouldn't hold out on Geoffry where money was concerned. He would probably even see the fairness of settling a decent income on her.

"I've come to ask you to take me away with you," she said.

Geoffry gave a raucous laugh, and then suddenly stifled it.

"You don't mean that," he said, his eyes narrowing.

"You promised me—you said we'd make a bolt for it. And now there's no longer any reason for delaying. Unless, of course, you still think you have a chance with Shirley Westall."

Her voice was taunting on that last sentence, and Geoffry Darmeny's face grew even more dark and forbidding.

"Don't be a complete ass," he said, and aimed a pair of hairbrushes at the kit bag.

He didn't want her any more, but he could use her to give one in the eye to his hated cousin.

Let her come away with him if she wanted to. Let the whole world know that Leda Darmeny preferred him, the penniless outcast, to that man of property, her swine of a husband; that in Frank's hour of triumph she had turned away from him to the rightful, tho defrauded heir. For the whole thing had been nothing but a dastardly trick on the part of Frank and Alfred Barnes making a fool of a sick, weak-minded old woman.

Alfred Barnes had always disliked him, and would have been only too eager to help Frank in getting around Aunt Madge.

Parents Must Change as a Child Does

By GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

[Copyright: 1940: News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

"I want my child to be self reliant" is a wish that most parents have. Usually they follow it with the question: "But how shall I accomplish it?"

What they don't realize is that the means lie right at hand. Each day offers opportunity for it. My only caution is, not to rush your children into independence, but ease them into it gradually. But that's another point for another day.

What I want to do now is to follow up yesterday's article. This was, you may remember, about how we parents cling to the old ways that we had to use with our children in their very earliest years giving them quantities of directions for each thing they are to do, regardless of the fact that they're long past the need of it. This drags at our children's growing independence.

To give up this habit and in general to change our ways of managing our children as they develop is a very hard thing to do.

We get used to the utter dependence of our baby. We also grow so used to the constant watchfulness we must exercise in their little girlhood and boyhood, to helping them learn the many new things that have to be learned at this age, that we continue those aids too long.

The friendly jeering of a relative or the mental jolt of an idea seen in print, or even the rebellion of our older boy or girl, may be what it takes to wake us up. We hadn't realized that we were keeping the children back in infantile ways. We realize then, with something of a shock, that our children have changed and we haven't. We have been expecting the same compliance and the same docility even at the age of 12 as at the age of 4. Instead, we should have been changing, beginning to let our son work things out for himself and make some of his own mistakes; let our daughter form her own opinions and use her own initiative, all this to apply at first to small matters and later to larger ones.

If we catch ourselves up and do this we won't have the things to complain of that many parents do: Lack of independence, lack of initiative, inventiveness, judgment. Neither shall we have occasion to complain of much resistance from our adolescent boys and girls because we shall not be treating them like children.

After all, it's only human to want to kick over the traces when they're tight. Our cue is gradually to loosen our hold on the reins so our children can learn to find the way themselves.

Change as you need to with your children's growth.

The Biscuit Eater — a pup who thinks more of his belly than his breeding

THE STORY is a delightful tale of southern country life concerning people and sporting dogs. It involves principally a youngster whose notions about sportsmanship have dramatic and sometimes amusing consequences.

THE QUALITY is hardly less than distinguished, for in all departments—acting—authentic flavor—and dramatic deftness—it emerges as enchanting entertainment.

A chill jellied salad containing crisp raw vegetables is always welcome in the summer time. Warm weather menus need the cool, relaxing influence of these pretty, low-in-calorie concoctions. Molded in large or small rings, or in other shapes, they are attractive and appeteasing.

If you count calories, make your own salad dressings, and make them with mineral oil instead of olive or salad oil. Mineral oil has no nutritive value, and it makes good dressings, altho for flavor one must depend upon the ingredients used with the oil, for mineral oil contributes no flavor of its own.

These two appealing, crisp, vegetable salads molded in gelatin may be served with French dressing or mayonnaise. Mayonnaise usually is preferred, for a thick dressing looks better with a jellied salad.

Cabbage, Cauliflower, and Green Pepper Salad
[Serves Six]

- 1 tablespoon plain, unflavored gelatin
- ¼ cup cold water
- 1 cup hot water
- ¼ cup mild vinegar
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- ¼ cup sugar
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ½ cup finely shredded cabbage
- ½ cup finely cut crisp raw cauliflower
- 2 tablespoons chopped green pepper
- ¼ cup finely chopped celery

Soften gelatin in cold water and dissolve in hot water. Add vinegar and lemon juice, sugar and salt. Chill until slightly thickened, then add vegetables and chill in a large mold or individual molds until firm.

Summer Salad
[Serves Eight]

- 1 package lime gelatin
- 2 cups warm water
- 1 tablespoon vinegar
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 cup diced crisp cucumber
- 1 cup thinly sliced radishes
- ½ cup finely cut celery
- ¼ cup young green onions, sliced thinly

Dissolve gelatin in warm water. Add vinegar and salt. Chill until slightly thickened and fold in vegetables. Chill in individual molds until firm. Unmold on lettuce and serve with French dressing or mayonnaise.

Mineral Oil Mayonnaise
[For reducing diets]

- 1 egg yolk
- 1 teaspoon salt
- ½ teaspoon dry mustard
- ¼ teaspoon paprika
- Few grains cayenne pepper
- 2 tablespoons vinegar [tarragon, preferably]
- 1 cup mineral oil

Put egg yolk and seasonings into a small bowl and beat thoroly. Add one tablespoon of the vinegar and beat again. Add oil gradually, beginning with ½ teaspoonful at a time, beating constantly. Increase amounts of oil, little by little, and add the other tablespoon of vinegar as the dressing thickens. Beat dressing until all of the oil has been added and the mayonnaise is thick. Store in a covered jar in a cool place. The electric mixer is the ideal beater for a mayonnaise. This recipe makes about 1¼ cups of dressing.

Mineral French Dressing

- ¼ cup vinegar
- ¾ teaspoon salt
- ⅛ teaspoon pepper
- ¼ teaspoon paprika
- 1 tablespoon sugar
- ¾ cup mineral oil
- Garlic clove, if desired

If you like garlic flavoring, rub the bowl in which you beat the dressing with a cut clove of garlic. Or slice the garlic, add to vinegar, and let stand for 20 minutes, then strain out. Combine all ingredients and beat or shake in a bottle until blended.

Looking at Hollywood plays, and says that the deal for a movie "Tobacco Road" is hot again.

Saturday: To the Warner plant, where Frank Capra and Robert Riskin are riskin' a million or more of their dough in "Meet John Doe." Not so much of a risk, with those two being head men and with Barbara Stanwyck and Gary Cooper for actors. Cooper talks a long time and the unit man is amazed, because the actor is noted for shyness and taciturnity. Reason for the gabfest is simple: We discover we both drove buses for the Rocky Monutain Transportation company, and the conversation is about what we used to do to frighten the tourists.

Sunday: Wrote a piece about all the recent domestic fusses, known to the trade as separations. The heat-krieg is on and everybody talks about the unusual weather. For a swim at the hotel pool, and notice that when you leave a wet footprint on the pavement it gives off steam. In the afternoon to the John Larkins' at Santa Monica, where the house is on a canyon edge and there's a cool breeze. John has signs around the place, "Do not throw cigaret butts or self into canyon." The forest fire season is on and tossing away a butt is a slightly more serious crime than a spur-of-the-moment homicide.

Pinafores for Slim Figures

MISS' VERSATILE PINAFORES.

It may be a spectator dress, or one for wear in the country, that you want. On the other hand, a tennis game may be calling and you need the proper frock for it. This pattern offers both types. Sketched at the left, a dressy model with its own bonnet, both trimmed with ruffling. Notice the clever pockets and shoulder frills. With it a blouse to contrast. Illustrated right, a sun-back version strictly tailored and with a huge bow in back. Use any of the cottons or other washables.

Style No. 3354 is designed for sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, and 20. Size 16 requires 4⅛ yards of 39 inch material, with ⅝ yard of contrasting and 1¾ yards of ruffling for pinafore and bonnet; 1½ yards for blouse; 3¾ yards for pinafore without ruffles.

Address orders for Clotilde patterns to Chicago Tribune, P. O. Box 537, Grand Central annex, NEW YORK CITY, including 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred—wrap it carefully) for each pattern ordered. IMPORTANT! Be sure to state clearly the number of the pattern and the size desired, and write your name and address plainly.

According to CULBERTSON

Experts place great store on "exploratory bids," that is, bids which are obviously tentative and which are put out merely as feelers. This type of bid can readily be recognized because it invariably follows a raise in a higher ranking suit, which means that the explorer or his partner always can return to the agreed suit without increasing the bidding level. Many players, however, do not know how to respond to these "feeler" bids. Note North's lack of coöperation in the following deal:

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 heart	Pass	2 hearts	Pass
3 diamonds	Pass	3 hearts	Pass
Pass	Pass

It goes without saying that North-South should have reached a game contract with their combined hands. They had two suits with which to work, hearts and diamonds, and two stoppers in each of the black suits. Thus they certainly should have continued bidding until a game contract in either hearts or no trump was agreed upon.

It is equally plain that failure to arrive at the proper contract must be charged entirely to North. His original response of two hearts cannot be criticized, because the alternative one-over-one response, one spade, might create an embarrassing problem. If over one spade South rebid two hearts, two diamonds, two clubs, or one no trump North would have a difficult decision to make, whether to give a heart raise or jump preference raise, as the case might call for, or to stop at a less-than-game contract. Thus the direct heart raise on the first round had the merit of solving North's immediate problem. If over this raise South could make no further bid, there was not likely to be a game in the hand. But what North overlooked was that his single raise left him with some values still to be announced. Hence, when South made the exploratory rebid of three diamonds, North should not have been satisfied with the discouraging and completely noninformative return to the heart suit. South's three diamond bid [a slight stretch, by the way] could carry only one logical message, that despite North's very mild encouragement, South still had hope of "going places" and was trying to discover which game contract, if any, would be most advantageous. Surely, having been raised in the major suit South would not mention a minor merely for the pleasure of hearing his own voice. Since North had no sure club stopper, he should have grasped the occasion to show what he actually did have, namely, two spade stoppers. Thus a three spade bid over three diamonds would have opened the way to either a three no trump or a four heart contract, depending on South's estimate of the hand and his ability to stop the club suit. Obviously enough, either of these contracts would have been vastly superior to the three heart contract actually reached. South had no difficulty in making four-odd in hearts, losing only two diamonds and one club.

with any one handy, tossing off ungainly dances, and singing in a husky voice, with no regard for established principles of tone production or breath control.

"Hold On to Your Hats" is well put together, however, in that it does not rely too much upon mere sumptuousness. The dialog is fast moving and often funny. Situations are not overworked, nor is the plot belabored. Jack Whiting and Ruby Keeler move simply thru it all, providing sentimental interest in occasional lyrics and a bit of innocuously peaceful dancing.

There are some immensely funny moments of comedy, particularly when Bert Gordon, known as the "mad Russian," puts in his insane oar, even to the point of reciting a travesty upon "Hiawatha" in Indian costume. Gil Lamb offers grotesque humor and clever eccentric dancing in a manner a little reminiscent of Ray Bolger.

The excellent cast is also strengthened by the presence of such capable players as Arnold Moss, Margaret Irving, and Russ Brown, as well as a beauteous and intelligent young lady named "Jinx" Falkenburg.

"Hold On to Your Hats" is a big midsummer event. I cannot imagine any one who would not enjoy it heartily.

WEDDING

Announcement is made of the marriage on July of Miss Marian Leonie Brummel, daughter of Mrs. Henry C. Brummel and the late Mr. Brummel, and Charles A. Barrett, son of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Barrett, son of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Barrett of the south side. The ceremony was a small one, at 5 o'clock in the afternoon, in the chapel of St. Mary of the Lake church. Mr. Barrett and his bride have gone to Canada on their wedding trip. They will make their home on the north side.

ANNENBERG PAYS $800,000 ON HIS BACK INCOME TAX

Court Hears Plea to Grant Probation.

M. L. Annenberg, who is under sentence of three years in the penitentiary for income tax evasion, has started paying the 8 million dollars which he agreed to settle on the government in the next seven years to cover all civil tax claims against himself and his numerous corporations back to 1923.

This was disclosed yesterday during a hearing before Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson on the wealthy publisher's motion that he be placed on probation because of his ill health in lieu of the prison term. A check for $800,000 which was mailed in Chicago last Friday was received Saturday morning by Carter H. Harrison, collector of internal revenue, it was learned.

Another $200,000 will be due Nov. 15 to complete the installment for 1940. Another million will be due next year and another in 1942. Thereafter each annual instalment for the next four years will be approximately $1,500,000.

Also Must Pay Interest.

Annenberg also must pay 6 per cent interest each year on the amount of the original 8 millions which remains unpaid, raising the total sum to be paid to almost 10 million dollars. He has given the treasury first or second mortgages on nearly everything he owns as surety.

The probation hearing dragged on for almost three hours in a courtroom made stuffy and uncomfortable by the weather. Three of Annenberg's physicians, all from Philadelphia, took the stand to describe his various ailments which, they agreed, include a serious internal disorder and infections of the tonsils and sinuses.

Their consensus was that the publisher's health is in a precarious state; that he needs at least two operations; that he shouldn't go to prison.

Use Long Medical Terms.

Their testimony was in a bumbling undertone and they used long medical terms which made the proceedings unintelligible to most observers. Each physician previously had sworn to the same information in affidavits which accompanied a brief in support of Annenberg's motion.

The conclusion of the hearing found Attorney Weymouth Kirkland leaning across the bar pleading eloquently that his client be spared from going to the penitentiary.

"All the ends of justice will be served if this man is placed on probation," he argued. "The rights of the people have been protected. Mr. Annenberg has already started paying the government the money which he was found to owe."

Asks Time for Operations.

He suggested that the court or the government appoint a physician to examine the defendant. If probation is denied, he asked as an alternative that Annenberg be given six weeks in which to have the operations performed before entering prison.

District Attorney Campbell and Austin Hall, an assistant prosecutor, argued that the only ground for granting probation would be if imprisonment would endanger Annenberg's life. This, they asserted the defense has failed to show.

Judge Wilkerson said he will read the transcript of the day's proceedings before deciding whether to ask that Annenberg be examined further. He indicated he will rule on the motion before July 22, when the present stay of execution expires.

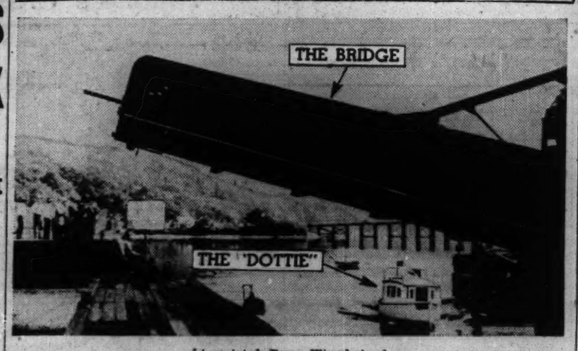
Railroad Bridge Raised for Boat



[Associated Press Wirephotos.]

The Dottie, 22 foot cabin cruiser, passing under bridge that had been raised by New York Central railroad at Peekskill, N. Y., to let "trapped" boat pass. The bridge formerly was a drawbridge.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Douglas and daughter, Dorothy (right), at soda fountain.

Peekskill, N. Y., July 15 (AP).—It cost the New York Central railroad $600 and required the removal, twice in one day, of four tons of track, but Ray Douglas' children got their soda pop and sandwiches.

Douglas owns a 22 foot cabin cruiser, the Dottie, which he moors in a Hudson river inlet near his summer cottage. Across the river are plenty of refreshment stands. But the inlet is blocked at the mouth by a bridge, over which run some of the New York Central's fastest trains. It had been a drawbridge, but when sand barge traffic ceased the railroad built solid rails across it and the Dottie couldn't get under it.

Douglas reported this to the war department, which controls inland waterways. As he suspected, drawbridges must be opened on request. He asked passage at 10:30 a. m. and 1:30 p. m. yesterday. The Douglas family had decided to sail forth for refreshments. So the railroad had a section crew of 30 remove 240 feet of track to let the Dottie out. The track was quickly replaced, only to be removed again for the Dottie's return trip and then replaced.

YOUTHS WITHOUT COLLEGE RECORDS GET AIR TRAINING

A Civil Aeronautics authority program for men without college training is to begin in a week, it was announced yesterday. The program, open to men between the ages of 18 and 26, who pass physical examinations, is sponsored jointly by the Junior Association of Commerce and the Lions' International.

Under provisions of the plan, 72 hours of ground instruction will be given to registrants. If there are more than a single group, 10 flight scholarships, entitling winners to a 35 to 50 hour course in flight instruction will be awarded. In classes less than 50, five such scholarships will be given.

2 INMATES FLEE DWIGHT; SOUGHT IN NEARBY FIELD

Dwight, Ill., July 15 [Special].—Two inmates of the Illinois state reformatory for women escaped a short time after dinner this evening, and are believed to be hiding in a nearby field.

The fugitives are Millie Klea, 31 years old, of Chicago, a narcotic addict, sentenced for a year, and Eva Lehr, 21, of Tilden, serving a one to ten year sentence for arson.

Miss Helen Hazard, superintendent of the reformatory, said she believed the prisoners escaped thru a dormitory window. Miss Hazard said the escape was disclosed within five minutes after the inmates fled.

GRAU CONCEDES COL. BATISTA'S ELECTION IN CUBA

Predict 250,000 Plurality in Presidential Race.

HAVANA, Cuba, July 15.—Former President Ramon Grau San Martin at noon today conceded Col. Fulgencio Batista's victory in yesterday's presidential election. In a short statement, Grau San Martin said:

"Col. Batista has won the election. It does not mean, however, that I am thru as a candidate for the presidency. The curse of the nation has fallen over the army with its abominable abuse of my partisans."

Col. Fulgencio Batista

The latest official figures on the votes were: Batista, 452,975, and Grau San Martin, 235,126. His coalition headquarters expressed the belief that completion of the counting would reveal that Batista, Cuba's "strong man," has won by a plurality of 250,000.

Menocal Ahead for Mayor.

The Supreme Electoral court today unanimously ruled against Grau San Martin's demand that it annul the voting in Pinar del Rio, Matanzas, Camaguey, and Oriente provinces, and held the elections there legal. The ruling closed Grau San Martin's last hope to avert Batista's election thru peaceful legal procedure.

Raul Menocal, Batista's coalition candidate for the Havana mayorship, had 35,272 votes to 29,876 for the opposition candidate, Miguel Mariano Gomez, and 12,367 for the communist candidate, Juan Marinello. Experts believed Menocal would be winner by a majority of 10,000.

Win 115 Mayoralty Polls.

Latest reports showed that the Batista coalition won 115 city mayorships out of 126 thruout the island, and also four governorships — in Pinar del Rio, Havana, Santa Clara, and Oriente provinces. The coalition also was shown to have won a large majority of both branches of congress.

Almazan Wins 60 Seats in Mexican House, Foes Admit

BY WAYNE THOMIS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MEXICO CITY, July 15.—The first open gesture toward a compromise settlement of Mexico's explosive presidential troubles was made today by the radical PRM [Mexican Revolutionary party] as the whole country seethed with disorders attributed to political disputes. The disorders ranged from fisticuffs to assassinations and pitched battle between small groups of citizens and federal troops.

The PRM gesture was the official announcement that supporters of Gen. Juan Andreu Almazan, conservative claimant to the presidency, had won 60 seats in the national house of deputies, where there is a total of 170 seats. The seats were given to Almazan on the basis of the count made by the government party which insists that their candidate, Gen. Manuel Avila Camacho, won the presidential election.

Denies Political Deal.

There have been many reports that President Lazaro Gardenas, who heads the PRM, had attempted to reach a compromise with Almazan. The latter hitherto has stoutly denied being willing to make a "deal." In an interview at his home Almazan said he was not aware of the government efforts to satisfy his claims of victory in the July 7 election by a political trade.

There is a persistent report, however, that Almazan has been offered four cabinet posts and several senatorships if he would withdraw in favor of Camacho.

Manuel Reachi, Almazan's private secretary and aid, said:

"The offer of deputy seats is merely a maneuver to cause deflections in the ranks of Gen. Almazan's supporters. The Almazanists are not falling into the trap. Gen. Almazan's friends are standing firm in the conviction that they will attain victory for the presidency and a legal majority in the chamber."

Almazan Tally Withheld.

Almazan's followers set up their own polling booths and counted their own votes, duplicating the so-called "official" Camachista count that gave Camacho more than 2,000,000 votes and Almazan less than 150,000. Almazan has refused to date to release his count, but has claimed recently that he won a working majority in both chambers of the national congress.

While efforts at conciliation centered here, Almazanistas and PRM controled authorities in Puebla, Vera Cruz, and elsewhere engaged in violent battles. At Vera Cruz the commander of the military zone announced that a former army sergeant and a group of 20 citizens seized arms and fled to the hills in Oaxaca department, and that all were killed in two skirmishes. It is reported that they were rebel Amazan sympathizers.

Search Followers' Homes.

Police and soldiers searched the homes of known Almazanistas following a fight at Puchaca, the seat of the great silver mines, and Hector F. Ortega, a prominent Camacho politician, was killed in the street by gunmen in an automobile. Police said political motives were behind the murder.

The police are under orders of Gov. Maximino Camacho, brother of the presidential candidate. The Almazanistas already had obtained injunctions to prevent searches of homes, but these were ignored. The police said they found several "illegal Almazanista" ballot boxes and arrested more than 12 men.

ROYAL FAMILY OF LUXEMBURG ON WAY TO U. S.

Washington, D. C., July 15 (AP).—The state department said today that seven members of the royal family of Luxemburg were on their way to America on the United States cruiser Trenton.

The Grand Duchess Charlotte-Adelgonde, ruler of the tiny country now occupied by Germany, is not aboard. The party, which left Lisbon today, includes Prince Consort Felix, the six children, and some members of the household staff.

Transportation on the Trenton for members of the royal family was said at the state department to have been granted as a mark of international courtesy to the chief of a state with which the United States always has had friendly relations. It was granted at the request of the Luxemburg government.

The Trenton was said to have finished its tour of duty in European waters.

FARLEY, BANKHEAD, HARRISON NAME ALL-STAR TEAMS

FOOTBALL WINS THREE BALLOTS AT CONVENTION

Sitko Takes Lead in National Poll.

BY ARCH WARD.

Postmaster General James A. Farley, chairman of the Democratic national committee; Representative William A. Bankhead of Alabama, speaker of the house of representatives, and Senator Pat Harrison of Mississippi did some important preliminary voting at Chicago Stadium, site of the Democratic convention, yesterday.

Steve Sitko.

They cast ballots in the national poll which is being conducted by THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE and 391 associated newspapers and radio stations for the purpose of determining the personnel of the All-America football team which will represent the colleges against the Green Bay Packers, champions of the National Football league, in Soldiers' field the night of Aug. 29.

The returns today are representative of nation wide sentiment for the first time. They include thousands of ballots from all sections of the country. As a consequence, players from more widely known colleges and universities have moved to the front.

Sitko Passes Sacco.

Steve Sitko, Notre Dame quarter back, is the most popular candidate in today's standings. He took the lead at that position from Tony Sacco of St. Ambrose, who was in front Sunday and yesterday as the result of organized effort on the part of alumni and other friends of the Davenport, Ia., college.

Two eastern players have pushed their way to top places. They are Harry Stella of the United States Military Academy at tackle and Dom Principe, Fordham full back. Stella not only is backed stoutly by friends of the Army, but also by his home town friends in Kankakee, Ill. Principe, who was widely acclaimed as the best full back in the east last season, leads all returns from eastern centers.

Harry Smith of Southern California, an almost unanimous choice for the All-America by newspapers and magazine critics last fall, is in front at guard where his principal competition is coming from supporters of Hal Method of Northwestern and Paul Scheetz of Xavier University.

Turner Is Popular, Too.

The south's leading candidate is Clyde Turner of Hardin Simmons college, who heads all candidates at center. Joe Boyd of the undefeated Texas A. & M. eleven, conqueror of Tulane in the Sugar Bowl game, has moved into second place at tackle, a position good enough to assure him a starting job, if he can hold it until the polls close a week from tonight.

The Omaha World-Herald has been reporting heavy support for George Seemann, Nebraska end, and Nile Kinnick, Iowa half back, who lives in the Nebraska metropolis. The San Francisco Chronicle is running up a big total for Bill Anahu, end, and Johnny Schiechl, center, both of Santa Clara. The Jackson, Miss., Clarion Ledger yesterday turned in 13,217 votes for Jack Nix, Mississippi State half back, whose supporters are making a house to house canvass in his behalf. The Champaign News-Gazette filed 3,798 for Jim Reeder, tackle; 2,650 for Mel Brewer, guard, and 2,342 for Bill Lenich, center, all of Illinois.

Farley Picks Team.

From the El Paso, Tex., Herald-Post came 11,236 for Ken Heineman, Texas Mines quarter back, and almost that many for Clyde Turner at center. Ted Hennis, quarter back and Felix Mackiewicz, end, both of Purdue, are running strong on Chicago's west side. Joe Dubsky and Harry Bird of the University of Washington also are scoring heavily in Chicago. All four boys are graduates of Chicago High schools.

Postmaster General Farley, who rarely misses a New York Giant game in the Polo Grounds and who has been a Notre Dame rooter since the playing days of Knute Rockne, says the lineup he has chose nis capable of playing the same kind of football the Packers turned in at Milwaukee last December when they overwhelmed the Giants for the professional championship. His eleven follows:

Ends—Bill Kerr, Notre Dame, and Bob Winslow, Southern California.
Tackles—Joe Boyd, Texas A. & M., and Harry Stella, Army.
Guards—Harry Smith, Southern California, and Jim Turner, Holy Cross.
Center—Clyde Turner, Hardin Simmons.
Quarter back—Grenville Lansdell, Southern California.
Half backs—Nile Kinnick, Iowa, and Banks McFadden, Clemson.
Full back—Dominic Principe, Fordham.

Speaker Bankhead is one of the most rabid sports fans in politics. He

Dempsey Wins by Knockout in 2d Round

Detroit, Mich., July 15 (AP).—Former Heavyweight Champion Jack Dempsey knocked out Bull Curry, Hartford, Conn., wrestler in the second round of a scheduled six round exhibition bout here tonight that was anything but a pugilistic show.

The knockout blow—at 1:05 of the round—was a vicious right to the wrestler's stomach, and was the only one Dempsey was able to land.

From the time the bell sounded for the first round Curry turned the affair into a wrestling match. He got the ex-champion in a headlock and Referee Sam Hennessy finally pried the two apart.

Thirty seconds before the round ended Curry grabbed Dempsey by the legs and both fighters went hurtling thru the ropes into the lap of Chairman John Hettche of the state boxing commission.

Aided by police, Hennessy separated them after they had milled about the floor. Curry protested vociferously that he be allowed to continue after being counted out. Then he went to Dempsey's corner and let Jack have one on the head when his back was turned. That started another free-for-all which ended in Hennessy and Dempsey kicking Curry out of the ring.

The bout was the second for Dempsey. Recently he scored a knockout over a wrestler in Atlanta.

A crowd of 4,509 paid $4,988.50 to see the fight.

CUBS CUT DOWN GIANTS, 5-3, ON LEIBER'S HOMER

Hank Connects with Two On in Seventh.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

The Cubs made only seven hits to 15 for the Giants in Wrigley field yesterday but the Cubs' meager allotment included a triple with one on by Bill Herman and a homer with two on by Hank Leiber. These mammoth swats were the dynamite which gave the Chicagoans a 5 to 3 victory and a lead in the four game series, two successes to one.

Hank Leiber.

Charley Root, bailed Larry French out of grievous distress in the seventh inning, was the winning pitcher, his second triumph of the year. Charley Sr., however, had to be rescued in the ninth, Claude Passeau going in to quell the proud New Yorkers.

Hartnett Goes to Plate.

Manager Gabby Hartnett went in to catch French at the start, the first time he has been Larry's battery mate since July 3, 1939. While Gabby played no cashable part in the Chicago offensive, he continued as a good luck billikin of parts. Since launching their home stand the Cubs have won four games and lost three. Gabby caught all four of the victories, none of the three defeats.

The Cubs have been taunted considerably this year for their flair for leaving runners on base. Yesterday, however, the Giants showed they are versed in the stranding technique. Bill Terry's alert fellows left 16 on base, tho choked by two double plays and an out at the plate. The Cubs left only six, half of the total in the fourth inning just before the day's scoring began.

Hank's No Longer Sick.

Leiber's deciding homer with Stan Hack and Herman on base [Stan also was on when Herman busted his triple] was all the more joyous because Hank has been a very sick boy. He wasn't sick yesterday, as he whacked that homer off Jim Lynn in the teeth of a very wicked breeze.

Things didn't begin to warm up until the fourth inning, not even a mild threat developing in the first three innings against the excellence of French and Cliff Melton, Giants' starting pitcher.

The first bid for a run was made by the Giants in the fourth when the Giants had runners on third and first with one out. Frank Demaree walked at the outset, paused while Babe Young flied to Augie Galan and proceeded to third on Harry Danning's single to center. Mel Ott then banged one to French who launched a double play thru Bob Mattick.

Cubs Strand 620th Mate.

The Cubs loaded the bases without the aid of a hit in the home fourth, but the net of the accomplishment was the 620th Cub left on base. With two out, Galan drew Melton's first pass and stopped at second while Phil Cavarretta was reaching first on Jurges' fumble. Hartnett walked, filling the bases. Then Mattick struck out.

The Giants continued to threaten in the fifth, but were halted at the plate. Bill Jurges singled and Melton plunked a sacrifice in front of the plate. Hartnett picked up the ball and tried to throw it to second tho Jurges virtually had arrived at that station. Bill and Cliff were safe. Burgess Whitehead singled to left and Jurges was out at the plate, Galan to Hartnett. Moore bounced to Cavarretta.

Then came the Cubs' fifth and a two run interruption of the thwarted threat business. After French had

'Round the Raspberry Bush.

I see that Jack Johnson wants to fight Jack Dempsey. What IS all this, anyhow? Anybody heard from the Masked Marvel lately?

Looks as if the Democrats will have to adopt for their campaign song the once popular ditty, "She Wouldn't Say Yes And She Wouldn't Say No." Remember?

At Moline, Ill., a gentleman has been sentenced to 90 days in jail for almost twisting his mother-in-law's thumb off her hand. And the hitch hiking season just getting into full swing, too!

Then there was the good Dubuque woman who, recounting her late husband's last illness to a group of sympathetic friends, finished with: "Nobody will ever know what the poor man suffered. For seven whole days before the end he lay there in a complete kimona."

War Orphan Speaking.

It was quiet out on the big ocean,
And rather cold weather for June.
And mostly they put our ship's lights out,
But they couldn't put out the moon.

It came down and bathed in the water,
And coated with silver the foam,
All ever so peaceful and pretty;
But I wanted to be back at home . . .

Well, here we are now in the New World,
Where they don't ever have any war
And they don't know what gas masks are for.

Of course they have Indians and cowboys,
And gangsters and grizzly bears,
And kidnapers, sometimes, and cyclones,
And earthquakes and things—but who cares?

They don't ever have any blackouts,
Nor any old siren that screams
And keeps you awake all the night long,
Or makes you have horrible dreams.

No wonder that every morning
The school children stand up and sing
Of their country, their well beloved country,
To the good tune of "God Save the King."

America! How we should love her,
So big, tender hearted and free
But still there's a tight little island,
Set, like a rare gem, in the sea,

An island, war-ridden and weary,
That calls me wherever I roam,—
O thank you, New World, for your kindness,
But, please, I should like to go home.

—Elmer.

Pete Appleton Rescues Southpaw in Eighth.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, July 15.—The title holding Yankees tried to be their old swaggering selves today, but the once dreaded punch just wasn't there. They cut loose in the eighth inning after seven futile rounds against the southpawing of Eddie Smith and, while they knocked the little towhead out of action, their belated splurge was turned back by Pete Appleton in time to save a 3 to 2 decision for the White Sox in the second of the series.

The Sox weren't what might be termed slugging gentlemen, but turned their day's work into a success simply by getting maximum results from what little hitting they accomplished against the pitching of Marv Breuer. He held them to four hits in six innings, but two of the safeties were paired for a run in the third. The Sox paired hits again in the seventh for a run, which the Yanks encouraged by erring in the field. And after this there was only one Sox hit, but it was important. Joe Kuhel planted his fourteenth homer into the right field seats in the eighth.

Appleton Does a Neat Job.

Smith, who now can point with pride to the fact that he has whipped the world champions three times this year, set such a dizzy pace for himself that for seven innings he gave up only five hits, all singles. Only one of these five men reached second base. And Edgar was almost thru the eighth successfully when the Yanks began to charge. He had two men out with one on, but suddenly was deluged with blows by Charles Keller, Joe DiMaggio and Joe Gordon, two scoring. Appleton came in, filled the bases by issuing an intentional pass, got the next man on a pop foul and bowled over three Yanks in succession in the ninth.

White Sox Settle for One.

Business was pretty dull for all the hitters until the Sox came up with the little disturbance that netted them a run in the third. Smith put this venture under way by singling over second with one out. Skeeter Webb helped it along by coaxing a pass from Breuer. Then Kreevich hit the ball in front of the 415 foot sign in center, but it bounced into the seats for an automatic two bagger. Smith scored, but Webb, because of the ground rule, had to stop at third. Babe Dahlgren scooped up Kuhel's grounder and after touching first noticed that Webb was roaming loose between third and home. After the usual tossing of the ball Webb was doubled.

The Yanks also did their first bit

Patton Sells Share in Plant.

BY HOWARD BARRY.

A group of business men led by John L. Keeshin, head of the nation's largest trucking enterprise, yesterday purchased control of the Sportsman's park race track. Keeshin announced that he would apply at once to the Illinois racing commission for a license to conduct a meeting this fall.

John L. Keeshin.

The deal was made yesterday in the offices of the National Jockey club, which operates the race track. Keeshin and his associates reached a settlement with John Patton, who shared control with the late Edward J. O'Hare. The latter was murdered last Nov. 8, shortly after the close of the track's meeting.

A Complete New Setup.

Keeshin stated that the group which operated the track since its start in 1932 is replaced entirely by the new organization. There are three directors, one of whom is Keeshin himself. The others are Joseph E. Donovan, an official of Keeshin's trucking concern, and William J. Egan of Newark, assistant attorney general of New Jersey and past supreme governor of the Loyal Order of the Moose.

Keeshin is president, Donovan treasurer, and Egan secretary. Walter Bockstahler, another official of the trucking firm, is vice president.

Among Keeshin's other associates in the Sportsman's Park purchase is William F. Alexander, president of Alexander & Alexander of New York, one of the largest insurance brokerage companies in the country.

The purchase price was not disclosed, but it is understood there was some reduction from the value of $500,000 originally set on it by the former owners.

Records on file in the racing commission offices show there was an issue of $500,000 worth of stock in Sportsman's Park. The issue consisted of 10,000 shares with a par value of $50 each. In testifying at the inquiry, which followed O'Hare's murder, Patton stated that he owned 3,499 shares and O'Hare 3,490. He said another 1,166 shares were divided among his wife and two sons, and 385 among O'Hare's children.

Track Returns Profit.

The track, which has been highly popular with Chicago turf fans, was a profitable investment. Patton testified it netted $80,000 during last fall's meeting, after which a dividend of $8 a share was declared.

A period from Oct. 7 to Nov. 2, a total of 24 racing days, is available for a Sportsman's Park meeting. When the Illinois racing commission made its allotment of 1940 dates Sporsman's Park's application was rejected pending the disposal of O'Hare's stock and the naming of a new president to succeed him. The murder had occurred during the interim of several weeks between the filing of the application and the allotment of dates. The commission based its rejection on a law requiring that applicants furnish full information about the ownership of stock and about the identity, financial integrity, and moral responsibility of all officials before a license can be granted.

He's a Self-Made Man.

From his offices at 221 West Roosevelt road, Keeshin directs the activities of the nation's largest fleet of trucks. He went into the business at the age of 14 with a horse and wagon—and for quite a while it was a one-man venture. When he advanced to the motor truck stage, he was still doing his own driving. In the earlier days of the automobile, when Chicago was surrounded by dirt roads, he used to make personal deliveries.

Keeshin's trucking business expanded to a national scale with the cooperation of John Hertz, Chicago and New York financier and transportation expert, who was executive director of the former Arlington Park race track organization. The development of the trucking enterprise was financed thru Lehman Brothers, New York investment banking firm in which Hertz is a partner.

FLORIDA PRO'S 69 LEADS IN CHICAGO OPEN QUALIFYING

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

Ed Brook, 27 year old Bartow, Fla., professional, is a long way from home, but he's certain of a place in the third $5,000 Chicago Open, to be held Friday, Saturday, and Sunday at the Tam o' Shanter Country club. He earned a place in the big show yesterday by shooting a 35—34—69, three under par for Tam o' Shanter, in the special qualifying round for late entrants and players who were not exempt from the trial.

Brook's performance was the best of a day in which 140 professionals and amateurs sought the last 50 places in the tournament proper, main event of the 1940 Chicago season. The other 150 rôles in Friday's starting cast of 200 already have been filled by early entrants and stars who were exempt from yesterday's test.

Rouse Scores a 70.

One stroke back of Brook was Sonny Rouse of the Waukegan driving range, who might have matched or bettered Brook's score except for an out of bounds at the 14th.

Best of the 50 amateur qualifiers was Dr. John A. Hattstrom of Kildeer, who finished with a 39—36—75. Three other amateur swingers turned in 76s. They were Manuel De La Torre and Bill Chambers of Sunset Valley, and Vincent Ginkus of Glenwood, former Chicago city champion.

Fourteen Play for Two Places.

Seven professionals and seven amateurs, who were deadlocked at 81, were sent out in a playoff for the last two places in the tournament. Ken Morine of the home club and T. J. O'Connell of McHenry won the places with par fours on the first extra hole.

PLAY SOFTBALL BENEFIT TONIGHT FOR INJURED STAR

Paul Kamradt's teammates will be playing softball for him tonight. Paul, 26 years old, was injured July 4 sliding head first into home plate for his team, the Zephyrs, against Chicago Steel, in Bridgeport.

Tonight the two teams will meet at the Five Holy Martyrs stadium, 44th and Richmond streets. There will be two other games, too, and proceeds will be placed in a fund for the injured athlete. Paul is in St. Luke's hospital and last night his condition was described as still critical. The impact of his head against the catcher's knee fractured his neck and paralyzed him from the chest down. His home is at 3124 South May street.

selected his team from first hand knowledge. He was a star himself at the University of Alabama "way back when they really played football" and after his Alabama career he went to Georgetown for post graduate work and played with the Hoyas in 1894 and 1895. He challenged Senator Harrison to come up with a better team than this one:

Ends—Bill Kerr, Notre Dame, and Esco Sarkkinen, Ohio State.
Guards—Harry Smith, Southern California, and Jim Turner, Holy Cross.
Center—Cary Cox, Alabama.
Quarter back—George Cafego, Tennessee.
Full back—Banks McFadden, Clemson.

Harrison Accepts Challenge.

Senator Harrison, who was an all-around athlete at Louisiana State, accepted the challenge, altho he said earlier experience made him a greater authority on home runs and double plays than line bucks and mouse traps. His ballot read:

Ends—Ken Kavanaugh, Louisiana State, and Ralph Wenzel, Tulane.
Center—Clyde Turner, Hardin Simmons.
Full back—Martin Christiansen, Minnesota.

CLARK MEDALIST IN JUNIOR GOLF AFTER 29 HOLES

Goodwin Clark of Hinsdale, captain-elect of the Michigan golf team, won medalist honors from a field of 56 in the qualifying round of the Chicago District Golf association junior closed tournament at Park Ridge yesterday. The Wolverine golfer, however, was forced to go 11 extra holes before wresting the honor from Gordon Sibley of Skokie and Earl Wilde of Westward Ho, the defending champion.

They were tied with 75s at the end of the regulation 18 holes and elected to play an additional nine. Clark and Sibley both shot 38 while Wilde dropped out when he took 40 strokes. The two remaining shooters had par 4s on the next hole, but Clark was down in 4 on the 11th, where Sibley three-putted for a 5.

Charles Barrett of Northwestern university qualified with 78, then went over to Tam O' Shanter and shot another 78 to qualify in the Chicago open.

The 32 low scorers, with cards of 85 or better qualified for match play which will get under way today with two 18 hole rounds. The 36 hole finals will be held Thursday.

Ward Captures Close Decision from Gamiere

Gene Ward, Chicago lightweight, and Mike Gamiere of Cleveland fought to a draw in an eight round bout in Marigold Gardens last night. Referee Joe McNamara and Judge Harry Gamson scored the match even, but Ed Hintz, the other judge, gave his vote to Ward.

Paul Frazier, south side light heavyweight, became Jimmy Bivins' 13th consecutive victim in an eight round secondary feature. Eddie Camp, west side heavyweight, snapped Settino Terracina's string of American victories by knocking out his Jewish refugee foe in the second round. Ramey McKnight, Milwaukee junior welterweight who recently was graduated from Lincoln High school there, showed impressively in a four round victory over Ralph Guajardo. Tito Taylor pounded out a decision over Matt Callura, welterweight, also of Milwaukee, in a four round opener.

CUBS CUT DOWN GIANTS, 5-3, ON LEIBER'S HOMER

Seeds Beats Out Bunt.

Bob Seeds batted for Melton at the start of the seventh and beat out a bunt to Hack for the ninth Giant hit. Whitehead hit into a double play started by Mattick. Joe Moore singled to right and Demaree walked whereupon Young doubled to right, scoring Moore and Demaree with the tying runs. Young reached third when Hartnett failed to take hold of Herman's relay. Danning was given an intentional pass but when French also passed Ott, loading the bases, he was excused and Root went in. Tony Cuccinello popped to Cavarretta.

Lynn was the Giant pitcher at the start of the home seventh. Root lined to Moore, but Hack hit his third single and Herman walked. Gleeson flied to Demaree then Leiber, after running the count to three balls and two strikes, defied the brisk north wind by driving the ball into Waveland avenue, his sixth homer of the year. Galan flied to Ott.

Cavarretta Fumbles Grounder.

After Jurges had been called out on strikes at the start of the eighth Johnny McCarthy batted for Lynn and singled to center. McCarthy and Whitehead were safe when Cavarretta fumbled the latter's grounder. Moore then walked, loading the bases. Demaree was out, Cavarretta to Root, McCarthy scoring. Young popped to Herman.

It will be Harry Gumbert against Vern Olsen in the Giants-Cubs final this afternoon. Gumbert has won seven and lost four. Olsen has won four and lost 4. He shut out the Bees in his last performance.

In the Wake of the News

One Man's Opinion.

What have Joe Triner and his associates on the Illinois Athletic commission got against Mike Jacobs? They certainly did an effective job of blocking him out of Chicago with that assinine decision in the Harry Thomas case. All boxing commissions are more or less stupid, but I'll vote for the Illinois group as my all time All-American dumbbells.

Anticipation.

The major league All-Star game gets better each year. We were left speechless with excitement during the broadcast from St. Louis when Red Barber announced that "Carl Hubbell is standing out there on the mound—his pants almost down to his ankles." Boy, we can hardly wait to see what the 1941 classic will bring forth.

Cliff Dweller.

I'd rather live on the side of a cliff
Rather the hazard of dangling mid-air
Than live in the Valley's monotonous dead.

Better to gasp as the wind blazes paths
Fighting for breath—know the thrill
Of 'biding with danger, adventure and life
Than dwell in the calm that can kill.

I'd rather live on the side of a cliff
Each moment expecting to drop,
Than stay in the Valley of Daily Routine,

ED SMITH NEEDS AID, BUT THE SOX BEAT YANKS, 3-2

of hitting in the third. Mills led off with a fly to Solters and Dahlgren, by singling to center, became the first Yankee to reach base. Breuer was erased on strikes, but Crosetti singled to left. The threat faded when Rolfe bounced to Kuhel. The next safe tap from a Yankee bat was a single to left by DiMaggio with one gone in the fourth. Joe was still on first base when the inning closed.

Kreevich Hits a "Foul" Homer.

The Smith-Webb-Kreevich trio came close to embarrassing the champions again in the fifth. After two were out, Smitty beat out a high bounder in front of the plate and Webb boomed a clothesline single into center. Kreevich stepped up and slapped a long fly into the left field seats, but by the time the ball descended it had curved into foul territory. Kreevich took another hefty swing and this time produced a handsome liner to right center, but Keller sprinted over and made connections.

Appling's tour around the bases with the Sox seventh inning run began with his single to right, but it wasn't necessary for Luke to stop at first. Keller let the ball roll thru his hands and Luke went to third. He stayed there while Crosetti was throwing out Tresh, but came in on Kennedy's single thru short.

Tresh Saves the Day.

After having his lead swelled to three runs on Kuhel's homer to right on Breuer's first pitch in the eighth, Smith wasn't long in finding trouble. Bill Knickerbocker, batting for Breuer, singled to open the home half and was forced by Crosetti, after which Rolfe popped to Appling. Keller came to life with a two bagger, Crosetti stopping at third. Frankie scored a moment later on DiMaggio's infield single. Gordon doubled to left, Keller scoring. Appleton came dashing to the rescue as Dickey batted for Rosar, but he was purposely passed, filling the bases. Henrich swung for Mills and produced a tall foul, which Tresh grabbed and held despite a tumble into the seats.

MIDWEST GROUP RAPS RAIL RATE COAL PRICE BASE

Terms It Blow at River Traffic Development.

The Mississippi Valley association in its monthly bulletin yesterday criticized the bituminous coal division of the department of interior for the proposal to fix minimum coal prices on the basis of an all-rail rate.

The association endorsed the position taken by the consumers' counsel division of the department which, in exceptions filed, charged that fixing rates on that basis is an attempt to discriminate between transportation agencies, an action which exceeds the authority granted the coal division. The consumers' counsel division stated its position:

"It is our contention that the fair price for every consumer is the same f. o. b. mine price, whether the coal moves by rail or water."

Assails Discrimination.

"This is also the position of the Mississippi Valley association," the association's bulletin stated. "Many other civic, industrial, commercial, agricultural, and consumer organizations have gone on record as saying in substance that the fixing of mine prices so as to discriminate against any form of transportation, rail, river or truck, is uneconomic, unjust, and contrary to the public interest."

The publication quotes the argument before H. A. Gray, director of the bituminous coal division, by George Bronz, chief legal adviser of the consumers' counsel division, who said in part:

"Now, just at the time when the Mississippi river waterways project is being completed and just at the time when the defense needs of the country are greatest, the examiners would have you adopt a price policy which would drive coal off the river, which would prevent the development of a substantial river transportation service, because the river carriers won't build barges if they don't have something to move on the barges.

Prevents Two-Way Cargoes.

"Not only that, but because of the necessity for two-way cargoes on barges, the elimination or serious restriction of coal traffic on the river will tend to prevent traffic in other commodities, such as iron ore and agricultural products."

Bronz declared that river shipments have no advantage except price. "The consumer can get smaller quantities by rail," he said. "He can have more definite deliveries. The coal is not subjected to as rough treatment as it is on the usual water shipment."

The Mississippi Valley association has for its purpose the economic advancement of the middle west.

BUSINESS LOAN VOLUME RISES FOR SIXTH WEEK

9 Million Gain Puts Total at $4,447,000,000.

For the sixth straight week banks in the nation increased their loans to business in the seven day period ended July 10, the Federal Reserve bank of Chicago reported yesterday. Such loans are regarded an index of industrial and commercial activity.

The bank's statement was based on reports from reserve system member banks in 101 cities to the federal reserve board. The summary showed commercial, industrial and agricultural loans totaled $4,447,000,000 at the end of the week, an increase of $9,000,000 over the preceding week. In the last six weeks such loans have increased a total of $80,000,000.

Following are the principal assets and liabilities of the member banks at the close of business Wednesday [last six ciphers omitted]:

TRANSFER TAXES.

Answer: The revenue act of 1940 amended the internal revenue code by increasing the tax rates on transfers of securities 1 cent in each instance where the tax applied. The new rates went into effect July 1.

The tax on transfers of stocks has been raised from 4 to 5 cents for each $100 of par value or fraction. The same rate applies to each share with no par value. On shares selling for $20 or more the rate has been increased from 5 to 6 cents.

The levy on transfers of bonds has been increased from 4 to 5 cents on each $100 face value or fraction.

UNDERWRITING LEADERS.

Do you know whether statistics are available showing underwriting activities of various investment banking houses? What firms led in underwriting last year?—J. G.

Answer: The Securities and Exchange commission compiles reports on underwriting of registered securities. In 1939, the commission disclosed, $1,325,426,000 in 159 different issues of securities were offered for sale.

The five firms which led in the management of underwriting syndicates were:

	Securities Managed.
Dillon, Read & Co.	$220,347,000
Halsey, Stuart & Co., Inc.	174,250,000
The First Boston Corp.	155,273,000
Morgan Stanley & Co., Inc.	135,949,000
Smith, Barney & Co.	73,949,000

	Underwriting Participations.
The First Boston Corp.	$82,847,000
Harriman Ripley & Co., Inc.	69,188,000
Blyth & Co., Inc.	58,807,000
Halsey, Stuart & Co.	55,665,000
Smith, Barney & Co.	52,867,000

NET WORTH.

What is meant by net worth?—F. M.

Answer: Net worth refers to the excess of assets over liabilities in the balance sheet of a business. It includes all undivided profits and surplus as well as the original investment [paid-in cash and assets]. Net worth is often used synonymously for capital or invested capital.

Wheat Crop Tangled.

July 15, 1940.

WHEAT harvest at the Du Page county farm likely will be a tough job this year, because much of the wheat is down and badly tangled. Part of it was knocked down by wind and rain just as the grain heads were filling, and never straightened up. Each succeeding rain has beaten down more of the rank plants. It looks now as if more wheat will be down than standing at harvest time.

The wheat grew taller and ranker than usual this year, which probably accounted for much lodging of the plants. The workers think they will be able to do a fairly clean job of harvesting the tangled wheat with a combine by setting the cutter bar as low as possible. The manager says it is doubtful whether the wheat could be cut successfully with a binder, because it is so tangled in spots that a binder would not tie the bundles evenly enough to be put into shocks. The wheat is ripening and is expected to be ready for the combine by the end of next week.

Oats Turning Yellow.

Oats are just beginning to turn yellow. The straw has good height, and the heads are well filled. The oat fields are fairly free from weeds except for scattered bunches of Canada thistles that keep showing up. The thistles are cut as fast as they appear.

So far the oats at the farm have not lodged badly, and workers are hopeful that the plants will stand until the grain is ready to harvest. Heavy rains flattened oats in some communities in northern Illinois last week.

Hay harvesters ran into their first trouble of the season in trying to cure hay in the fields last week when light showers caught 15 acres of red clover down in the swath and about two acres of clover and timothy in windrows. The hay was not damaged, but work was delayed while it dried out. Most of the hay crop has gone into the barns in fine condition without any interference from rain while the hay was curing. Some alfalfa that was cut for silage took a light rain while in the swath, but was put in the silo wet. Extra moisture does no harm to green hay used for silage.

Timothy Ready to Harvest.

The men expect to start cutting timothy this week. There are between 45 and 50 acres of timothy for harvest. It will be baled in the field in order to find room to store it. With one of the largest hay crops grown on the place now being harvested and several tons of old hay left over from previous years, it is a problem to find room for all of it. The biggest problem now, however, is to get the hay in before the wheat is ready to harvest.

The second crop of alfalfa likely will be ready to cut about the time oats are being harvested. There are prospects for a good yield of fine quality hay from the second cutting.

LOSS OF POTTERY AND RUG IMPORTS TO BE FELT SOON

Dealers Turn to American Firms for Supplies.

Full effect of dwindled imports of china, pottery, glassware, rugs and textiles from Europe will soon be felt and major changes strengthening the position of American manufacturers are under way, a survey of the industries indicated yesterday.

About 40 per cent of the china, glassware and gift articles bought each year in this country formerly was imported from Europe. Czecho-Slovakia sent china, glass, pottery, and gifts; France shipped china and pottery; Holland and Belgium exported pottery, fine glass and inexpensive rugs, and textiles were imported from many of the countries.

Expand American Output.

Retailers, unable to get shipments from these countries on the former large scale, have turned to American manufacturers. Percy Wilson, managing director of the Merchandise Mart, said that a 75 per cent increase in domestic production of the items mentioned is expected. Many firms have already expanded operations as the demand increased, he said.

This was confirmed by H. E. Cuttle of Grow and Cuttle, china and pottery dealers. Cuttle said a labor "bottleneck" has developed in the industry as demand for American made products increases.

"In the high priced exclusive lines," he said, "we haven't the workmen who are trained in painting, engraving, and porcelain work. But we have turned to American manufacturers to replace the lost markets of Europe for the medium grades.

Inventories Were Large.

"Domestic producers have started to train men and expand their plants for production of fine merchandise. They are beginning to make an art out of pottery instead of just 'potting.'"

Few of the companies manufacturing such items are situated in the middle west. Most of the glass and pottery manufacturers have plants in the east and in California.

Harry Dalzell, Chicago manager of the Fostoria Glass company, West Virginia, said imports of fine glassware have dwindled since the German occupation of Czecho-Slovakia.

"The handmade glassware industry in this country has been powerfully stimulated," he said. "We're not producing the works of art that formerly came from abroad, but production of the better class of glassware has been encouraged."

Wage Levels Higher.

Dalzell said that American glass workers are paid more than five times the wages received by the European workers. He said if the demand for extra fancy glassware increases in America, the domestic manufacturers will be able to satisfy it.

An official of Lussky, White and Coolidge, Inc., textile dealers, said that linen is "pretty well off the market" now and many types of cloth, formerly imported, now must be produced in the United States. He said it is too early to feel the "pinch" in most lines.

R. B. Haynes, floor manager for the Bigelow-Sanford Carpet company, said until now most types of imported wools could be obtained but the price has been prohibitive. He said the use of rayon in rugs will do much to stabilize the wool market.

Cotton and jute rugs made in Belgium, France and Italy which formerly sold at low prices in the United States have practically disappeared from the market, he added.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK

[All prices are in dollars per 100 pounds.]

Price trends in the hog market were mixed yesterday. Most kinds sold steady to 10 cents lower with spots off more. Light sows held fully steady and heavy sows sold up to 10 cents higher. The average was off 5 cents at $6.10 a hundred pounds.

Reductions of 50 cents to $1.00 a hundred pounds in wholesale pork prices restricted the demand for hogs.

The market for most classes of cattle was under pressure of large receipts. Arrivals, at 16,000 head, were largest in six weeks. Lamb prices tumbled 25 to 40 cents.

COURT TIES UP SURFACE LINES' BOND INTEREST

Demands Evidence of Merger Action.

BY LAURENCE BURD.

Federal Judge Michael L. Igoe yesterday refused to authorize immediately the semiannual interest payment of $1,818,000 due Aug. 1 on the Chicago Surface Lines' $72,718,000 of first mortgage bonds. The bonds are held by more than 25,000 owners.

Michael L. Igoe.

Judge Igoe asserted he will not order payment unless evidence is submitted to the court before Aug. 1 that a unified transit company will be formed shortly by a merger of the surface and elevated lines to operate the $46,000,000 city owned subway now being built.

The petition for payment of bond interest was filed by attorneys Henry F. Tenney and J. F. Dammann, representing the bondholders' protective committee. Judge Igoe directed the attorneys to report July 24 on the progress of the transit merger plans, so he may determine whether the Aug. 1 interest should be paid.

Interest Paid Regularly.

The interest, at 5 per cent a year, has been paid regularly and on time ever since the bonds were issued more than 20 years ago, altho the surface lines have been in court receivership since 1926.

"My position on the interest payment has not changed since last March," Judge Igoe declared. "At that time I told representatives of the first mortgage bondholders that unless the transit lines by Aug. 1 reached a substantial agreement with the city on a traction unification ordinance setting up a company to operate the subway and all other transit lines it would be useless for the bondholders to ask for any interest.

"There is nothing before me now indicating I should sign an order to pay the interest. I don't want to hurt the bondholders. They are not to blame for this situation.

Put Up to City Council.

"But nobody here can be blind to what is happening. Chicago is building a subway. For all I know maybe the subway is going to be used for exhibition purposes. I know of no steps taken to buy cars and get the subway into operation.

"This court wants to do all it can to put thru a transit unification and make possible the subway operation. I protest here and now against Chicago's useless traction problem that has dragged on for 13 years. Nothing has been done to solve it.

"But right now it is up to the city council to approve a unification ordinance and submit it to the court. Then the court can act, because it has jurisdiction over the transit companies. The court does not propose to influence the city council, but it wants an end to this delay."

Hearings Being Held.

William H. Sexton, city traction counsel, told Judge Igoe that plans for passage of a unified ordinance by the city council are going ahead without delay. He said that an ordinance draft has been prepared on the basis of an agreement reached with the lines' representatives in May. Public hearings are now being held on the ordinance, after which it will go to the council transportation committee and then to the city council, Sexton said.

"The city is not unmindful of the humiliation that would result from having no tenant for the subway," Sexton said.

Another potential monkey wrench in the involved traction merger plans was tossed into the lap of the federal court yesterday when a petition was filed protesting against the proposed financial reorganization plan of the surface lines. The petition was filed by Sidney S. Gorham Jr., representing common stock holders of the Chicago Railways company, which operates the north side routes of the surface lines.

Charges Wrong Basis.

Gorham asserted that the reorganization plan is wrongly based on an agreement in effect since 1913, whereby the north side lines receive 60 per cent of the surface lines' receipts. He contended that the north and northwest sections of Chicago have expanded more than any other sections since 1913 and that consequently routes operated by Chicago Railways actually receive more than 60 per cent of the surface lines' revenues.

The petition asked the court to order an audit and investigation to determine the actual revenue receipts, and requested a reallocation of new securities on the basis of the revenues. The south side surface lines are operated by the Chicago City Railway company and Calumet and South Chicago Railways. Gorham's petition also charged that 15 violations of standard accounting procedures are contained in accounting methods followed by Chicago Railways.

91 Day Treasury Bills Are Sold at Higher Price

Washington, D. C., July 15 [Special].—The treasury today sold its weekly offering of 91-day bills at an average price of 99.998, compared with 99.996 last week. This was equal to an interest basis of 0.008 per cent compared with 0.017 per cent a week ago. The bills were dated July 17 and mature Oct. 16.

Stock Trading Is Lightest in Last 22 Years

New York, July 15 (AP).—Stocks tended a bit higher in today's market, but real strength was lacking. Domestic politics vied with the European war, brokers said, to keep traders in the waiting ranks.

Altho the Associated Press average of 60 issues edged up .1 of a point at 41.2—it has varied only slightly from this figure in the last two weeks—the day's turnover of 226,580 shares was the smallest for any full session since Aug. 2, 1918.

Watch Democratic Meeting.

In addition to the desire of speculative forces to conserve cash pending outcome of the national Democratic convention, intensification of axis threats against England served to accentuate the conservatism of buyers.

Lack of any sizable selling, at the same time, was attributed to persistent hopes the huge volume of defense spending, despite the coincidental mounting of taxes, would eventually spur many lines of industry and bring a steady flow of dividends.

Steels led an early forward move, but closed below their best prices when the estimated rise in this week's mill operations was less than had been expected. United States Steel finished up ½, Republic ⅛, and Youngstown Sheet ⅝. Bethlehem showed a net loss of ¼.

A. T. & T. Declines ½ Point.

American Telephone was off ½ and du Pont up ¼. Both these pivotal corporations issued earnings statements disclosing satisfactory increases over a year ago. General Motors and Chrysler gained ½ and ¾, respectively.

Also advancing fractions to around a point were United Aircraft, Glenn Martin, Celanese, Eastman Kodak, Philip Morris, Great Northern, Montgomery Ward, Kennecott, Consolidated Edison, Westinghouse, Air Reduction, and General Electric.

Off as much were Johns-Manville, Douglas Aircraft, Boeing, Union Carbide, International Nickel, Standard Oil of New Jersey, Santa Fe, Woolworth, and United States Rubber.

DEBENTURE DEBT OF EDISON IS CUT TO 32½ MILLIONS

The consolidated capital structure of Commonwealth Edison company and its subsidiaries now consists of 49 per cent Edison common stock, 46 per cent mortgage bonds, and 5 per cent debentures, Chairman Charles Y. Freeman announced yesterday.

Reduction of debenture debt has been accomplished by the conversion into common stock of $96,874,300, or 75 per cent, of the $129,431,400 of debentures originally issued. Debentures now outstanding total $32,557,100.

Freeman reported a total of $3,450,500 of the debentures had been converted into common stock since July 1. Yesterday was the final day on which debenture holders who collected their July 1 coupon could convert and become stock holders of record for the 45 cent dividend payable on the common Aug. 1.

Under the conversion right of the debentures they may be exchanged for four shares of $25 par common stock per $100 of face value.

WAY TO PRODUCE BRONZE WITHOUT TIN IS DEVISED

Officials of Revere Copper and Brass, Inc., of Baltimore, a leading fabricator, said yesterday that if the United States supply of tin now obtained chiefly from the Malay peninsula and the Dutch East Indies should be cut off, Revere research men would be able to provide an adequate substitute for tin as far as the making of bronze is concerned.

The statement was made by C. Donald Dallas, president of Revere, in announcing that the company's research department has perfected the substitution of copper silicon alloys [silicon bronzes] for tin bronzes in which from 2 per cent to 10 per cent of tin is ordinarily used.

United Electric Coal Gets 2 Million in Bank Loans

The United Electric Coal companies have negotiated a five year $2,000,000 debenture loan at 3 per cent with three New York banks, Frank F. Kolbe, president, announced yesterday. The loan will be repaid at the rate of 20 cents per ton of coal sold, with a minimum yearly payment of $350,000. About $750,000 of the loan will be used for capital improvements and the rest to repay a 4½ per cent bank loan.

BELL SYSTEM'S NET RISES; MORE PHONES IN USE

Du Pont's Half Year Profit Is Higher.

Telephones in service and earnings of American Telephone and Telegraph company and the Bell System—A. T. & T., and its principal telephone subsidiaries—have shown large increases in the fiscal periods just ended, Walter S. Gifford, president of the world's largest utility, announced yesterday.

E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Co. reported in a preliminary statement that earnings for the six months ended June 30 were equal to $4.06 a share on the common stock compared with $3.28 a share in the same period last year.

Gifford said the Bell system had a net gain of 449,000 telephones during the first six months of the year compared with a gain of 370,000 during the same period last year. About 5.1 per cent more telephones were in service during the first half of this year than in the first six months of 1939. Toll and long distance calls increased about 6.5 per cent this year over those of the six months last year.

Profits Reflect Greater Use.

This increased use of service was reflected in the two sets of earnings figures issued by Gifford. The first was that of the parent company, A. T. & T.

For the three months ended June 30, A. T. & T. had net income of $44,933,952, or $2.40 per common share, against $40,370,919 or $2.16 per share in the 1939 period. Net income for the 12 months ended June 30 was $183,501,686, or $9.82 a share, compared with $156,776,994, or $8.39 a share, in the preceding 12 months. The figures did not include the company's proportionate interest in undivided profits or deficits of subsidiary company.

The second set of figures, which included the consolidated companies, revealed net income of $52,444,985, equal to $2.81 a share on A. T. & T. stock, for the three months ended May 31. This compared with $47,115,557, or $2.52 a share, in the comparable 1939 period. For the 12 months ended May 31, the system had net income of $203,549,917, or $10.89 per A. T. & T. share, against $168,103,824, or $8.99 per share, in the preceding 12 months.

Westinghouse Profits Climb.

Based on monthly earnings figures, net income of Westinghouse Electric, large electrical equipment manufacturer, was $5,795,581 in the three months ended June 30. This was equal to $2.17 per combined preferred and common share, and compared with $3,982,637, or $1.49 per combined share, in the 1939 quarter.

For the six months ended June 30, net income of the company was $9,837,010, or $3.68 per combined share, against $6,338,787, or $2.37 a share, in the first half of 1939.

Hiram Walker-Gooderham & Worts, Ltd., and subsidiary companies, distillers, reported that net profit for the three months ended May 31 was $1,381,341 [in Canadian currency], or $1.71 a share, against $1,126,956, or $1.36 a share, in the 1939 quarter. Earnings for the six months were $4,319,858, or $5.38 a share, against $4,288,416, or $5.37 a share, in the first half of 1939.

Tire Maker's Earnings Drop.

General Tire and Rubber company and its subsidiaries, which manufacture and sell automobile and truck tires, reported a drop in earnings for the six months ended May 31. Net income was $280,563, or 39 cents a share, against $1,103,575, or $1.96 a share, in the six months of 1939.

One of the main reasons for the decline in earnings, officials indicated, was the strike at the company's main plant in Akron, O., which tied up production from April 10 to June 26. Another cause was increased crude rubber prices without compensatory adjustment in tire prices, it was said.

Endicott-Johnson corporation, shoe manufacturers, reported for 52 weeks ended June 1 net profit of $1,291,991, equal to $2.28 a share on the common stock, compared with $1,261,358, or $2.19 a share, in 53 weeks ended June 3, 1939.

B. C. Heacock, president of Caterpillar Tractor company, reported the company's net earnings in June were $738,758, against $479,438 in June, 1939, while net income for the six months ended June 30 was $3,509,514, compared with $2,315,380 in the first half of 1939.

Investment Bankers Twitted as Being 'Too Easily Licked'

Investment bankers thruout the nation yesterday were chided in personal letters from Cedric H. Smith, president of Smith, Burris & Co., Chicago and New York investment banking firm, for sitting back and "twirling their thumbs" instead of tackling problems facing their business.

Cedric H. Smith.

"We in the security business are too easily licked," Smith wrote. "Right now the security selling and trading business has before it one of its greatest opportunities.

"What is the matter with us that we are so blind? We have cinders in our eyes—the cinders of uncertainty—the cinders of political uncertainty—the cinders of excess profits taxes."

Smith declared the country is going into a period of activity and prosperity "the like of which has not been seen since 1929." Many security bargains are available to the investing public now, he said.

Asserting that the government's 1937 pump priming efforts sent the markets up, Smith said the current spending program is 10 times stronger and has the backing of the country.

"There is a security-selling fraternity in this country that is supposed to bring this picture to the American public," the letter said. "Supposed to, I say—for that is their prescribed function. But what is happening? Just plain nothing. The public isn't buying. Other lines of business sell their goods. Why shouldn't we?"

Many Bankers Aid in Time Payment Sales

More than 10,000 banks or about three-fourths of the banks in the United States hold instalment paper and assist in financing instalment sales, according to the federal reserve board.

A compilation published by the board, covering 13,498 insured commercial banks, showed that 77 per cent, or 10,382 of the banks held retail instalment paper. The total was $541,367,000.

Of this amount, 71.6 per cent, or $387,647,000 was automobile instalment paper. Reported figures included unpaid balances of all instalment loans arising from the retail sale of, and secured by, automobiles, household appliances, furniture, clothing, jewelry, and other articles.

Purchase Financing Only.

"The total," the board explained, "represents retail instalment paper purchased from or rediscounted for dealers and finance companies, and instalment loans made directly to individuals, to finance the purchase of, and secured by, such goods."

The figures reported did not include loans made to dealers and finance companies on their own notes nor instalment loans made directly to individuals for purposes other than the purchase of goods.

A comparison of the automobile financing done by finance companies with that done by the banks was offered by the National Association of Sales Finance companies, Chicago. According to this organization, 224 finance companies, doing 95 per cent of the retail financing done by such companies, held $875,078,000 of retail automobile paper on Dec. 31, 1939.

51 Per Cent Are Financed.

"Holdings of automobile paper by the banks," the association said, "amounted to 44.3 per cent of the holdings of the reporting finance companies." The association remarked that 54 per cent of all automobiles are sold on the instalment plan and estimated that 51 per cent of all sales are financed by banks and finance companies.

Illinois ranks near the bottom of the list of states in the per capita amount of instalment paper held by banks. The figure was $2.08 per person on $16,414,000 of such financing. California topped the list with $15.12 per person on $93,057,000.

BAD DEBTS RATIO OF WHOLESALERS DECLINES IN 1939

Washington, D. C., July 15 [Special].—There was no change in the bad-debt loss percentage of manufacturers in 1939, but wholesalers' losses dropped slightly as compared with 1938, Bruce Berkmans, acting director of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, reported today.

Identical manufacturing firms showed an average loss of 0.17 per cent of net credit sales for both 1938 and 1939. Wholesale firms showed a larger average loss of 0.33 per cent of net credit sales in 1938, but this figure decreased slightly to 0.31 per cent of credit sales for 1939.

Compared with 1938 sales, net credit sales of the 2,283 reporting wholesale firms gained 9 per cent in 1939. Net credit sales of the reporting manufacturers, numbering 1,493, rose 12.4 per cent in 1939. The average wholesaler's credit sales were 92.2 per cent of his tootal sales in 1939, and the proportion for the average reporting manufacturer was 90.4 per cent of total sales last year.

Low Bid on Springfield Housing Job $1,827,000

Springfield, Ill., July 15 (AP).—An apparent low bid of $1,827,000 for construction of dwelling units in Springfield's $2,800,000 federal low rent housing project was submitted today by the John Felmley company of Bloomington. The project, to be known as the "John Hay Homes," will consist of 57 dwelling units having a combined capacity of 600 families. The units will be built on a tract northeast of the capital's central business area.

Penn Mex Fuel Co. Votes to Negotiate with Mexico

New York, July 15 (AP).—Stockholders of Penn Mex Fuel company, controlled by Consolidated Oil Corporation, authorized directors at a special meeting today to start negotiations with the Mexican Government to settle payment for properties taken over by the government in 1938.

CCC TO BORROW 250 MILLIONS TO BUY UP COTTON LOAN NOTES

Washington, D. C., July 15 (AP).—Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau Jr. announced today that the Commodity Credit corporation will borrow $250,000,000 this month. Most of the money, he said, will be needed by the corporation on July 31 to buy $165,000,000 worth of cotton loan notes from local banks, which had financed cotton farmers temporarily.

At the same time, Morgenthau said subscriptions for $600,000,000 of 2¼ per cent treasury bonds offered for sale last week totaled more than $6,700,000,000.

After filling $37,000,000 of preferred subscriptions for $5,000 or less, the available bonds will be prorated to the other subscribers.

PLAN SANITARY DISTRICT APPEAL IN PATENT CASE

Belief was expressed yesterday by Ernest Buehler, sanitary district attorney, that the district has grounds for an appeal from the decision last week in which Federal Judge Walter C. Lindley at Danville, Ill., refused to reopen the district's fight against a patent infringement suit originally brought by Activated Sludge, Inc., in 1935. Buehler said he planned to take the case to the United States Circuit Court of Appeals.

The district had requested that the case be reopened on the strength of new evidence obtained since oral hearings were concluded and the decision against the district upheld by the United States Supreme court. Judge Lindley ruled that the new evidence was neither competent nor relevant.

It was at one time estimated that a decision against the Sanitary district would cost it $7,500,000. Buehler said no steps have been taken to pay the damages, because an actual judgment ordering the payment has not been handed down.

TREASURY ENVOY OF BRITAIN TALKS TO MORGENTHAU

Washington, D. C., July 15 [Special].—Sir Frederick Phillips, British undersecretary of the treasury, today called on Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau for the first of a series of talks on "technical and other questions of the American and British treasuries," for which he came from England.

Secretary Morgenthau disclosed the visit but refrained from any comment, declaring that "if and when we have something to say we'll have a formal statement."

Accompanying Sir Frederick was Kenneth Bewley, who was financial counselor at the British embassy here until last year. Members of Morgenthau's staff at the conference were Undersecretary Daniel W. Bell, Harry White, treasury monetary expert; Walter Stewart and Jacob Viner, private monetary experts who serve as treasury advisers, and H. Merle Cochran, technical assistant in charge of the stabilization fund.

ARMY BUYS 627 TANKS AT COST OF 11 MILLIONS

Record Order Brings Slash in Price.

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 15.—The largest order for armored tanks in this nation's history was placed by the army today with the American Car and Foundry company of Berwick, Pa.

The contract, awarded on the basis of competitive bids which were opened at the Rock Island, Ill., arsenal last week, calls for the construction of 627 heavily armored light tanks at an approximate cost of $11,000,000.

The average cost of $17,500 per tank was hailed by the army as an achievement. The army previously has been paying about $25,000 for light tanks.

The new tanks were described in army circles as representing last minute developments in armored vehicles. They will weigh about 12 tons each and will be equipped with five .30 and .50 caliber machine guns and one 37 mm. cannon.

Speed Estimated at 45 Miles.

Top speed of the tanks in this class has not been revealed by the war department, but some estimates range as high as 45 miles an hour on rough ground. Construction is to be as rapid as possible, with deliveries starting in the early fall.

The army now has about 3,000 tanks of all kinds—available, under construction, or ordered. An additional 3,000 are expected to be provided in the new 5 billion dollar defense program, which congress will begin considering when it reassembles on July 22.

Further details were withheld, but informed officials said that in drafting the tank plans, every advantage had been taken of lessons learned from the Germans in their mechanized offensives on European battlefields.

The tanks will be used to augment the equipment of the mechanized divisions being established at Fort Knox, Ky., and Fort Benning, Ga. The two divisions are patterned along the lines of the Nazi panzer divisions. Ultimately they will use 1,400 tanks, 13,000 semiautomatic rifles, 600 pieces of artillery, and 18,000 men.

Costs Denounced as Too High.

Army officials said they had taken note of criticism concerning the cost of tanks purchased by the government. They said the new contract is evidence that the army is striving to cut down tank production costs. Further slashes are hoped for as mass production gets under way.

Specific criticism of tank costs was voiced last week by Byron C. Heacock, president of the Caterpillar Tractor company at Peoria, Ill. He assailed the system of procurement for national defense needs under which the army now operates. Heacock advocated contracts for thousands of tanks at a time. A factory then could cut costs by engaging in mass production, he said.

Heacock estimated that the government is paying about four times too much for tanks. The contract granted today is just a start toward cutting costs, army officials admitted. Privately, they expressed hearty agreement with Heacock's statement that "the army and not the politicians should figure out what the army needs."

Big Truck Line Merger Plan Told to I. C. C.

Washington, D. C., July 15 [Special].—Hearings were started before the Interstate Commerce commission today on one of the largest trucking company unification plans ever to be placed before the commission.

Witnesses before J. Edward Davey, chief of the finance section of the commission's bureau of motor carriers, put into the record the beginnings of the story of how Transport company, financed by Kuhn, Loeb & Co., the banking firm long identified with railroad financing, would become one of the dominant highway transportation organizations in the country.

Early Rail Era Recalled.

Apparently mindful of the anti-trust laws, which were invoked during the corresponding stage of early American railroad development, witnesses emphasized that the trucking companies which would not be merged with Transport company were "larger" than those to be absorbed.

Taken together, these other companies, witnesses said, would have a larger volume of business than the merging companies.

The unification involves nearly $23,000,000 of financing and about 50 trucking companies. The proposal is to pay $17,194,644 in cash for the companies merged, $5,103,765 in common stock, and $388,737 in preferred stock.

The unified system would blanket a large part of the eastern seaboard from Georgia to Massachusetts and westward as far as western New York and Pittsburgh.

Engineer Describes Lines.

Charles B. Colpitts, an engineer, testified as to the property of the involved companies, dividing them into what he called the Carolina lines, eastern Virginia lines, Tennessee and western Virginia lines, Baltimore lines, Philadelphia lines, eastern Pennsylvania lines, New England lines, New York state lines, New York City lines, and rental lines, the latter being those which furnished equipment for use by others.

H. B. Horton, president of the Horton Motor lines, the unit for which nearly $4,000,000 would be paid, the largest single sum involved, said he got into the business by being a receiver for lines which he later bought. His lines, he said, have 81 trucks, 225 tractors, and 213 semi-trailers.

DEFENSE POWER ROLE IS PLEDGED TO NORTHWEST

Washington, D. C., July 15 (AP).—Power and mineral experts of the national defense advisory commission told a congressional delegation from Washington state and Oregon today that careful consideration would be given to development of the Pacific northwest's electric power facilities in connection with national defense.

The delegation consisted of Senators McNary [R., Ore.], Holman [R., Ore.], and Bone [D., Wash.], and Representatives Leavey [D., Wash.] and Pierce [D., Ore.].

The delegation urged that the commission insist on speeding construction of a plant to make experiments with magnesium metal at Washington State college. It also suggested that aluminum be fabricated at Bonneville, Ore., instead of being shipped east for fabrication and back to the west for use by aircraft factories.

U. S. INDEX BASE REVISED; TIED TO NEW DEAL ERA

1935-'39 to Replace Older Averages.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 15.—Lifting itself by its bootstraps, the Roosevelt administration has decreed that henceforth the New Deal years of 1935-'39 shall be the criterion for judging future business conditions.

Isador Lubin, labor bureau statistical head, uses new index base.

This action was taken thru a recommendation of the central statistical board — a New Deal agency which operates as part of the President's executive office—that all government agencies adopt the years 1935-'39 as a uniform base period for determining statistical indices.

Instead of using the old bases which included years ranging from 1909 to 1931 and which generally showed recent economic conditions in an unfavorable light, the standard will be lowered by making the averages for 1935 to 1939, inclusive, equal to 100. Future conditions will be computed from that level.

Reserve Index Affected.

The years 1935-'39 covered roughly the best period of business conditions during the present administration. The leading index turned out by the government, the federal reserve board's index of industrial production, will reflect the change beginning with its August bulletin. Economists at the federal reserve board offices said the change will not make much difference in the total but will show sizable changes for various industries included in the compilation.

Because the 1935-'39 average will be the base of 100, those New Deal years will have a higher index figure in statistical records than on the old base, according to which the 1935-'39 average was 99 for industrial production.

The bureau of labor statistics, directed by Isador Lubin, fervent New Dealer, already has changed two of its indices to the new base. These are the indices on the cost of living and retail food prices.

No Change Yet in One Bureau.

The conservative bureau of agricultural economics in the department of agriculture so far has not changed its base years. A reduction in the standard for determining agricultural conditions would cause the index to show a tremendous "improvement."

All of the index numbers for past years will have to be revised in conformity with the new standard. The federal reserve board was consulted before the statistical board made its recommendations. Laughlin Currie, New Deal economist formerly with the federal reserve, is now one of President Roosevelt's administrative assistants, specializing in economics.

New York Bonds.

New York, July 15 (AP).—A few corporate issues recorded large gains in the bond market today. Transactions of $3,080,800 face value, however, were the smallest since Aug. 14, 1939. Friday's volume was $4,393,700. Sales of federal bonds were smallest since trade compilations were started.

Many traders in bonds, as in other markets, were content to travel light pending the outcome of the Democratic national convention in Chicago and developments in the foreign situation.

There was some demand for Continental Oil 2¾s, Commonwealth Edison convertible 3½s, Alleghany corporation stamped 5s of '50, Gulf Mobile and Northern 5½s, and Remington Rand 4¼s of '56 [with warants] at prices 1 to around 3 points above the previous closings.

Fractions to a point ahead at the close were Studebaker 6s at 95, Union Pacific 3½s of '71 at 97¼, Postal Telegraph 5s at 21, and Santa Fe 4s of '95 at 105¾.

Illinois Central 4¾s at 40¾, Delaware and Hudson refunding 4s at 51¾, Erie 5s of '75 at 11½, and American and Foreign Power 5s at 49 were down fractions.

Losses were preponderant in the foreign list. Italian obligations were down 2 to 3¾, German 7s down 1, and Canadian loans 2 or more. Belgium 6½s recorded a decline of 24½ points from the previous sale on the transfer of a single bond. Japanese issues scored moderate gains.

Chicago Stocks.

Advances outnumbered declines yesterday on the Chicago Stock exchange. Of the 66 active issues, 31 closed higher, 18 finished lower, and 17 were unchanged. Commonwealth Edison, the volume leader, advanced ¼ point to 30⅝, but five of the favorites remained unchanged from Saturday prices.

Bank Stocks.

First National shares advanced a point and Northern Trust dipped 3 points yesterday in Chicago bank stock trading. Harris Trust lost 2 points, American National a point and Chicago Title half a point. Other leading issues were unchanged.

Commodities

Crude rubber closed 1/5 cent a pound higher to 0.05 cent lower in the futures market. Transactions involved 66 contracts. Rubber for delivery this month closed at 20.55 cents a pound bid, with smoked ribbed quoted at 20.50 cents in the cash market.

Copper declined 0.01 to 0.06 cent a pound. Metal for delivery in July finished at 9.50 cents a pound. Sales in the cash market continued to dwindle, aggregating 16,029 tons so far this month compared with 84,734 pounds in the corresponding period in June.

Staples closing mixed included raw silk futures, ½ cent a pound higher to 1½ cents lower, with the August contract finishing at $2.48 and Santos coffee, 0.02 cent higher to 0.05 cent lower.

Bleachable cottonseed oil futures, reflecting weakness in lard, declined 0.04 to 0.06 cent a pound. Oil for delivery in September finished at 6.01 cents a pound bid.

Trade liquidation of the distant positions weakened wool tops for future delivery, and the market closed unchanged to 0.2 cent lower. Tops for delivery in October closed at 88 cents a pound bid. The cash market for standard tops was unchanged at 97 cents.

Heavy packer hides were unchanged in Chicago at 11¾ cents a pound but futures sagged 0.14 to 0.17 cent a pound in New York. Futures sales aggregated 3,480,000 pounds.

September liquidation dominated both world and domestic sugar futures, the world contract for the month closing at 0.96 cent a pound bid and the domestic contract for September delivery at 1.76 cents bid. The world contract finished unchanged to 0.01 cent lower and the domestic contract 0.01 to 0.02 cent lower. Cocoa futures were down 0.01 to 0.02 cent a pound.

GRAIN FUTURES DECLINE TO NEW LOWS, BUT RALLY

New seasonal low prices were established yesterday on the Chicago Board of Trade on all deliveries of wheat, December corn, and September and December oats.

Corn rallied over 1 cent a bushel from the early low and closed at the top with gains of ¼ to 1⅛ cents, the July contract leading. Reports that farmers were unwilling to sell corn, offset favorable crop reports.

September wheat declined ⅝ cent from Saturday's finish to sell at 73 cents a bushel, but a late rally developed on short covering induced by strength in corn. Closing trades on wheat futures were ¼ to ½ cent lower.

New oats have started to move to terminal markets. Futures closed ¼ cent higher to ⅛ cent lower. Rye was unchanged to ⅝ cent higher and soy beans unchanged to ¾ cent higher.

COTTON

Excessive rains in Mississippi and Louisiana are reported to have caused streams and rivers to overflow and ruin cotton planted on low lands. In some sections, reports claim, the crop has been ruined. The Mississippi state extension service weekly report says that damage from continued rains and widespread overflows is assuming the proportion of a crop disaster. Heavy abandonment of acreage is expected in Louisiana.

Cotton prices eased in the early trading yesterday on hedging pressure and foreign selling, but rallied late in the session on the unfavorable crop comments from the Mississippi river valley. Closing trades on the new crop months were .06 cent higher to .03 cent a pound lower. July contracts were unchanged to .02 cent lower. Mills were fair buyers on the early break.

Spot cotton closed unchanged to .02 cent higher with New Orleans 10.70 cent; New York, 10.50 cents; Galveston, 9.87 cents, and Houston at 9.75 cents a pound. Prices follow:

STEEL PLANTS' OUTPUT NEARS PRACTICAL PEAK

Auto Builders Stage Race to Finish Retooling.

Steel mills yesterday started the week with operations rising a little to a level that was near practical capacity. At the same time trade sources said the motor car industry soon would be swinging into production of 1941 models.

The steel mills in the nation raised operations to a rate of 86.8 per cent of theoretical capacity, the American Iron and Steel institute estimated. A week earlier the rate was 86.4 per cent, a month ago 87.7 per cent, and a year ago 56.4 per cent. The advance this week of 0.4 point was the second weekly upturn since the sharp drop in the week that included the July 4 holiday. Allowing for variations in types of mills, an operating rate of 85 to 90 per cent is considered a practical peak.

Plymouth Ends Model Year.

Ward's Automotive Reports, Inc., said the Plymouth division of Chrysler last week was added to the group of auto producers completing 1940 model assemblies. Other Chrysler units will complete 1940 assemblies this week, Ward's said.

Chevrolet, the industry's volume leader, is the only one of the General Motors passenger car producers to continue production of 1940 models. Ford, second in volume production, also is still producing. Ford, according to Ward's, has set July 19 as the date for terminating 1940 model production and expects to have 50,000 of its 1941 models in the hands of private dealers by Sept. 21 for private showings.

Auto makers are staging a retooling race, according to Ward's, to be first to get new models before the public.

Suppliers Rush Work.

"In car building plants and in parts supplying factories," Ward's reported, "orders have gone forth to speed up the finishing and arranging of new model production tool equipment, so that 1941 car manufacturing may be quickly begun. Hudson, Packard, Nash, Studebaker, Buick, and Plymouth are the major contestants in this race.

"Others, such as Cadillac, Pontiac, Oldsmobile, and Chevrolet in the General Motors group are to follow as soon as possible. Likewise, Dodge, De Soto, and Chrysler are bending every effort to complete their retooling at an early date."

Discusses Ford Activity.

Of Ford activities the trade publication said:

"A vast group of toolworkers is making changes of considerable magnitude in the body equipment that will require time to complete. This is particularly true in the Lincoln-Zephyr division."

Ward's said some of the producers may require six weeks for their change-over activities because of extensive changes in design, while others may be ready quickly because of few alterations.

"As matters now stand, Plymouth may be one of the first in the field with new models," the publication said. "The 1941 Plymouth pilot cars are scheduled to start down the final assembly line about Aug. 5.

Streamlining Emphasized.

"More streamlining and advanced torpedo design motif are the predominating effects in many of the new models produced by the various car builders".

Machine tool plants affiliated with the National Machine Tool Builders' association operated last month at 92.3 per cent of capacity, a slight drop from May when operations were at 92.5 per cent, the association reported. The industry's capacity, measured in terms of pay roll hours, is now 27.5 per cent above that of September, 1939.

Aviation Installations Ordered

International Telephone and Telegraph corporation announced its subsidiary, International Telephone Development company, had received an order amounting to $537,547 from the Civil Aeronautics authority to manufacture and install airplane instrument landing systems at six of the nation's leading airports.

Installations will be made at Chicago airport and the municipal airports of New York, Cleveland, Kansas City, Mines field at Los Angeles, and Meacham field at Fort Worth, Tex.

According to aviation authorities, the installation will mark a decided advance in the application of ultra-high frequency radio to aerial transportation.

P. W. Litchfield.

P. W. Litchfield, president of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber company, observed his fortieth anniversary with the company yesterday. During these years he has personally directed purchasing and processing of one-eighth of all the rubber grown and manufactured in the world. Litchfield was graduated from Massachusetts Institute of Technology in 1896 and entered the rubber manufacturing business in 1897 when he designed his first pneumatic tire.

L. R. Boulware, former vice president and general manager of the Carrier corporation, has been elected vice president and general manager of the Celotex corporation, Chicago. He also becomes a member of the board of directors and the executive committee.

Edward C. Burke has been appointed assistant auditor, Chicago Surface Lines, succeeding the late Arthur W. Malmquist. Burke resigned as senior accountant with Arthur Young & Co. to take the position.

John F. Lebor, recently with the RKO corporation, has been appointed assistant to the executive vice president of the York Ice Machinery corporation.

BROADER MARKET TERMED NEED OF DAIRY INDUSTRY

Members of the National Dairy council and the dairy industry at large met at the Edgewater Beach hotel yesterday for the opening session of the organization's three day annual summer conference.

Don Francisco, president of the Lord & Thomas advertising agency, speaking on "Getting the Sales You Want," told the council members that their common cause is to increase the consumption of dairy products. He asserted that new and broader markets must be found if the industry is "even to hold its own." Asserting health authorities agree that the American people do not consume enough milk, Francisco said that a rise in consumption would mean stabilized prices and assured profits.

Dr. Kenneth Dameron of Ohio State university's college of commerce also addressed the council on the consumer movement. Today and tomorrow will be devoted to panel discussions, committee reports, talks by representatives of dairy products and milk companies, and papers by physicians and university professors on research and nutrition.

FUNDS OF THREE BALTIC NATIONS PUT UNDER RULE

Washington, D. C., July 15 [Special.]—President Roosevelt today extended his order "freezing" the credits of certain nations invaded by Germany to cover Latvia, Estonia, and Lithuania, which were occupied by soviet forces a few weeks ago.

The President's order ties up any assets of those countries or their nationals which were held in the United States as of July 10. The treasury called for reports by Aug. 10 on assets of the three countries or their nationals held in the United States.

Whether the order signified a new attitude by the United States toward soviet Russia could not be immediately ascertained.

New Buildings in Uruguay to Be Tax Exempt 10 Years

Washington, D. C., July 15 [Special].—To stimulate construction activities, Uruguay has exempted from taxation for 10 years all buildings started after Jan. 1, 1940, and completed before Dec. 31, 1943, the department of commerce reported. Modifications and additions to existing buildings will enjoy the same exemption if they increase the value of the structure by 50 per cent or more.

*O.B.P.—Old base period. Av.—Average for 1935-'39 under old base. I.-D.—Increase or decrease in points under new base of 1935-'39.

In advocating the change in base years, the statistical board cited the multiplicity of prevailing base periods and difficulty of comparing changes in various statistical indices. And in defending the selection of 1935-'39 as the new base years it said:

"A more recent base period has been urgently needed for index numbers for two chief reasons: [1] Many statistical series are not available before 1935. It is awkward to include such series in inder numbers having earlier base periods. [2] Important economic changes have made it increasingly difficult to interpret the significance of index numbers calculated on pre-depression base periods."

See Need for Recent Period.

"The five year period, 1935 thru 1939, is regarded as the most suitable recent period for adoption as a standard base. It is neither a period of very high business activity nor of very low business activity. It is long enough to meet the special needs of agricultural indices. It is recent. It includes 1939, for which decennial census data will shortly be available. It also covers three censuses of manufactures, one census of agriculture, two censuses of business, and one census of electrical industries. Because of its recency there are far more data available [in addition to those from the census] than for any earlier period.

"It is recognized by the central statistical board that the need for adopting a new and recent base will recur periodically, altho too frequent changes in base periods are not desirable."

LIFE INSURANCE WRITTEN IN JUNE DROPS SHARPLY

New York, July 15 (AP).—New life insurance written in June dropped to $597,450,000 from $729,749,000 a year ago, a decline of 18.1 per cent, the Association of Life Insurance Presidents said today.

Severity of the decline, said the association, was due primarily to the difference in group insurance compared with last year, which showed a recession from last year's large total.

For the first six months of the year all classes of new life insurance totaled $3,679,456,000, or 3.9 per cent under $3,830,307,000 in the first half of 1939.

The figures were based on reports of 40 United States companies having 82 per cent of the total life insurance outstanding in all United States legal reserve companies.

BUY NASSAU, N. Y., ISSUE.

Lehman Brothers headed a banking group which purchased $2,350,000 Nassau county, New York relief, public works, and refunding bonds at a net interest cost to the county of 1.8946 per cent. The bonds were then reoffered at prices to yield .30 to 2 per cent.

The Interstate Commerce Commission, by Report and Order made April 5, 1940, having approved plans of reorganization of the Debtors, Erie Railroad Company and The Nypano Railroad Company, and by Supplemental Report and Order made July 8, 1940, having modified and approved as modified said plans of reorganization; and the Interstate Commerce Commission having thereafter certified to this Court the plans of reorganization approved in said Reports and its Order of July 8, 1940 [the same being hereinafter referred to as the "plans of reorganization"]; and

This Court having on May 6, 1940 entered its Order No. 222 requiring the filing of petitions for allowances from the estates of the Debtors, Erie Railroad Company and The Nypano Railroad Company, on or before May 22, 1940; and said Order having been corrected by a further Order entered herein on May 18, 1940; and all petitions filed pursuant to Order No. 222 having been forwarded to the Interstate Commerce Commission pursuant to the provisions of said Order, and hearings having been held on such petitions before the Interstate Commerce Commission commencing on June 13, 1940;

Now, therefore, pursuant to the provisions of Section 77 of the Bankruptcy Act, it is hereby

ORDERED:

1. All parties in interest, whether or not they may have intervened herein or become formal parties to the record in this proceeding, having any objections to said plans of reorganization or either of them shall file detailed and specific objections in writing to the plans and their claims, if any, for equitable treatment, in the office of the Clerk of this Court in the United States Court House, Federal Building, in the City of Cleveland, Ohio, on or before the 6th day of August, 1940, and shall serve copies thereof on or before said date as hereinafter directed.

Democratic Convention Peps Up in Night Session—Third Term Drive Gets a "Slow Start"

Opening of last night's session of the Democratic national convention in the Chicago Stadium, when showmanship of Postmaster General Farley began to assert itself. A crowd of 17,000 cheered addresses by Farley and William B. Bankhead of Alabama, temporary chairman, who appeared on speakers' stand (circle). In the opening session in the afternoon only 4,000 persons attended, and there were many vacant seats. Keynoter Bankhead dodged third term issue.
